FOREWORD

OUR PURPOSE has been to preserve for you here something of our school in its pioneering days. If, when you are about to "take off" on your last flight, you should find a smile or a tear in this hangar of memories, we shall consider our goal achieved.

Lt. Hegenberger
Maitland's companion on this history-making nonstop flight.

Co-pilot of the tri-motored Fokker monoplane from California to Hawaii.

E ARE a part of a complex civilization. Competition in the game of life grows keener each day. The hour has struck when those who enter upon life's tasks without adequate preparation can hope to attain no high degree of success. They are entering into an unequal contest with the chances of failure strong against them. They may succeed in a measure, but they cannot hope to succeed in the full measure of their possibilities. They must be content, therefore, to abide among the mediocre who for the lack of ability or opportunity have failed to make proper preparation for life. There are few tragedies greater than the tragedy of wasted human possibilities. Each one of you has the potential possibility of reaching sublime heights of usefulness. The question whether you succeed or fail in this noble enterprise is dependent in the main upon whether you lay the foundation well; whether you have the purpose and determination to spend the time and energy necessary to qualify to meet life's problems effectively and efficiently. It is easy to fall into the course of least resistence, to exchange the hardships of constructive endeavor for the ease and pleasure of the hours; but those who pursue such a course will find that it leads on to mediocrity.

Those who would accomplish big tasks will not find the way easy: it is only through toil and hardships that men and women attain high goals. If you have ambition to succeed in a high degree, do not be over-anxious to enter upon the race of life; but take time enough for adequate preparation. The next few years will decide many of life's issues for you; therefore, use the opportunities for preparation that come to you with the full assurance that in so doing you are pressing toward the goal of highest accomplishment.
-T. O. Walton

HE North Texas Agricultural College is still young as an institution of learning. It stands as a happy, healthful adolescent youth in the fine family of state-supported colleges in Texas. It has ambition and vision. It has all the courage of a pioneer, and is unafraid to try the new when the educational traditions and practices of the past fail to satisfy. It is earnestly endeavoring to meet the needs for practical education in a practical age; to render the maximum of service at a minimum of expense; to assist worthy students with slim pocketbooks and large dreams; to seek quality students rather than large numbers of students at the expense of quality; and to develop personality and the powers of leadership by delegating certain administrative duties to young men and young women of proved ability in the student body, and holding them individually responsible for the duties to which they are assigned.

This young institution is also following the policy of recruiting its instructional staff from year to year with virile, competent young educators, for it believes that education is a work for competent people in the prime of life and not for persons afflicted with the infirmities of old age. With these concepts and ideals steadily before us, and with the help of a sympathetic alumni and a forward-looking clientelle, I confidently believe that the day will come when the North Texas Agricultural College will be acclaimed as an educational prophet in the rehabilitation of the educational aims and practices of the Southwest during the first half of the Twentieth Century.
-E. E. Davis.

Associate Dean George L. Dickey

HE YOUTH is truly a pioneer. He becomes imaginative, restless, adventurous. He outgrows the boundaries circumscribed by paternal discipline and launches out into a somewhat strange environment to survive or perish. His conservative elders pronounce him a fool for his discontent, but, undaunted, he searches diligently for an ideal place in the world of affairs. His goal is wealth, power, fame. However, he soon becomes convinced that his dream of finding his goal is a fantasy, and he, like a true pioneer, settles down to the arduous task of making for himself a place among men.

The heights to which this pioneering youth climbs in wealth, power, and esteem depends upon two factors. First, he must have the personal qualities which fit him for the enevitable competition with his fellow man. Second, he must choose wisely a place -a point from which to start-which offers opportunities for progress through service. With these two factors patent he must resign himself to a life of work, hardships, and personal sacrifices. His is the task of developing all of the resources incident to his environment.

His environment having been subdued, this now veteran pioneer nonchalantly accepts what his less fortunate admirers denominate success. But old age is now rapidly fastening its clutches upon him. He begins to express his senility like an aged frontiersman by living in the past, telling stories of better days frought with many successes and few failures. Gradually he surrenders all rights, privileges, and honors of pioneering to the youth of the succeeding generation whose duty it becomes to extend the frontiers of advancement a little further into the unknown. Thus each youth must carry the pioneer's scepter in his own hand if he would guarantee to his successors the blessings of a greater civilization.
-George L. Dickey.

The Local Board of Control

HE LOCAL Board of Control consists of members appointed by the Governor of Texas. Four of these members are lawyers and the other is a business man, who is well known in Arlington. The function is to work jointly with the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges, which is located at College Station. All matters passed by this body are submitted to the Board of Directors before they become official. They are interested in seeing this college progress for the benefit of those students whose lives are being trained and influenced by the North Texas Agricultural College.

