A GAIN we approach the end of a fruitful year at N. T. A. C.
And again it is my pleasure to greet you, to commend you, and to bid you "God-speed!" as you go hence.

No very spectacular events in our academic, social, or athletic life have blazoned themselves across the sky at N. T. A. C. in 1926-27. But the steadfast purpose, the fine spirit, and the high ideals of this splendid student body have been constantly manifested in the faithful and cheerful performance of the daily tasks.

You have enthusiastically cheered your winning teams; you have loyally supported your losing teams; you have blithely welcomed each holiday; and you have light-heartedly played when work-time was over. But superseding all these lighter things, woven into the very warp and woof of the year's life, a loftier purpose has been felt indefinably by all who have touched our school even casually. Your pre-eminent aim has been the acquisition of knowledge, self-development, scholarship, character building.
*. As you go forth from N. T. A. C., some not to return, may the radius of such a spirit, drawn by each of you with your own souls as centers, know no limit but extend even to infinity.
E. E. Davis, Dean.

Our Halls

Three long halls-what to us are they? A medium through which to move, some say. Bui to me they seem to be part of our life;
They seem to be products of it-joy or strife.
The long, cool hall, down on the first floor,
Beyond a doubt it is something more
Than a passage, walk, or busy streei,
Than a place where students pass and meet.
In this hall the Freshmen will go,
Seeking a store of knowledge to know.
It's his connection with studies and books;
In here the girls "size up" "his" "good looks."
Three kinds of society are found in here:
Firsi, that group about which draw near
Those light-hearted students, so joyous and gay, Who would like to make fun and joke all day.

And then we have those serious few-
Studying and learning is all they do;
From their class to the library they hurriedly go, Missing a valuable part of life, we know.

Then, alas! we have those love-sick two
Thai reserve a corner and find nothing to do
But shift their weight to the other side
And talk of love or some joy-ride.
The second floor contains History and Biology, each separate worlds,
And at its end a locker for girls,
Out of which they pour, going each way,
Like ants from their hill on a sunny day.
The hall on top, where every noise resounds,
Is far more vacant than the one on the ground;
It reminds us of music, math and art,
And that terrible English that breaks our hearts.
Thus these halls mean much to me,
And will long remain in my memory,
Bringing back what I cannot see-
My happy life at N. T. A. C.
-George Willis.

North Aggieland

For we are Aggies,
North Texas Aggies,
And we've got that old fight to the end!
Quii never!
Stand by them ever!
That Blue and White that we defend.
Oh, we sting'em hard, we sting 'em fast, we sting 'em till they swell,
We give 'em war, we give 'em woe, we give 'em worse-and, well-
We are the Aggies,
North Texas Aggies,
And we've got that old fight to the end!
(That's the old fight, boys!)

SUBSTITUTE LINES ON REPEAT CHORUS

If you think that we can understand about a losing team,
You'll have to march your buddies out and show us what you mean-
For we are Aggies, etc.

Review of the Season

THE Hornet football team of 1926 will long hold a warm spot in the hearts of N. T. A. C. students because of their determined effort to bring N. T. A. C. her first conference championship. Every man on the squad worked hard and earnestly all year long and through hard, clean fight and sportsmanship played through the conference schedule with only one defeat, which was administered in the last game of the season. Despite this loss, this team is considered one of the most powerful teams which has ever represented the Blue and White of N. T. A. C.

J. C. Moore, Coach
W. L. Hughes, Assistant

Vandiveer, Captain

$T^{\text {HIS was the last year that "Hank," } 1926 \text { Hornet captain, would appear to help defend the }}$ old Blue and White that he and the rest of the team love so well. "Hank" was a willing and a hard-fighting captain that put out all he had. He will be long remembered by all the "ole" team.

Cearley, Captain-Elect

Cearley, captain-elect, was a great fighter and a line plunger during both his years on the fighting Hornet team. With Cearley as a leader, a hard-hitting and powerful backfield will be built around him.

"Ole Aggie Fight"

Dee Coleman, Halfback

This was Coleman's first year on the squad. He was a flashy little back and gained many yards for the Hornets this year. He will be back next year and will be a valuable man.

> Joe Pope, Fullback

Big, fast and fighting, Pope has all the requirements of a great backfield man. He played wonderful football this year, and next year should do even better.

Volney Jones, Halfback

Volney, as a shifty back, specialized in offtackle smashes. He was an excellent passer and a great broken field runner. Once in the open, he was hard to stop. This is his final year as a Hornet.

Jess Cearley, Fullback, Captain-Elect
Although handicapped by injuries during the latter part of the season, Jess was one of the most consistent ground gainers on the squad. He will lead the Hornets in ' 27 and should make a splendid captain.

Jones Goes Through the Hillsboro Line

D. Polly, Halfback

Polly was a fast-stepping, hard-hitting back. He was a line plunger of rare ability and gained many yards for the Blue and White. He will be back to bolster the 1927 squad.

Walter Harris, End
Watt was one of the hardest hitters on the squad. His specialty was going down on punts, and he often dropped the opposing safety in his tracks. This is his last year with the Blue and White, and he will be sorely missed.

JACKSON

Robert Jackson, Quarterback

Jackson, fighting little quarterback for the Hornets, played a heady game all season. He was a good passer and was also good at returning punts. He will be back next year and will be a real threat to opposing teams.

Ray McCulloch, End
"Mac" was a star wingman on the Hornet squad this year, and his specialty was snatching passes out of the air and making sensational catches of passes heaved by Jones. He scored two touchdowns in the Wichita game. He will return next year.

Touchdown Against Meridian

Pratt Spence, Center

Spence is a big, rangy, hard-hitting center. He played his best game against Tarleton, time after time plugging up holes in the line. Great things are expected of him in '27.