MILITARY

Capt. E. H. Keltner, D. O. L., Profesoor of Military Science and Tactics

N THE preparation of the American youth for their future duties and responsibilities as citizens of this great republic, there is, in the opinion of many representative citizens of our nation, no form of education more valuable than military training. This training represents the sublime experience of generations of teachers whose lives have been spent in the preparation of men of all types for a very exacting service. It has been scientifically evolved with a view to the co-ordinate development of physical stamina, mental poise and moral stability; and it is no disparagement of any of our systems of education to assert that there is no other which can confer greater benefits upon the youth just entering into manhood. It is not in any sense conducive to a warlike spirit, nor in any manner derogatory to the peaceful and democratic ideals of our country. Its aim is simply the production of a sound and strong body; a quick clear intellect with a full realization of and the disposition to discharge to the utmost, one's duty to his fellow man and to his country; subordination, without servility; pride, without arrogance; determination, without obstinacy; aggressiveness, but with the fullest appreciation and respect for the rights of others. In short, military training develops leadership, discipline, self-respect, self-control, a sound body-all attributes which make for success in any vocation that the cadet desires to follow.

-E. H. Keltner.

Lt. Fred B. Norris, Commandant of Cadets

HE PIONEER SPIRIT of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in the North Texas Agricultural College materialized during the World War under the nomenclature of the Students' Army Training Corps; but the Reserve Officers Training Corps proper was not added to the curricula until 192r-'22, when the required one hundred students were enrolled. At that time Captain Carl A. Bishop (Major Bishop now) was the head of the Military Department in the College.

The pioneer spirit of R. O. T. C. was propitiated through four of its characteristics, namely:

The R. O. T. C. through its one-family organization motivates the intense support of the Cadet Corps for all the different factors in the institution, especially for the military and for athletics.

The democratic spirit rates above par because all students are uniformed in all of their activities especially as to clothing, rooming, boarding, and regulations.

The discipline embodies voluntary co-operation from the highest ranking officer to the rawest recruits among the enlisted men. This co-operation is visualized not only in the old men but also in the men after a fortnight's stay in the R. O. T. C.

This spirit of the R. O. T. C. builds the cadet into a more useful citizen through instilling in him the respect not only for authority but also for the rights of other citizens.

In short, the spirit of R. O. T. C. has moulded and refined the enviable traits of character through its help in preparing the cadet for a more intelligent citizenship.

Respectfully,
Fred B. Norris,
Commandant of Cadets.

THE STAFF

HE STAFF is made up of those who have duties which take more time than they could devote were they assigned to companies. The major, of couse, is commander of the batallion; Lt. Hargrave is quartermaster, and runs the armory. Until mid-year Lt. Polley was adjutant. At his withdrawal Lt. Seale was appointed adjutant. At the first of the year Walter Payne was the color sergeant, but his duties have since been lightened by Sidney Reeves as color sergeant.

COMPANY A

T HAS been the tradition in N. T. A. C. that Company A is first in regard to military leaders and to performances. The tradition is still existing this year with Captain Billy Swift commanding the unit. Captain Swift is an efficient military instructor and has always been a good cadet in the R. O. T. C. training. Swift was put in command of the battalion and remained in that position during the last three months of this year. Captain Swift has been twice elected the most military man in the battalion, and his ability as a military leader makes him well deserve that honor. At the present time the organization does not have a First Lieutenant. Second Lt. Casey and Second Lt. Maxey are second in command.

Dean Murray has the honor of being the First Sergeant of the Company. Sgt. Murray worked diligently and earnestly in this position and rendered excellent service to the company. Murray has always realized

1st Lt. Jesse Fry his duty to the company and fulfilled his duty to the best of his military ability. As the boys would remark, "He is good, but hard boiled."

The personnel is the largest in the battalion. To possess the largest personnel has been characteristic of Company A for yaers. Company A is a campus organization and it is housed in the noted Lindbergh Hall. The company's personnel is just what the name of the hall suggests. The name Lindbergh suggests superiority and efficiency and success. Company A has exhibited superior performances and efficient performances and has always been successful in contest with other companies in the battalion. All the cadets in Company A have worked diligently to support their company leader and deserve mention as being a harmonious working group of courtly young men.

COMPANY B

OMPANY B has succeeded in mantaining her past record of efficient drillers and excellent disciplinarians. Moving from Lindberg Hall to Fish Hall seems to add to rather than detract from, her ability on the drill field. Captain Peterson had three years of experience in the regular army before he became the commanding officer of Company B. He was stationed at Schoefield Barracks, Island of Oahu, Hawaii. It was there that he learned the principle of military snap and precision, which he has succeeded so admirably in instilling into the members of Company B. First Lieutenant L. C. Wiggins is second in command with four years of previous R. O. T. C. training. Second Lieutenants Madison Beaty and Robert Jackson have

Capt. Robert Peterson been diligent instructors throughout the year. First Sergeant Edward Maxey was promoted to Second Lieutenant and transferred to Company A. First Sergeant J. W. Taylor has proven worthy of the trust put in him. The upper-classmen, members of Company B last year, formed an excellent nucleus upon which to develop a skillful company. The men have worked hard all year, and the results are gratifying. The experience which the members of Company B have received during the past year will be both profitable and helpful in later years. It has taught them to depend upon themselves and obedience to orders which is essential also to a successful business career.

COMPANY C

OMPANY C is made up of cadets of Tarrant County some of which live on the campus and some of which live off the campus. This company is composed of boys who try hard and who have succeeded in making an excellent showing for the past year. In the various competitions C. Company has shown its supremacy as it has come out on top. This goes to prove that the men of C. Company are well trained, disciplined soldiers.
Captain Billy Swift was Company commander at the beginning of the year, but he was transferred to Company A at mid-term. First Lieutenant G. A. Ford was placed in command of the company and continued in command throughout the year. Lieutenant Ford was a very efficient officer and drill instructor. He was First Lieutenant, second in command of the company under Captain Swift. The accomplishments and success of Company C were due to the efficiency and ability of these officers and their assistants in giving instructions.

C Company, though it is made up of some off

Capt. Billy Swift campus students, is well represented in all forms of school activities, scholastic as well as athletic.

C Company still contends that it is first in regard to leaders and performances. Captain Billy Swift, commanding officer of the company, but transferred to Company A at mid-term, was replaced by First Lieutenant G. A. Ford, both being very efficient officers. Second Lieutenants Bill Schutts and Robert Wheeler also are very efficient in scholastic duties as well as military duties. The honor of being First Sergeant belongs to L. T. Nowlain.

The members of C Company are very proud of the record they have made. They hope the future Company C's will take this company as an ideal and strive to accomplish as much in time to come as Company C has accomplished in 1928-'29.

COMPANY D

OMPANY D is better known as the Dallas Company. It is captained by George Coley of Dallas. This is the first year that the cadet corps has had a company composed of only Dallas boys. The company contains seven members of the college rifle team. It has been judged the best drilled company at one "retreat parade." The members of the company form a lively group and have given many dances and outings to bring the cadets and their friends into a strong bond of fellowship.

The Dallas Company has been fortunate in that it has had plenty of able instructors. The members of Company D have been well instructed through the unselfish efforts of First Lieutenant V. K. Brandenburg who is the executive officer of the company, Second Lieutenant E. H. Brummett and second Lieutenant C. B. Smith. These officers have helped create a well-polished drill machine out of a group of practically raw recruits.

Capt. George Coley

The Dallas Company is to be commended for its rapid advancement. At the beginning of the fall term Company D lacked sufficient non-commissioned officers to fill all the vacancies, but within a few weeks these vacancies were filled by capable men who helped materially in the rapid advancement of the company.

The Dallas Company has been fortunate in being led by Captain Coley. Having had several years of military training, Captain Coley is well versed in the arts of military tactics. He has therefore been a very efficient commander.

Although Company D is a new company it has been foremost at all times in backing the cadet corps and the student body in putting over the many activities of the year. The Dallas Company is expected to be much larger next year due to the increasing number of day students in the college.

The North Texas Agsie Band

 HE North Texas Aggie Band at the beginning of the year gave promise of being the best that has been produced at the North Texas Agricultural College, and it has slowly but surely fulfilled that promise. With nearly fifty musicians under his command "Col." Irons, one of the best band directors in the state, has succeeded in producing one of the best Junior College Bands in the state. The Aggie Band made several trips over the state during the school year and it was favorably received wherever it appeared. "Col." Irons entered the band in that contest sponsored by John Philip Sousa in Fort Worth; but through a prearrangement, the cup went to a high school band.

The Band was honored by an invitation to perform at the inauguration of Governor Dan Moody. The House of Representatives complimented it highly in its resolution adopted welcoming the band to Austin. Trips have been made during the winter and early spring, the most notable of these being a trip to the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth. The Aggie musicians played to appreciative audiences at the Stock Show and made a big hit with the fair onlookers. The biggest trip of the year was made in the early part of May when the band competed in the West Texas Band Contest at El Paso, where it made a very creditable showing.

RIFLE TEAM

O DATE the 1928-29 rifle team has only fired one match, the Eighth Corps Area Intercollegiate Match. The results of the match have not yet been announced. Our team made 7234 points out of a possible 8ooo. The team has yet to fire the William Randolph Hearst match and individual matches with Texas A. & M., Colorado School of Mines, Oklahoma A. & M., and Allen Academy. The team looks forward with enthusiasm and optimism to the firing of these matches. Captain Keltner has stirred up more interest this year in the rifle team than has ever been exhibited before. The team consists of Maxey, Stuart, McMains, Schutts, Hargrave, Coley, Pike, Nowlain, Wheeler, Howard, Conner, Weller, Payne, and Pender; coached by Captain E. H. Keltner.

THE COACHES

HE CREDITABLE showing made during the year 1928'29 by the Hornets was in no small part due to the guidance and direction of the mentors. Capt. Fred B. Norris produced a net team which offered formidable competition to their opponents. Mrs. W. L. Hughes aroused a great deal of interest in women's athletics with her point-system of lettering and made a live organization out of the college's branch of the Women's Athletic Association. North Texas Agricultural College has a lot to thank Mr. C. P. Rumph for as his track team hung up two records for the rest of the conference to shoot at. Coach "Red" Moore, football mentor, with a limited amount of material whipped into form a team which honorably bore the Blue and White for a season. His basketball quintet brought the conference title to North Texas Agricultural College. The versatile Mr. Dunsworth has been the able henchman of the coaches in all branches of athletics.

THE ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

HE Athletic Committee acts on the affairs pertaining to the physical activities of the college. Its members are appointed by the Dean with due regard to the demands. This body arranges the calendar of competition in all sports so as not to interfere with the other functions of student activities. The making of awards and the giving of letters is sponsored by the Athletic Committee. Most of its members were previous participants in some form of athletics, and all of them are vitally interested in the physical betterment of the students. This committee is made up of faculty members, and it makes such recommendations as it deems needful to the Executive Committee. The college is officially represented in the State Junior College Conference by this body.