Aaron Hayes

Aaron was a hard worker and played good football this season. He dealt the opposing tackles lots of misery and he could always be depended on to stop plays around his side of the line.

Chancey Corse, Guard

"Battling Chancey" was a very appropriate name for Corse, for he was a fighter to the final whistle. They never looked too big for him, and he rarely ever failed to take his man out of the play. He will be back next year.

John Lewis, Tackle
"Firpo" is big and fast and this combination was hard to stop. He was a powerful man who would never admit that he was whipped. He will be back next year and should be a terror to opposing linemen.

peer as a center in the conference. He was a vicious tackler and backed up the line in great style. This is his last year.

Ewing Weller, Guard
Weller is a big, powerful man. He was in every play that came over the center of the line. Although this was Weller's first year of college football, he played like a veteran all season.

Irvin Hill, Tackle

"Rusty" was a powerful lineman and also did the punting for the Hornets. His educated toe kept the enemy away from the Hornets' goal line on several occasions. Many an off-tackle play came to grief when hurled at his side of the line.
"Hank" Vandiveer, Guard, Captain
"Hank," stellar captain of the Hornets, played a great game all season at guard. Although light for his position, he overcame this handicap by his fighting spirit. This was his last year with the Hornets, and he leaves a splendid record.

Smith Langford, Tackle
"Fats" was a tower of strength in the Hornet line. He was a hard fighter and never met his superior all season long. "Fats" was the type who would not admit defeat, and his fighting spirit inspired the rest of the team.

Harvey Thompson, Center
"Red" was an excellent passer and had no

Football Reserves

CREECY is a little fellow, but has fight and energy and is always anxious to learn. He will be back next year, and with a little more weight should be a first string man. N. T. A. C. was blessed with five good tackles, and Ewell certainly was one of them. He was a hard driving tackle and often broke through to down a runner for a loss. He is a big man and should be a star in '27. McCombs, a flashy little quarter, can run and pass with the best of them. He was injured during the latter part of the season, and this injury probably robbed him of a letter. Dorward played his first year of football and bids fair to be a star player. His experience this year makes it possible to do great things next year. Seale is big and powerful. He is very adept at catching passes. He will be back next year and will be a valuable man. Gunn was another good man who played in hard luck. He was a hard worker and played a strong game at tackle. He was injured early in the season and could not play for several games, but he played great football after he returned to the squad.

The Games

HORNETS 7—BURLESON 20

The first game of the season was played with the powerful Burleson Bruins, who later won the championship of their conference. The Hornets, who had been in training but a short while, did not show their real power in this game and were defeated by a score of 20 to 7 . The Burleson touchdowns were a result of several long runs by Zaraponeites. Jess Cearley was the Hornets' big threat on the offensive. He rarely ever failed to gain and repeatedly crashed the Burleson line for good gains.

HORNETS 28-CLIFTON O

The Clifton Cats were the next opponents of the Hornets, and the game was played at home before a large crowd. The Hornets seemed to be a different team from the one which lost to Burleson, for they piled up a score of 28 to o on the invaders from Clifton. The Hornet line played a great game from end to end, and opened huge, gaping holes, through which the fleet backs went for long gains. Langford and Weller were the outstanding players in the line. Pope and Jones featured in the backfield with runs of seventy and fifty yards for touchdowns.

HORNETS 43-HILLSBORO o
In the first conference game of the season, the N. T. A. C. Hornets literally tore the Hillsboro Indians to pieces and won the game by a score of 43-0. The Hornets were superior in every department of the game, and time after time marched down the field for a touchdown. The entire Hornet team was charging hard and were tackling viciously. The Indians were able to make only one first down to the Hornets' eleven. "Red" Thompson was the defensive star of the game, while Jones and Cearley were the principal ground gainers for N. T. A. C.

HORNETS 19-T. M. C. 7
The next game was played with the strong T. M. C. Bulldogs at Terrell. The Bulldogs had defeated the Hornets in the two games played in 1923 and 1924, and the Hornets were out for revenge. Exhibiting a fighting spirit which would not be denied, the Hornets overwhelmed the Bulldogs, 19 to 7. The game was played on a wet, slippery field, and the Hornets won by sheer grit and courage. When things began to look bad for the Hornets, "Fat" Langford, who had not been in the game on account of an injury, was sent in, and, despite his injury, played a great game at tackle. Jess Cearley scored all three of the Hornet touchdowns.

HORNETS o-RANDOLPH 29

After defeating the T. M. C. team, the Hornets journeyed out to Cisco, where they met the powerful Randolph College team. The Hornets were without the services of Langford, Harris, Hill, and Jackson; and on top of this handicap they had driven all morning and hence were not in the best of condition. The Badgers piled up a score of 26 to o in the first half, but the second half was a different story. Due to the great playing of Corse, Seale, and Spence, who went into the game as substitutes, new life was put into the team. The final score was 29-0.

HORNETS ı-WICHITA FALLS o

The second conference game of the season was played with the Wichita Falls Coyotes, who were defeated, 19 to 0 . The Hornets were fighting to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Coyotes, and did a good job of it. The half ended with the score o to o, but the Hornets came back strong and pushed over three touchdowns in the third quarter. Corse, breaking through the line, blocking a punt, fell on the ball for a second touchdown. He played a great game at guard through every quarter. McCulloch snagged two passes out of the air for the Hornets' other two touchdowns.

HORNETS 22—PARIS 6

The powerful Paris Dragons were the next victims of the Hornets. This was the third conference game, and resulted in a score of 22 to 6 . The Dragons offered stubborn resistance, but could not stop the off-tackle plays of the Hornets. Backed by the spirit of the twelfth man, the Hornets fought every minute of the game and played a much better game than the score indicates. Volney Jones carried the ball on nearly every play and played a brand of football that would have done credit to a university player.