Review of the 1928 Football Season

VHEN Coach Moore put his charges through their first workout at Lake Worth September io, prospects were none too bright. Only five letter men -Maxey, Polley, Creecy, Spence, and Seale-were back from the '27 team. In addition to these five, there were four reserves back, Taylor, Weller, Murray, and Hood. In spite of the lack of veteran talent, Coach Moore and his assistants managed to whip together a very formidable lineup. An abundance of new material proved very valuable to the team. Faith, Connelley, Johnson, Swain, Cearley, Peck, Gravely, and Dunsworth did much to strengthen the squad. After bowing before Terrell Prep in a practice session, the Hornets started the season with a bang by defeating the Texas Military College 12 to 6 . They continued the good work by taking the Clifton College eleven into camp by a score of 32 to o. The

Captain Polley

Polley and Creecy served together as captains of the 1928 Football team. Polley was a great leader and fighter, and was one of the most popular members on the team. Polley was serving his third and last year on the team as a backfield man. Polley was a great line plunger and pass receiver. He could always be depended upon when he served to back up the line.

First Team
next game told a different story, when the Aggies dropped their annual encounter with the Wesley Panthers. The Hornets took the other game of the current road trip when they beat the Hillsboro Indians by a margin of two points. N. T. A. C. broke its string of road games with a game at home, having as opponents the Tribe from Wichita Falls. No war-whoops were heard from the Indians as they left Aggieland. After this game, the Hornets took to the trail for a couple of games. At Paris, the championship of the conference was wrested from our gallant knights of the gridiron by the well-known Dragons. Next, taking the longest trip of the season, the Hornets were defeated by Blinn Memorial College. The Aggies won the last game of their Junior College competition by defeating the Gainesville Indians. They ended the season by defeating the North Texas Teachers College Reserves, this game being played in the place of the one forfeited by Ranger. Throughout the season, the Hornets seemed only to find their power when they played on the local field. Including all games the Hornets finished the season with a percentage of .700.

Creecy played on end and practically every position in the backfield. Wherever he played he always gave a good account of himself. Creecy was one of the best ground gainers on the squad. As a punter there was none in the conference who could beat him. Creecy's toe kept the "Aggie" goal line out of danger many times during the year. Creecy served his last year, and will be missed next year.

Capt. Creecy

"Hornets! That's Our Name"

Hood played a consistent game on the wing position all year. Very few plays were ever run around his side of the line. Hood was exceptionally good at receiving passes. Hood will be missed from the squad next year.
"Boody," serving his first year on the squad, made a great little end. Johnson broke up many of the opponent's plays, especially their passes. "Boody" was a fast man and a hard worker.
"Ox" was one of the best tackles in the conference this year. Tommy was a stone wall in the line. He could always be depended on to hold his opponents and to open up for his own backs. "Ox" will be absent when the roll is called next year.
"The Fighting Jew" was a new member to the team but he showed up like a veteran. Peck, playing tackle, stopped many a rally staged by the opponents, often times breaking through to smear a play before it had really begun.

"Hit 'em Low"

Weller, serving his first year as a regular, gave a good account of himself all season. Weller was a great fighter and hard worker. Much is to be expected of Weller next year when he will be with the team as one of the Captains.

Gravely was a new man, a hard worker and fighter. Gravely was often seen at one of the tackle positions where he always gave a good account of himself. Gravely was a tower of strength in the line.

Murray served at either tackle or guard where he could always be seen giving all that he had. Murray often broke through the enemy line to smear plays that were launched at him. On the offense Murray was one of the best the Hornets had.

Swaim was rather a small man to play the guard position, but he always managed to make the opponents think that he was a good size man. Swaim had that "Old Aggie Fight," and demonstrated it well on the field.

"Give 'em H-_ Let's Go"

Spence was one of the mainstays of the team. When it came to backing up the line there was none better. Spence played a brilliant game at center all season. This was Pratt's third and last year on the Hornet football squad.

Taft alternated with Spence at the center position. Dunsworth was a hard worker and fighter. This was Dunsworth's first year on the squad, but, while in the game, he added much strength to the team.

Maxey's great strength lay in his off tackle plunges. Maxey was the most consistent ground gainer on the team. As a safety man Maxey returned many kicks for good gains. Maxey played his second and last year on the team.

Faith was always ready with his line plunging. When he hit that line he always hit it for a gain. Faith was also a wonderful kicker, he shared the kicking with Creecy. Faith will make a great leader for the '29 team.

"Hold 'em, Hornets"

Taylor played a good brand of football all season. He was exceptionally good in breaking off tackle and running around end. Taylor was a small man but a great fighter, he never quit. He will be missed next year.

Bowers was a little man who got a late start, but developed fast. Bowers was undoubtedly the fastest man on the squad. Bowers showed his heels to all opponents when he broke off tackle for neat gains.

Jackson, the stellar quarter of last year, was a great aid to Coach Moore in developing the raw material on the team. In non-conference games, he showed himsslf to still be the heady field general that he was last year.

Raymond Tims, Newman Casey, Mayo Odom and Wiiliam Robinco: were the reserve men of the squad.

Captain Maxey

Captain Maxey was the oustanding performer in the conference this year. He was not only a good all-around man, but he was an exceptionally good marksman when it came to hitting the basket. Maxey, making 28I points for the season, left a goal for conference scorers to shoot at.

"Each Man’s a Mann"

Review of the Season

RAINING season opened with about thirty men out, each of whom was determined to hold down a regular position on the team. Within a few days, however, the squad had narrowed down to about twelve men: Maxey, Casey, Bigley, Hemmle, Creecy, Weller, Dunsworth, Schutts, and Johnson were picked as mainstays of the team. The Hornets opened the season with a long home stand. The first team taken on was Harding College to whom two decisive defeats were administered. In the next series with Gainesville, the Hornets suffered one defeat, their only one in the conference. The team next made a trip to Wichita Falls where they defeated the Indians in both games by a decisive score. After the Aggies returned home, they were engaged in a series of six games, two each with Texarkana, Wichita Falls, and Paris Junior College. Each game was won by good scores. The Aggies journeyed to Weatherford and here they administered a 38-37 defeat to the Coyotes the first night, and a 38-23 defeat the second night. The Aggie strength was shown in defeating the Coyotes, since they were the 1928 Champions of their district.

The longest road trip of the season came when the Aggies toured northeast Texas, where they met Texarkana and Paris. In the series with Texarkana, the Hornets cinched the championship when they came from behind to win the last few minutes. The contest in Paris was not so closely contested. Thus ended one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school.

Coach Moore

Ready, Aim Fire! Boom!

Casey was one of the outstanding men on the squad. He was a consistent scorer and the hardest fighter on the club. Casey, playing his first year as a regular, dealt plenty of misery to his opponents.

Bigley was far superior to any other center in the conference. His hustle and long reach served to keep the opponent's score down. Bigley had a good eye for the basket and made many points during the year.

Hemmle was a new man to the team and did not see very much action. He could be depended upon to get in there and fight any time he was called upon.

Johnson was fine at guard during his stay with the team. He was unable to return after mid-term and his absence was felt by the whole team.

Weller was taking his first try at basket ball this year and made a good success at it. Weller did not get into the game until after the middle of the season, but after he got started he gave a good account of himself.

Creecy was undoubtedly the fastest guard in the conference. He was a fast dribbler and an accurate passer. He was good at shooting goals and was a dangerous man at all times.

Spence, Schutts and Dunsworth were three men who did much to help develop the team. None of these men saw much action, but they were out every evening helping in any way that they could.

'28 Baseball Squad

Review of the 1928 Season

yITH eight letter and reserve letter men back and an abundance of new material out, it seemed that the ' 28 nine would set the conference afire. The team looked powerful on paper since it had Seale and Thomas behind the bat; a complete infield in McCulloch, Butler, Pope, and Jackson, and the nucleus of a good outfield in Burress and Captain Hunter. In addition, the squad was bolstered by Hood, Ratliff, Creecy, Swinnea, Maxey, Casey and McGee. But a team on paper and a team on the diamond are altogether different. Sad, but true. The Hornet nine started the season by taking two practice games from Polytechnic High and dropping one game to the strong T. P. Coal and Oil team of Ft. Worth by a close score. These games seemed only to strengthen the prediction that

Captain Hunter

Hunter was a fine leader and did much to keep the morale of the team up while it was facing defeat. He was a good clean fighter and leader. A ball hit in his direction could be counted as an out even before it was caught. His chatter in field kept the Hornets fighting ali the time. He will be a great loss to the team of ' 29 .

"Hit 'em High"
N. T. A. C. was to boast a powerful nine. But as soon as the Aggies struck Junior College competition, these predictions were shattered. Decatur furnished the first test for the Hornets. The Hornets dropped both ends of the two game series by scores of 9 to 4 . Out for revenge, the Hornets next took on Weatherford, and in an extrainning battle came out on the long end of a 9 to 5 count. In a return game between the two teams, N.T.A. C. won by a score of 8 to 5 . In a four game series with the Hillsboro Indians, the Aggies were able to win only one game and to hold the Indians to a tie in the last game of the series. The four game series with Wesley was a $50-50$ proposition. Each team won two games on its home diamond. All in all, it seemed that the Hornet nine left its punch behind on its road games, only to find it increased on the return to the home lot.

Coach Moore

This was Coach Moore's first year to handle the Baseball squad but a very formidable team was developed. He was always full of fight and never failed to place a fighting team upon the field. There was never a man on a team of Coach Moore's who would not fight to the last for him. Coach was a popular man with the students on the field of encounter as well as off of it.

Coach Moore

"Yea, Team Fight"

"Mac," playing his second year with the Hornets, made one of the best men that Coach Moore had. "Mac" was one of the leading hitters on the team. It will be hard to find a man to take "Mac's" place in ' 29.

This was Hood's first year on the team. He was a great fielder and could always be depended upon to get a hit when the need was great. Hood was a great fighter and a favorite with the team.

Dennis, playing his last year on the team, proved to be one of the best fielders in the conference. Butler could always be depended upon to stop the ball when it was coming in his direction.

The diminutive Jackson was one of the mainstays of the infield. On many occasions he brought the stands to their feet with his spectacular play. Bob always hit when hits meant runs.

Pope was a utility infielder of no mean ability. He was always there hustling. As is usually the case with infielders, Joe was no "Sultan of the Swat" but he was in there in a pinch.