HORNETS 27-MERIDIAN 6

The next game was played with the Meridian Cougars, who were defeated for the fifth time in as many years by the Hornets. The game was not as one-sided as the score indicates, as the Cougars fought hard all the way and the game was full of thrills. The Cougars' touchdown was made by the Meridian left end, who scooped up a loose ball and galloped eighty-five yards for a goal. Afterward Polly immediately circled the Cougar end for a seventy-five-yard run for a touchdown. Jones made two touchdowns to lead in scoring, and Pope broke through the line for a thirty-five-yard run to score the Hornets' last touchdown. The final score was 27 to 6 in favor of the Hornets.

HORNETS o-TARLETON 13

Last but not least were the Tarleton Plowboys. Playing for the championship of the conference, on Thanksgiving Day, the Hornets met defeat at the hands of their heavier opponents by a score of 13 to 0 . The game was a good, clean exhibition of sportsmanship on each side, and was one of the hardest fought games ever witnessed on the local gridiron. Outweighed almost fifteen pounds to the man, every Hornet gave everything he had in one final and supreme effort to hoist the Blue and White above all the others. Weller, Jones, Hays, Langford, Thompson, Gunn, Captain Vandiveer, and Watt Harris played their last game as Hornets, and will long be remembered for their great work in the Tarleton game.

BASKETBALL

Review of the Season

WHEN COACH MOORE issued his call for basketeers this year, there was not a letterman on hand. But out of a green squad of men he developed one of the fastest teams ever to represent N. T. A. C. The Hornets had a great season, winning eighteen out of the twenty-four games played. The Hornets had a fast passing team and were feared by their opponents. They were strong contenders for the title and the championship was not decided until the last game of the season.

The Hornets met and conquered the strong Wesley cagers four times during the early part of the season. The games were all hard-fought, but the Hornets were victors because of their superior teamwork. Ikard, Hill, and McCulloch were the chief scorers in this series.

The fast Wichita Falls Indians journeyed all the way from Wichita Falls only to be stung by the Hornets in two consecutive games. Both games were fast, but the Hornets hit the basket with more regularity than the Indians and were on the heavy end of the score.

The Hornets and the John Tarleton Clod Hoppers played four games prior to the Round Robin Tournament. Honors were evenly divided in this series, the Hornets winning two and losing two. The first game was a walk-over for the Plowboys, but the Hornets came back strong in the second game and displayed a great fighting spirit to win by a twenty-seven to twenty-six score. McCulloch was the high point man of this game. The next game was played in Arlington and the Plowboys were humbled to the tune of a twenty-nine to nineteen score. Butler put up a great game at guard in this game, and Hill and McCulloch led in scoring. The next game was won by Tarleton by a thirty-one to twenty-five score. This was also a fast game, but the Hornets could not hit the basket often enough.

The championship of the conference was decided by a tournament held in Stephenville, February 25 and 26. Every team played every other team and the highest percentage won the championship. Playing without the services of their star forward, McCulloch, the Hornets put up a game fight and defeated Wichita Falls, Wesley, and Paris, in the order named, and entered into the finals undefeated. Tarleton also came through undefeated and the two teams met on Saturday night for the championship. The Hornets got off on a bad start in this game and were beaten, thirty-five to twenty-seven. Every Hornet gave all he had, and the game was the best of the tournament. Leland Hunter played a great game at guard, as did Ikard at center.

Dennis Butler, Guard

Dennis is a small man, but he makes up for this handicap by determined fight. He was a good man at working the ball through the enemy's defense, and, once through, he was a sure shot. He handled the ball well and rarely ever made a wild pass. This was his second year on the squad and he will be back again next year.

Aron Hayes, Guard

Aron is a hard worker and an excellent guard. He was especially good at stopping big men who tried to dribble down the floor. He played a great game to help the Hornets defeat the Plowboys by a 27 to 26 score. This was his third and final year as a Hornet.

Irvin Hill, Forward

"Rusty" is big and powerful. He is a good man on both the offense and defense. He is unusually fast for a big man and broke up many plays for his opponents. He was a good rustler under the basket and was a sure crip shot. He has another year with the Hornets.

Troy Ikard, Center

"Ike" was a hard worker and dealt his opponents much misery. He was a good man on the defense and was always scrapping for the ball when the enemy worked it into our territory. He played a good passing game and had a good eye for the basket. He will be back next year.

Hunter, Guard

Hunter was a tower of defense on the team this year and he fought from the first whistle to the last one. He is big and fast and he covered opposing forwards like a tent. He put up a great game during the tournament, especially against Tarleton. He has another year with the Hornet squad.

Ray McCulloch, Forward, Captain-Elect

"Mac" was one of the oustanding forwards in the conference this year and should land a berth on the all-conference team. He is a fast man on the floor and he scored many points for the Hornets this year. He can shoot from any angle and often dropped his shots through from the center of the court. He will be back next year and should lead the Hornets to many a victory.

RESERVES

Jackson, Forward

Jackson is a little man who is fighting all the time. He is a clever shot and a fast man at breaking down the floor.

Altman, Center

Altman is a center of much promise and great things are expected of him next year. His playing had few faults, and he had the qualities of a real cager.

Rouble Barron, Forward

Rouble Barron was a fast little forward who could always be depended upon to get around any guard and to throw goals. Barron was a good man on both the offense and defense.

Track

THE TRACK TEAM of ' 26 was not as large as usual, but this was offset by the determination of the men to win the events in which they were entered.

Berry deserves mention as a man of ability. Bagwell and Usselton were the dash men of the squad, and they showed up well at the State meet. Usselton was especially good on the 100 and the 220 dashes, while Bagwell showed up better on the 440 , as did Hayes. Hanna was a 440 man of great ability, and he also lettered on the relay team. Lewis, otherwise known as "Firpo," lettered in field events. Some of the men whose pictures we do not have, but who were among the winners, were Rogers, Ward, and Oliphint.

BASEBALL

Review of the Season  By L. B. "Pup" Smith

COACH HUGHES, though he did not win the conference championship, put out a strong baseball team for N. T. A. C. this season. Individually, the Hornets were just ordinary, but collectively, the Blue and White Team was one of the best in the Junior College Conference. Hanna was undoubtedly the best allaround first baseman in the conference, while Captain Caine, catcher (probably the most valuable man on the team), and ex-Captain Stowe, center fielder, were equal to the best in the State. Hanna, the only four-letter man of N. T. A. C. for '25-'26, led in batting with an approximate average of .400 .

Weatherford Series

AFTER winning and losing the first and second practice games, respectively, the Hornets opened the conference baseball season by swamping the Weatherford College team, 12-2. Dickey, Hornet mound ace, held the visitors to three hits and fanned thirteen batters during the seven innings. Sansom, Powell, and Smedley were the offensive stars, with seven of the ten Hornets' hits.

Coach Hughes' proteges won the last game of the season from Weatherford College, io to 4. Dickey once more turned in a wellpitched game, allowing five hits, and striking out thirteen batters. Roberts, who relieved Powell in left field in the fifth inning, had a perfect day at bat with two singles and a double. Caine, Stowe, and Hanna also featured at bat with extra-base wallops.

Hillsboro Series

ATWO-GAME series was split with the Hillsboro Junior College nine. Dickey easily won the first game, 8 to 2 . However, without the hitting of Hanna and Powell, the contest would have been more difficult. The latter got a double and two singles, while the former got a double and a single. The visitors won the second game in ten innings, 6 to 2. The Hornets were in a slump, both in fielding and hitting. Harris pitched an excellent game, allowing only five hits, but four errors by his mates paved the way for defeat.

The Blue and White team continued the "splitting" habit by dividing another two-game series with Hillsboro. Inability to hit in the pinches, coupled with costly errors, allowed the first game to go to Hillsboro. Dickey was the losing pitcher, 4-2. Harris did mound work in the second affair, and with excellent support, turned in a two-hit game. The score was 8-2. The Hornets played a good defensive game, each player on the team turning in some kind of sparkling play. Hanna and Holland led the offensive attack with two singles each, but Tidwell's single and Smedley's double, coming in the pinches, put the game in the well-known ice-box.

Decatur Series

DECATUR next tasted defeat at the hands of the Hornets. The game was a slug-fest, and ended in a 14 to 8 score. Two Decatur pitchers were touched for fourteen hits. Harris went the entire route for the Hornets, though he was hit frequently. Hanna led the Hornet attack with two triples and a pair of singles. Powell, Holland, and Smedley each registered two safe hits.

A bad eighth inning, in which the Decatur Baptists scored three runs and got in the lead, $7-5$, was the downfall of the Hornet ace, Dickey. In this inning he walked three batters, hit two, and allowed a single for the three scores that eventually won the game.

Tarleton Series

THEN came the great day-when the Hornets won both games of a double-header from Tarleton, 7 to 2, and 4 to 0 . Both games were cut to seven innings, due to inclement weather. Harris, behind good support, pitched the Hornets to victory in the first game. Sansom and Stowe helped the little hurler by collecting two hits each. Dickey shut out the Plowboys in the last game, holding them to two singles. Stowe, Hanna, and Smedley each got extra base swats in this game.

The Hornets next met the Tarleton Plowboys on foreign soil in a double-header, and won the first game, iI to 3 , but lost the second, 7 to o. Dickey tried the "iron man" stunt that Pane Wachtel of the Fort Worth Panthers is noted for-pitching a double-header. Dickey and his hard-hitting mates easily won the initial game, but in the' fifth inning of the second contest the Hornet mound star weakened. After a walk and two hits, scoring two runs, he gave way to Harris. The latter was ineffective with his curve and was relieved by Peavy, left-hander, after four runs had been scored off him. The bases were filled and none out as Peavy made his debut. The first batter got a scratch hit, scoring the seventh run, after which Peavy's slow curves became effective. The Hornets could not hit in the pinches, eleven men being left on bases. But there's one consolation-three of four games from the Plowboys is glory enough for one season.

WOMAN'SATHLETICS

Woman's Athletics

THE aim of athletics for women at N. T. A. C. is to interest every girl in some healthful form of exercise. No inter-collegiate games can be played by the girls, and hence the need arose for some means of rewarding them for their efforts, which would be beneficial in promoting the aim of athletics in the school. The need was met by the adoption of a point system through the Woman's Athletic Association. By this system each girl is awarded points for the work she has done, and she may earn a school letter, a sweater, or a blanket, when she has secured the required number of points for each. These awards, which are recommended by the head of the physical training department, are based upon health, carriage, discipline, costume, attendance, effort, attitude, and skill. The six types of sport offered through this department are basketball, indoor baseball, volleyball, tennis, hiking, and gymnastics; and each girl is required to take at least one sport.

A great deal has been accomplished through the W. A. A. this year. Inter-class games were played in basketball, baseball, volleyball, and tennis, and a great deal of enthusiasm was displayed in these sports. Two fifteen-mile hikes were taken by the Hiking Club, and fifty points were received for each. Many entertainments were given under the auspices of this organization of girls, and they were responsible for the majority of the stunts which were given at the conference football games. The girls of the W. A. A. were always willing to do everything they could for the good of the school, and the very highest type of sportsmanship was exhibited in the organization.

ACTIVITIES

The Lone Star Band

THE LONE STAR BAND of N. T. A. C. is playing its fourth year on the campus. It is composed of cadets of the college and they are recognized as some of the best amateur musicians in the State.