"We Sting 'em Hard"

Ratliff, playing his first year with the Hornets, proved to be a real ball hawk. He covered his part of the outer garden in big style. "Ty" was the leading hitter on the team of ' 28 .
"Ely," playing his first year on the team, made a real name for himself in the outfield. He was one of the best hitters on the club and was gifted with the ability to steal a base whenever the occasion arose.
"Burro" was the mainstay of the pitching staff. He never met his equal in the conference. As an outfielder Burress was as good as any that could be found. He will be missed from the team this year.

Seale did all of the catching and performed in grand style. Tommie had a good arm and could throw a man out with ease at any base. The team showed their appreciation of his playing by electing him Captain.

Swinnea was used as a utility infielder the first part of the season, but his real value was soon discovered and he served as a pitcher the remainder of the year. He will be missed from the squad this year.

North Aggie-land

Maxey, Thomas, Casey, and McGee were the remaining men on the squad. Maxey was included in the pitching staff along with McGee, Burress, and Perkins. Although he did not always win, he turned in a good game and was dependable. Thomas was utility man and also alternated with Seale at the catching job. Casey was reserve outfielder and served as a pinch hitter many times during the season.

Squad

Review of the 1928 Season

LTHOUGH Coach Moore and Mr. Rumph only had as a nucleus five letter men around which to build their 1928 machine, they whipped their squad of mediocre material into shape and made a creditable showing in the 1928 Track season. The veterans reporting were: Captain Thompson, dashes and relays; Creecy, relays, broad jump, and javelin; Barron, javelin; Smith, broad jump, high jump, and pole vault; McCulloch, hurdles and pole vault.
Track stock took a decided slump in the first semester when John Lewis, high point man of the 1927 meet, and George Wilson, distance man of 1927 , dropped out of school. With the loss of these two men, the Junior Aggie mentor was forced to revamp his team to some extent.

The Junior Aggies started off the season at the Stock Show meet. Although they failed to place in the meet, they made a very worthy showing in the mile relay in which they competed against such teams as S. M. U., Texas A. & M., Baylor, and Oklahoma A. & M.

Capt. Thompson

Captain Thompson

Harvey "Red" Thompson was captain and star quarter-miler of the 1928 team. As lead-off man he never failed to give his team a margin to play on. In addition to the 440 -yard race, he equalled the conference record in the low hurdles. He shares with Creecy the honor of setting a new conference record-winning the conference quarter-mile in a most decisive manner for a new conference record.

"Give Us Room"

At the Texas relays they failed again to place due to the excellent time made by their competitors.

They made a step from the rear at the Rice relays by winning fourth place in the mile relay.

The next meet the Junior Aggies began to show improvement. They took second honors in a triangle meet with T. C. U. and N. T. S. T. C. at Denton. The Eagles scored $64^{1 / 2}$ points, the Aggies ran up $43^{1 / 2}$ points, and T. C. U. 26 points.

In the dual meet with the Denton Teachers the Junior Aggies lost by 15 points. The final score being 65 to 50 in favor of the Eagles.

The Dallas Y. M. C. A. was completely outclassed by the Junior Aggies. They amassed 90 points to the Y. M. C. A.'s 26 .
T. C. U. was the next track team to meet defeat at the hands of the Junior Aggies. They won this meet by a 53 to 51 score.

In the State meet the Junior Aggies took only third place, but they broke two meet records.

Captain=Elect $C_{\text {reecy }}$

"Owlface" Creecy stands out as an all around trackster of N. T. A. C. This versatile gentleman was a consistent winner in the javelin, broad jump, and relay. He also annexed quite a few points in the dashes. He performed the outstanding event of the season when he tossed the javelin 168 feet 8 inches for a new record for the Texas Junior College Athletic Association in the Conference Track Meet.

Captain-Elect Creecy

"Quit Never"

Barron stands out as a javelin tosser, and as a runner in the dashes. He is given due credit for his work in the relays. He showed his ability with the javelin at the conference meet by taking second place.

Cearley was an ever-ready quarter miler. He won a berth in the relay team before the Stock Show meet, and was one of the four Aggies with the baton. He will always be remembered by the Junior Aggie tracksters.

Tittle stands out in the shot, discus and javelin. He had no peer in N. T. A. C. in these field events. Tittle was the high pointer in the dual meet with Denton, winning first in shot and discus and second in javelin.

Dees was a man of ability, but handicapped by the fact that he was ineligible for the state meet. He was a consistent winner in the high huidles and the high jump.

Brummett, although without previous experience, came out for the track team and developed into one of the bright lights of the ' 28 season. He was a member of the relay team, making all the trips. He was a hard worker and deserved his merits.

Montfort may be remembered for the many points he gained for N.T. A. C. in the hurdles. He also annexed a few markers in the discus.

"We Sting ’em Hard"

Jackson, another new man for the team, was an adept mid-distance runner and furnished some keen competition for the relay men. He was a hard worker and a popular man.

Nowlain was always getting high when there was a vaulting pole near. He tied for fourth place in the State meet.

McCulloch was an all around athlete. He could not devote as much time to track as the other byys on account of baseball, but he won a number of points for N.T.A.C. in the hurdles and pole vault. He copped third place in the pole vault in the State meet.