Noel D. Caine is captain of the Band. In many ways has he contributed to the joys of North Aggieland by playing at the pep meetings, the games, chapel, and parades. Furthermore, the Band took part in the musical programs of the various Arlington churches, furnished radio concert from Station WBAP at Fort Worth, and played at the Texas State Fair. It was awarded the position of the official band for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, where it played for a week beginning with March fifth. The Band delighted audiences at the Majestic Theater in Dallas, where it played on a vaudeville bill.

The Operetta

JUST preceding the Christmas holidays, the chorus, under the direction of Misses Helen Bothwell and Gertrude McFadden, presented the operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon." Although the chorus had not the quality nor the quantity of material that it has had in former years, hard work enabled the cast to handle their roles probably as well as have their predecessors. The members of the cast all showed evidence of having worked considerably on their parts.

Miss Frances Evanson, singing the role of the Moon Lady in the Prologue, delighted the audience with her beautiful soprano voice. The leading characters, Walter Harris and Miss Annie Mae Cathey, proved themselves to be as apt in dramatics and singing as they always are in looks. Noel Caine and Murray Dodson constantly amused and pleased the audience with their characterizations of a Frenchman and an Englishman, respectively ; and Mr. Caine's musical number, "Paree," was received with much applause. Miss Mary Ellen Cannon greeted the audience with a negro blue song, and Lloyd Springer sang the last solo number as a police officer. The three musical numbers which brought the most applause were: Randolph Kirkpatrick's number, "No Use Proposing"; Walter Harris' "In My Garden"; and "Blue Moon," by Harris and Miss Cathey.

Noel Caine, Wallace Ewell, Misses Dorothy Yates and Helen Hiett pleased the audience as Spanish dancers.

The cast is as follows:

Rifle Team

THE RIFLE TEAM was organized during the earlier part of the year. Every R. O. T. C. student was eligible for the team, but only ten men who made the highest scores were allowed to shoot in the Eighth Corps Area Match.

The N. T. A. C. team placed fifth in this match. Considering the fact that our school has the smallest enrollment among the contestants, a very creditable showing was made. A score of 7093 out of a possible 8 ooo shows a remarkable improvement over any previous N. T. A. C. team's record. The highest individual score, 732 out of a possible 8oo, was made by George Willis.

Members of the team were: Major Norman (Captain), George Willis, H. P. Ford, R. Johnson, Troy Ikard, Lin Sansom, H. C. Williams, G. D. O'Quinn, George Samaras, and J. A. Lewis.

R. O. T. C. Inspection

ON Friday, March 25, 1927, the annual inspection of the R. O. T. C. unit of this institution was held by Lt. Col. C. R. Mayo, R. O. T. C. Officer for the Eighth Corps Area, with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. This corps area includes five States-Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona-and Colonel Mayo has supervision over all the R. O. T. C. work in the various schools and colleges in these States. Some of the larger Senior Units are those at the A. & M. College of Texas (of which our unit is a part), Oklahoma A. & M., University of Oklahoma, Colorado A. & M., New Mexico Military Institute, University of Arizona, New Mexico A. & M., and Colorado School of Mines. Among the Junior Units are Dallas High Schools, Fort Worth High Schools, Allen Academy, El Paso High Schools, San Antonio High Schools, Oklahoma Military Academy, Texas Military Institute, and Canyon City (Colorado) High Schools. Altogether, there are more than 12,000 young men in the various units of this corps area.

Lieutenant Lawson, P. M. S. & T., drove to Dallas and brought Col. Mayo and Capt. Clyde L. Hyssong, Infantry, back with him, arriving shortly before ten o'clock. At ten, the corps was formed and a battalion parade was held. After passing in review, the battalion was formed in columns of companies, and inspection of the band and rifle companies took place. The rifles and uniforms, in general, were in excellent condition. The appearance of the band and their instruments was also excellent. After the inspection was completed, Cadet Major Norman held company drill, using the three companies as platoons. All movements were very well executed. Following thís, Captain Ewell gave some movements in the manual of arms, then put "A" Company through some exercises in physical drill. After this was completed, the corps was dismissed and the officers were given a small problem in outpost duty to solve. Colonel Mayo made a short talk to the officers and explained the principles involved in the problem, etc.

Among those accompanying Colonel Mayo during the inspections were Captain Hyssong, Inf. (D. O. L.), P. M. S. & T., of the Dallas High Schools; Dean Davis; Captain E. H. Keltner, Inf. (D. O. L.), P. M. S. & T. of the Fort Worth High Schools; R M. Lawson, First Lieut. Inf. (D. O. L.), P. M. S. & T. of N. T. A. C.; and Captain Norris, local Commandant.

The Shorthorn

THE SHORTHORN has increased in importance and popularity. It was first organized as a monthly magazine in the Spring of 1919, and was continued as a magazine through the years I920 and 192I. In 1922 it was converted into a weekly newspaper and continued as such.

The Shorthorn has been published every Tuesday during 1926-27. Those who have charge of the editorial management are: Margaret Vaughan, Editor-in-Chief, and Mr. W. A. Ramson, Faculty Sponsor. Those who have charge of the business management are: Milton Simmons, Business Manager, and Mr. W. L. Watson, Faculty Sponsor. These have been assisted by the following reporters: Beth Waggoner, Annie Lou Waggoner, Elizabeth Preston, Christine Fowler, Elnora Leslie, Louise Johnson, H. T. McReynolds, Carl Norman, John B. Hearne, and Glen Collar

The Shorthorn has steadily increased in circulation as a result of the successful fulfillment of its aims. It has acted as a record of all the athletic games. It has been a source of interest in that it contained articles which aroused school spirit.

CLUBS

The Officers' Club

THE OFFICERS' CLUB is a permanent organization. In it are vested the disciplinary powers necessary to maintain a military school of the finer type. Its members are chosen and appointed on the basis of scholarship, discipline, and military ability. To receive a commission as an officer is, perhaps, the greatest honor a cadet may realize.

The club has several social functions during the year. These include Majestic parties, dances, dinners, and other entertainments. These functions create a wide interest and great enthusiasm among the members.

Hoof and Plow Club

THE HOOF AND PLOW CLUB of N. T. A. C., organized three years ago, has a name that needs no long explanation as to its purpose or its membership. Its rolls are open to all students of the College who are taking one or more courses in the Department of Agriculture. The purposes and aims of the club are threefold, namely: fostering and sponsoring of worthwhile ideas that tend to better the Department of Agriculture and the College in general; the wider dissemination of agricultural information, and the promotion of good-fellowship among the agricultural students and the student body as a whole. A general program of the club includes bi-monthly meetings, at which time speakers of recognized ability and accomplishments address the club on subjects of local and national importance. The use of motion pictures is an added attraction to the yearly program. The officers elected at the beginning of the present college year consist of the following students:

Household Arts Club

THE HOUSEHOLD ARTS CLUB of N. T. A. C., now affiliated with the Texas Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association, has as its purpose the following objects:
I. To improve the quality of living in the home and in the community ;
2. To further interest in Home Economics;
3. To train young women to be active and efficient leaders in home and community life;
4. To develop executive ability and social poise; and
5. To furnish an opportunity through organization for social life.

So far, the activities of the club have been both educational and entertaining, two of the most representative being a Foods Demonstration and a Slumber Party given at the Girls' Dormitory on the night before the Tarleton game on Thanksgiving Day.

Commercial Club

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB of the North Texas Agricultural College was organized in the fall term of 1925. Membership is open to students taking the Stenographic Course, the Accounting Course, and the Business Administration Course. This club has as its object the promotion of commercial interests among its members, the development of each individual capacity, and the preparation for service in all branches of commercial work.

Sans Souci Club

THE SANS SOUCI CLUB is an organization of a limited number of co-eds of N. T. A. C. The club was organized in 1923, with Miss Ima Culley as sponsor, and since its beginning, it has played a very important part in the social life of the College.

As is implied by the name, which means "Without a Care," the sole purpose of this club is the advancement of pleasure through entertainments and parties. Through the co-operation of the twelve members, the ' 26 -'27 Sans Souci have sponsored many outstanding social events. Prominent among these were a dinner party in Dallas and a masquerade dance.

Avolente Club

THE AVOLENTE CLUB was organized in 1923 with Miss Myrtle Rawls as sponsor. Since the purpose of the club is to promote the social life of the college, the slogan "Avolente," All for Pleasure, was chosen as its name. During the past years, including 1927, the club has had many successful social affairs which were a credit not only to itself, but to the college as well. It is composed of seventeen conscientious girls who are alive in the social life and who do their part with pleasure for themselves and for others.

Little Theatre

THE LITTLE THEATRE is under the direction of Miss Helen Bothwell, instructor of Dramatics and Music. Fifteen students volunteered their work for the purpose of giving plays and for developing their stage ability. The Little Theatre has proved a credit to the College, since it has presented several creditable performances. "The Whole Town's Talking" and "Second Childhood" were given during the year. It is the desire of each member of the organization to produce even better plays than have been given in the past.

Third Row: Harris, W.; Cathey, A. M.; Vaughn ; Cannon ; Dees, A.; Springer, L.

Choral Club

THE CHORAL CLUB was organized for the benefit of those who wished to develop their knowledge of music. The club consists of thirty-nine members with good voices and a desire to develop and to use them. Under the leadership of Miss Helen Bothwell, the club has successfully presented two light operas: "Once in a Blue Moon" and "Pickles."

Debating Club

THE DEBATING CLUB of N. T. A. C. was organized at the beginning of the fall term of 1926, under the leadership of Miss Helen Bothwell. Seven active members were enrolled in the list of members. The purpose of the club is to arouse interest in public speaking and debating, and to bring this kind of work before the student body. It is hoped that in the coming years this work will be carried on with even more zeal than was manifested during the first year of its organization.

Top Row: Adams, President; Hearne, Treasurer.
Bottom Row: Bryson; Chaudoin; Hamilton; Magers

Bull Pen Society

THE BULL PEN SOCIETY, consisting of out-of-town students, was organized the first week of the 1926-27 term, for the purpose of assisting new students in adjusting themselves to their new surroundings and for the further purpose of creating friendliness between the club and students of the school.

Since the Bull Pen Society has met daily during the whole school session, and since it always had special programs on Wednesday, it has the reputation of holding more successful meetings in one year than any other club. It also has a large membership, and is the only club that permits "fish" to hold an office as high up as janitor.

The programs consisted of lectures by able "slime" declaimers; songs by the "fish" quartette, better known as "The Weeping Four"; debates on such subjects as Evolution and Prohibition ; short stories ; jokes; and mock trials.

Phi Kappa Theta

THE PHI KAPPA THETA CLUB was organized at the beginning of the second semester of the 1925-27 term. The purpose of this club is to foster good scholarship. The immediate aim is to give prominence to students making exceptionally good scholastic records in N. T. A. C.

Membership consists of those students who are taking a minimum of fifteen credit hours of work of college grade and who make an average of above eighty-nine per cent for one semester. After the examinations at the close of each semester, students with the proper qualifications automatically become members. At present there are sixteen members. To make affiliation with this club is the highest honor possible, as the membership is restricted to ten per cent of the College Department.

Dean George L. Dickey, who has worked untiringly to maintain a high scholastic standard for the College and who has contributed valuable assistance in perfecting the club's organization, is the faculty sponsor.