Harlain, Gentry, Adkins, and Josey deserve credit for the good work they did in middle distance. Harlan stepped out in the dual meet with the Dallas Y. M. C. A. and took first honors in the half mile.

"Where Hornets Swarm"

Wagone:, better known as "Bugs," was a very capable tennis player, as was shown by his brilliant playing at the state meet. At this meet he absolutely refused to become excited and played tennis that showed him to be one of the best at the meet. His chop stroke was one that was hard for his opponents to return, and it showed, to say the least, that he had mastered the game to this extent. The Hornets will miss Wagoner in the 1929 matches.

Altman is a player who is always improving his game, and one who is always dealing his opponents plenty of misery. He is a brainy player, always cool and calculating. This was shown in the State meet when his opponent took the first set from him by the score of $6-\mathrm{o}$. This would have been enough to discourage the ordinary player, but with Altman it only served as a stimulant for better tennis, as was shown by his coming back and winning the match. This is Altman's last year with the team and he may be assured that he will be missed very much by the 1929 team.

Ditto is a player who studies the game of tennis very carefully, which accounts to some extent for his doing the unexpected. As a student of the game he plays with his team, hands and feet. His unexpected shots are ones that drive his opponents to exasperation, and cause him to bring home the bacon. Due to his work at the game and the results that he obtained in doubles at the state meet, he was awarded a letter on the 1928 team.

Hudspeth is an indefatigable player, which accounts for his "come-back" in his matches on the latter sets. His "service" is to return, especially with any accuracy. Bill is a real net player. Unconsciously in playing doubles Bill works his opponents for a return close to the net, which he "kills." Bill has the tennis "heart," the lack of which seriously handicaps some tennis players. The results of the 1929 team will depend largely on Bill's "racket," as he will be the only letter man back.

THE PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTESTANTS

In the picture above are the contestants who represented the college in the Texas Junior College Public Speaking Association between the times when The Junior Aggie went to press last year and when it goes to press in 1929.

The pictures of the one-act play group, which in 1928 with Susan Glaspell's "Suppressed Desires" won third place in the state, have never been run. The members of that cast were Virginia Galbraith, Howard Williams, and Evelyn Shackleford. Neither was the picture of Gynervra Adams ever run. In 1927 she won the junior college state contest in women's oratory; and in 1928, representing T. C. U. with the same oration, she won the senior college contest.

In April of 1928 Melvine Jarratt and Oliver Wilson did credit to the college in the district contest held at Wichita Falls. Miss Jarratt spoke on the necessity for further industrial development in Texas, and Wilson spoke on the matter of traffic accidents.

The one-act play group representing the college in 1929 was composed of Edward Maxey, Christine Fowler, Carl Sessions and Robert Peterson, each person taking part in at least one public presentation of "Poor Old Jim." Only a flip of a coin decided that Miss Fowler should be in the contest play at Paris, February ioth; Peterson and Maxey had the other two parts.

THE ATHENIAN CLUB

The Athenian Club was organized at the beginning of this school year under the direction of Mr. Duncan Robinson, sponsor. Mr. W. A. Ransom directs the dramatic activities of the group.

The purpose of the Athenian Club is to sponsor all activities pertaining to dramatics, debates, and oratory. Association with this club gives the student an opportunity to develop his talent along these lines of art.

In addition, the Athenian Club strives to acquaint its membership with modern trends in American Literature, and to create a desire for individual reading and interpretation of our national body of letters.

THE DALLAS CLUB

In September, 1927, the Dallas Club was organized for the purpose of promoting good fellowship among the students of the college whose homes are in Dallas. Since its organization, the club has sponsored many social functions and entertainments such as dances and weiner roasts. Every year the membership of the club has increased until it has become one of the largest clubs as well as one of the most active in school.

THE OFFICERS' CLUB

The North Texas Agricultural College Officers' Club is made up of all the boys who "wear leather." They are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and military ability. The purpose of the club is to further co-operation and loyalty among the different companies.

Besides serious work, the Officers' Club also sponsors some very interesting entertainments. Since it is an organization made up of leaders, any entertainment which they give is worth attending.

THE SERGEANTS' CLUB

The Sergeant's Club has been in existence since 1927. It is an organization to which sergeants belong for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with each other and the duties of the rank.

At the beginning of this year, this club was re-organized. Under the leadership of Captain E. H. Keltner, P. M. S. T., the sergeants meet once a month, and receive special instruction in duties and information on various subjects.

The club has sponsored several entertainments during the year, and expects to give more of these entertainments in the future.

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Norma Chatham has progressed rapidly. The club has scored musical successes in the high schools of both Dallas and Fort Worth, and has received much recognition during the past year. Miss Gertrue Mae McFadden is the accompanist for the club. It is such organizations as the Girls' Glee Club that are putting the college on the map.

THE SANS SOUCI CLUB

The purpose in organizing the Sans Souci Club was strictly for the social development of students in the school. Sans Souci means "without care," and the spirit of the club members has always been one of carefree gaiety, which adds to the pleasantness of college life.

The club was organized in 1923. Since that time the club has enjoyed six years of success, and claims the distinction of being one of the oldest and most democratic clubs on the campus. One of its oldest traditions is friendship between old and new members.

During the past year many unique and interesting social activities have been sponsored by Sans Souci.