Camp

BELOW is given a brief resume of a month spent in Camp Travis by the following proteges of our War College: Pigg, Norman, Baker, Casey, Willis, Samaras, and Berry. This is not intended to be a masterpiece of literature; it is but a brief retrospect of a grand and glorious month spent in Uncle Sam's largest military post.

We boarded one of those "dime-busses" at the Alamo and ambled out to Warehouse Number so-and-so, where we denuded. Such undignified action was necessary to obtain one of those army fits in clothing. Calvin resembled Fish Hearne in Dean Dickey's new suit. About the only fit we got was in leggings. We were also equipped with young box cars for our locomotive appendages. Kuppenheimer couldn't have given us better clothing.

They dumped us into one of those U. S. Rolls-Royce autos and journeyed forth to the infirmary, where we again disrobed. We followed a line around the wall while the docs scrutinized our anatomy. Casey was awfully bashful, but we urged him on gently.

At last we reached the barracks. There we received lockers, bunks, rifles (nicely covered with a beautiful coat of cosmoline), and a bayonet. Just about that time soupie blew. There was something persuasive about that call. Every man dropped his gun and what-not to rush madly for a place at one of Uncle Sam's tables. Oh, boy! Who would not love the wonderful dishes which those culinary experts are capable of producing? The slum was great. And the bread was so soft and fluffy. Cook Stough would die of envy at such cooking.

Our daily program began with reveille at $5: 30$. Then came soupie and police duty. After that we drilled until II:30. At which time we marched in, threw a handful of water in our faces, scrambled out to formation, and marched to our midday massacre. After soupie we answered mail call to get a letter from our folks and the "girl we left behind." In the afternoons we had school until 4 o'clock. Then at $5: 30$ we had retreat parade (athletic stars were not excused).

For diversion (etc.) we visited San Antonio and all its parts. The Majestic and the Aztec Theatres were honored every Saturday with our distinguished presence. We went to New Braunfels with Casey's brother. That was some trip: girls, punctures, watermelons, swimming, everything. That's not all! Lieutenant Casey (our Casey's brother) entertained us with a supper at his quarters. Norman bravely partook of some limburger cheese. As a result, he resembled his condition one night at N. T. A. C. before a certain football game.

A few days before camp ended, everybody went on the range. Some fired autorifles, some service rifles, and some tried their luck with pistols. From the results one would figure that with an army like ours the Germans would be safe from injury.

Then came the day of the Big Hike. The march was over a seven-mile course. We wonder what some of our "gold-brickers" would have done on that day? 'Long about the middle of the march we stopped for one of those forty-second rests. Well, along came a car with a fair young lady in it. She hollered at somebody. Of course our commander thought it was he. After running up the road to where she had stopped, he discovered it was Pigg's girl from Corpus Christi. Gosh! Calvin had a good time of it that day, but he served K. P. (and that ain't Knights of Pythias, either) for it.

We slept on grassburrs that night; that is, we tried to. Next day we had a sham battle on the march back to camp. Pigg and Norman tried to work their old suck and go home a day early, but Colonel Clark is as stubborn as some people around here, so we stayed.

Dee Coleman came in that night. He was in his auto. We made Spick Town and didn't even get out of the car-ahem! Next morning we turned in our stuff and disappeared from camp.

John Goes to College

THAT morning the sun rose with a brighter glow ; the little birds twittered cheerfully here and there; and the pigs grunted with a more contented grunt. The day was happy and everybody was happy. In fact, it was an eventful day, and as the cock sounded his last shrill call of morning, the entire Hearne household was all abustle, for it was on this day that their only boy, John, was leaving for college.

John's eyes were red that morning because he had slept little. Practically all night he had been awake, thinking of the many things that he was going to accomplish when he started to college. He thought of the parties, the dances, and how the girls would fall when they saw him all fixed up in khaki.

Neither did John's mother sleep that night. She was dreading to send her little boy away into the naughty old world, and he was such an innocent little lad with little experience. Although John had passed over many of the hard bumps of life, he had never been told that there wasn't no Santa Claus, and to tell him now would break his heart.

The next morning a private conference was held between the mother and father of the Hearne family before John arose. It was decided that the blow must come. John had to know that there wasn't no Santa Claus before he left for college.

At 4:00 a. m. John arose from his bed, donned his new shoes and suit, which had just arrived from Sears & Roebuck the day before, and went down to breakfast.

At the breakfast table the final instructions were given the lad, and the rendering cif the blow that would surely be a crisis.
"John," said his dad, "you air goin' out into the crool werld to get a eddication like your old dad did. Jest you remember that your ma and pa and all 'Possum Trot community is pushin' for you. You jest stay right in there and pitch, and when them there gals start gettin' fresh with you, you jest show them where to head in. Remember, I give you all of twenty-five cents a week for spending money, and also remember that them city gals will bleed ye out of all ye kin get and borrow, so keep your hand on your pocketbook, and remember-_"
"John," butted in his mother, with salty tears streaming from her eyes, "you're a big boy now. You've slep by yourself fer a long time, but there is one thing that I'm afraid that's gonna hit you perty hard. When we-"

Tears were streaming down the neck of the mother and father of John when they finished telling him that there wasn't no Santa Claus. John laughed. He knew that Dad had been reading in them college books all about the jokes and pranks they play, so John thought they were playing a little harmless joke on him.

With these final words of parting, John went arm in arm to the door, where he kissed his mother, dad, and Fritz, the family dog, good-bye. He was half way out the gate when a faint and heartful low from old Bossy, the family cow, told him that he had overlooked her. Tears of love welled up into his eyes. Running back, he gave old Bossy a long and affectionate embrace; then tearing himself away, he picked up his bags, boarded the buggy and was off.

John arrived at N. T. A. C. with a bright outlook for a successful career. A smile came to his face when he thought of the loving little joke played by his parents before he left home. They played the little joke to send him away happy, which showed all the more that they loved him.

After registration and nine months of themes, experiments, reading reports, dress parades, intelligence tests, monthly exams, final exams, excuses, and the lack of excuses, demerits, bull ring, reveilles, making beds, goose-stepping, sweeping floors, dodging brooms and boards, obeying Old Men in general, running errands, and shining shoes, John realized that his mother and dad were not joking and that there wasn't no Santa Claus after all.

Bulletin of Information for Registration Dean Dickey's War College

6:00 A. M. Get pulled out of bed by an Old Man. Stand at attention while orders are being given. Make up six beds, sweep three rooms, dust, and do other small jobs.

7:oo A. M. Go to breakfast and see if you can get anything to eat.
7 :oo to
9:00 A. M. Do all that you are told to do, such as carrying handbags, trunks, luggage, etc. Go to the Mechanical Arts Building and borrow a lefthanded monkey-wrench. Also stop at the Exchange Store and get some elevator tickets and a season chapel ticket. Drop in at the Library on your way back and check out a copy of "College Humor," "Judge," and "The Police Gazette."

9:30 A. M. Go to the Librarian and give a history of your family tree, dating back to further than your grandparents can remember. Get at the end of the registration line. Stand in line for two hours and discover that you have to have a matriculation card. Rush out to the Guard House, get the card, come back, get in line and stand until noon. Noon will find you the third man from the desk, but Mr. Bickel says: "Time for lunch." Break ranks, rush for dining hall, and again see if you can get something to eat.

I :oo P. M. Get back in line. Work your way to the registration desk, accepting with pleasure all insults given by ladies and otherwise as a result of your pushing. Sign up for the courses that you absolutely refuse to take. Fix up your schedule and spend the next three hours in trying to find instructors to sign your card. As you sign up for each course, change your schedule to suit the head of each department.

6:00 P. M. Again go to the Dining Hall, and see if you can find something to eat. If not, go to "Collegiate Inn" and get a hamburger. Report back to your room immediately.

7:oo P. M. Entertain all the Old Men, know each one personally after meeting him the first time and writing his name in your notebook. Stop all the boards, shoes, and brooms that you find flying carelessly through the air. Learn to sing, goose-step, dance, tell jokes, speak, juggle, and yodel, all in one night. The main thing to do is to act real smart and make all the wise cracks that are possible to make. This always gets over big.
I I :OO to
1I:30 P. M. Write a letter home and tell the home folks how brutal the school is. Tell them that you have already been made Corporal.

II:45 P. M. Go to bed and sleep on your stomach.

This Time Next Year We Expect-

Dean Thomas will still be giving "facts, details," and "whatnots."
The reading room will be restored.
The dining hall will be giving banquets at least twice a week.
"College Humor" and "Whiz-Bang" will be popular additions to the library.
The cadets will be urged to attend public dances.
Langford and Johnson will be on a pineapple diet.
Prude to have entered the movies.
The hospital will always be vacated on drill days.
Someone to have invented a trap large enough to catch the rats in the Annex.
A nice park with benches for the cooing couples on the campus.
The "fish" will still be doing the dirty work.
The cadets will remain in Arlington over the week-ends.
A slight wind will have completely wrecked the gym.
Mr. Bickle will still be wearing earmuffs.
The new dining hall will be completed (maybe).
Johnnie Peeples will be the starring partner of Suzanne Lenglen.
All will remember what they have learned this year.
Senior English will have become a snap course.
Collegiate Inn will have a jazz band to play during the meals.
Colonel Irons will start growing.
The co-eds will not hang around the drill field.
Biue Chambray will be out of style.
Cars will not be permitted to drive around the college.
Wallace Ewell will be a ladies' man.
The cadets will awake two hours early so that they can make a mad rush for reveille.
"Taps" will be blown sharply at $12: 30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
The co-eds will be wearing knickers, gay sweaters, and galoshes to school.
There will be a Victrola in each class-room to cultivate rhythm in thinking.
Fach student will carefully read the bulletin board each hour.
Captain Norris will spend each evening quietly reading "The Saturday Evening Post."
Feral will still be saying "Have you seen Hoover?"
Lieutenant Lawson will be seen around "The Texas."
Soupie will consist of five courses: chili beans, navy beans, soy beans, bean soup, and more beans.
The teachers will pass out chewing gum at the beginning of every hour to aid the digestion of the students.
McCaleb will win all track honors.
When the student body visits the Ford Plant, each cadet will remain quietly seated and pay his own fare.
Dances will be given each night during exam week.
Mr. Bickle will be wearing spats and using "Stacomb" on his-er-ah-head.
On inspection day and in all parades the cadets will wear red neckties and unionalls.
The "fish" will pin their leggings on with safety pins so they will not lose them.
The Freshmen will still be hiding the old men's Sam Brownes.
Miss Ray will still be saying "A diller, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar."
Each roommate will be fully supplied with ink, shaving sets, towels, quilts, and soap.
Each "fish" will be awarded a medal (?) for every wise crack.
Deans Davis and Dickey will organize a shiek and flapper club. Lieutenant Whittle will act as president.
East student will remain on the campus during the Christmas holidays.
Bacteria soup and crayfish omelet will be served during biology laboratory periods.
Rusty and Mac will become modest and don pajamas for basketball.
Captain Thompson will be remembered as "Flaming Youth."
Lieutenant Casey will give his annual staff dance.
Fats Langford will say "Here, here, you men!"
Quarterback Quinn from Grand Saline will be back again.
Firpo will say "Gimme a deck of cards."
The basement rats will have become famous.
And, last, ladies and gentlemen, flappers and jellybeans, we expect the cadets will still prefer blonds; College Avenue will be newly paved; and a new emblem of Old Glory will wave forth from the pole in front of Dean Dickey's War College.