LA DOCENA CLUB

La Docena means "the dozen;" there are twelve girls, besides sponsors, in the club.

This club was organized in November, 1927, for social purposes only. The girls are selected upon their congeniality and good sportsmanship. The initiation exercises in the club tend to give a Spanish effect since the name of the club is Spanish.

La Docena is the newest of the three girls' clubs on the campus, but it has already sponsored several very interesting entertainments.

N. T. A. C. TENNIS CLUB

The Tennis Club was organized in 1929 and the following officers were elected: Bill Hudspeth, president; George Coley, vice-president; Taft Dunsworth, secretary; Grover Godfrey, Shorthorn Reporter; and Ronald Illingworth, club reporter.

The club is to be a social organization as well as athletic. The definite objects of the club are to promote greater interest in tennis at the College, and to win the state championship each year. The members of the club are those who are interested in tennis as a form of athletics and as a pastime.

Mr. J. B. Preston is faculty sponsor and the coach of the club. With members such as those pictured above, and a sponsor such as Mr. Preston, it is almost certain the club will attain the goals it has in view.

MIXED QUARTET

For the first time in several years, the College boasted a mixed quartet which has represented the school on numerous occasions. It was chosen from the boys and girls chorus, not necessarily upon the merits of the four singers; but because their voices blended nicely. In this quartet Ann Hiett sings soprano; Ruth Mayo, contralto; Bill Cooper, tenor; and Bob Horton, basso.

The quartet has appeared over radio several times, and also represented the College at the convention of Junior Colleges in Ft. Worth. In all of its appearances it has made a very creditable showing. The group has also appeared on several occasions in entertainments, in assembly, and has taken part on other programs given in Arlington and vicinity.

STRINGED ENSEMBLE

One of the new musical features at the College this year was the violin ensemble, composed of five girls. Miss Eugenia Nicks is the piano accompanist for this ensemble. These girls have worked hard with Miss Chatham; and, though their practice has been rather irregular, they have accomplished much.

Contrary to the usual arrangement of such ensembles, this quartet was not grouped according to first violin, second violin, etc.; their music required that each one be able to play any part of the arrangement.

This group of girls has played over radio and for numerous other entertainments. These girls and their director deserve a great deal of credit for their success this year as it is nct often that a school the size of this can toast of an ensemble with such talent.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club is a popular organization in the College. It has aroused much enthusiasm among the masculine students because of the trips that it makes to neighboring schools. Miss Norma Chatham, director of the Club, expects great things of it in the future. Miss Gertrue Mae McFadden, accompanist, also deserves credit for her faithful work during the year.

THE PHI KAPPA THETA CLUB

The Phi Kappa Theta Club was organized two years ago for the purpose of encouraging scholarly ideals and a spirit of devotion to study.

In order to belong to this organization, a student must be taking a minimum of fifteen hours of college work, and must make an average of above 89 per cent. on one semester of work.

Although organized with a scholarly goal in view, the club sponsors a lively social entertainment every month for the members and their guests.

THE DE MOLAY CLUB

One of the ideals of the De Molay organization is to be of some service to humanity. The College chapter of this organization strives to live up to all of the ideals of the De Molay. Since the cadets' standard of ideal conduct is similar to that held by the De Molays', the local chapter was organized to keep up this spirit.

"T" ASSOCIATION

The "T" Association was organized January 9, 1929, with eleven charter members. The officers elected for the year 1929 were: Tom Seale, president; John Creecy, vice-president; Leroy Bigley, secretary-treasurer; L. D. Ratliff, sergeant-at-arms; Robert Jackson, reporter.

The " T " Association is composed of all male coaches and all men who have been awarded the " T " by the Athletic Council, and initiated into the organization. Men who have received letters before 1929 may become charter members upon application.

The "T" Association had a four-fold purpose in mind when it organized:
I. To promote the spirit of fellowship among athletes and the true spirit of sportsmanship toward opponents.
2. To establish and promote athletic traditions in N. T. A. C.
3. To raise the scholastic standards of the athletes of N. T. A. C.
4. To secure and preserve pictures of all athletic teams of the past and the future. These pictures will be kept on display for everyone.

THE HOUSEHOLD ARTS CLUB

The Household Arts Club was organized for the purpose of giving girls a better understanding of practical home economics work.

In 1927-1928 the membership of the club was extended to include every one in school.

One of the principal objects in view for the club during 1928-'29 has been the purchase of an oil painting to go in the lower hall of the Administration Building, directly opposite the front entrance.

THE BULL PEN SOCIETY

The Bull Pen Society is made up of all free white male students who live at home. They are members of the Society whether they wish to be or not.

Their meetings are held daily at 12 :00 o'clock. Programs which consist of stale jokes and speeches are rendered daily at this time. Refreshments are served provided each man brings his own. Each member has a title which is high sounding, but it is high in name only. One of the purposes of the club, aside from entertainment, is to develop school spirit among day students.

OF COURSE she is! All week she has been looking forward to this "Long Distance date."
Girls appreciate such thoughtfulness. "Your Mary," too, will thrill at the sound of the telephone bell . . . will eagerly wait for your call. Station-to-station service makes it reasonable.* Just give the Long Distance operator the telephone number, or the name and address under which it is listedbut don't specify a particular person. If you give the number . . it's quicker!
