Joe Bailey is an avid golfer, fisherman, hunter, and grandfather, devoted especially to his granddaughter Jana and grandsons Joe and Mike.

Joe Bailey — Tribute to College, Community

Every accredited college has its leaders. These are the administrators or educators whose contributions to the school and their community have made a notable impression. These personalities will be remembered long after the college has become a university.

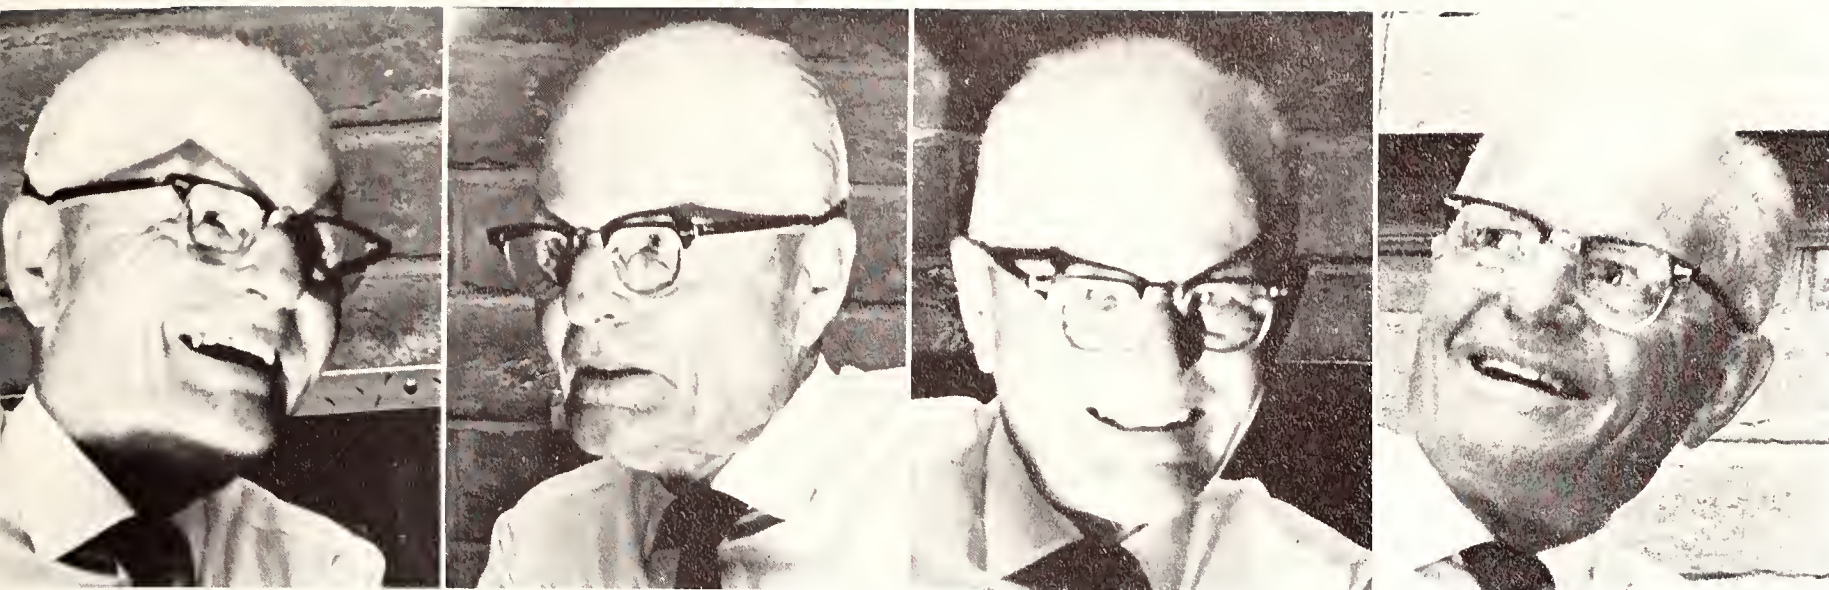

Such a leader is Joe Bailey, business manager at the college since 1939. He came to the school as a book-keeper in 1926 when the college was known as North Texas Agricultural College.

A native of Arlington, Mr. Bailey was graduated from Arlington High School and attended National Business College in Fort Worth. He married another Arlington native, the former Lillie Ditto. The Baileys have one daughter, Mrs. James Banowsky, and three grandchildren.

Sometime next year ground will be broken for the Joe Bailey Junior High School, the first air-conditioned junior high in Arlington. The school's namesake was recognized for his outstanding service to his community. He served as secretary on the Board of Trustees for Arlington Independent School District for 19 years. Mr. Bailey is past president of Rotary Club and has worked diligently in the organization for 25 years. He was also instrumental in acquiring four-year status for the college. He worked toward this goal for eight years with some of his closest friends and colleagues, including Mayor Tom Vandergriff, Professor Duncan Robinson, Dr. H. A. D. Dunsworth, B. C. Barnes, and Professor C. D. Richards.

Joe Bailey is quieter and more inconspicuous than most of his friends. A mild, even-tempered man, he has literally grown up with the University. The dedicatee of the 1967 Reveille has worked tirelessly to help the school attain prestige and its ultimate goals.

Active in civic and academic affairs for more than 40 years, Joe Bailey worked closely with Professor H. A. D. Dunsworth, head of the mathematics department, in attempts to achieve senior status for Arlington State.

A year of growth . . . a year of grandeur . . . a year of study and achievement . . . a year of frolic and quiet concentration . . . a year that saw a cross-section of ages, classes, races, creeds, nationalities, loyalties, interests and ambitions . . . when brotherhood advanced the ending of racial barriers and social bigotry . . . when no idea was too frivolous and no scheme too far-fetched . . . a year of hurried lunches and intermittent sleep . . . a year of commuting . . . a year of walking from dorms . . . a year of participation . . . a year of contribution . . . a year of searching . . . a year of change . . .

A VINTAGE YEAR . . . the year Arlington State College became University of Texas at Arlington . . . the year the Reville was caught in the midst of the name change and half of the book was obsolete before it was published . . . the first year UT at Arlington students used identification cards bearing social security numbers . . . the first year Nancy Thorpe served as Dean of Women . . . the first year national Greek letter sororities and fraternities were invited to rush social clubs on this campus . . . the first year for the four newly-formed academic schools to be headed by Deans Girardot, Green, Nelson, and Nedderman . . .

. . . the year mid-term finals were given — sans snow . . . the year President Woolf gained two assistants . . . the first year of the Graduate School. Advanced study was offered in the fields of electrical engineering, engineering mechanics, economics, mathematics, psychology, and physics. University of Texas at Arlington students learned that a graduate school in social work would soon be added to the curriculum . . .

. . . the year spring registration exceeded fall registration . . . the year William Manchester published Death of a President and Jacqueline Kennedy filed suit to prevent his releasing certain details of her life . . .

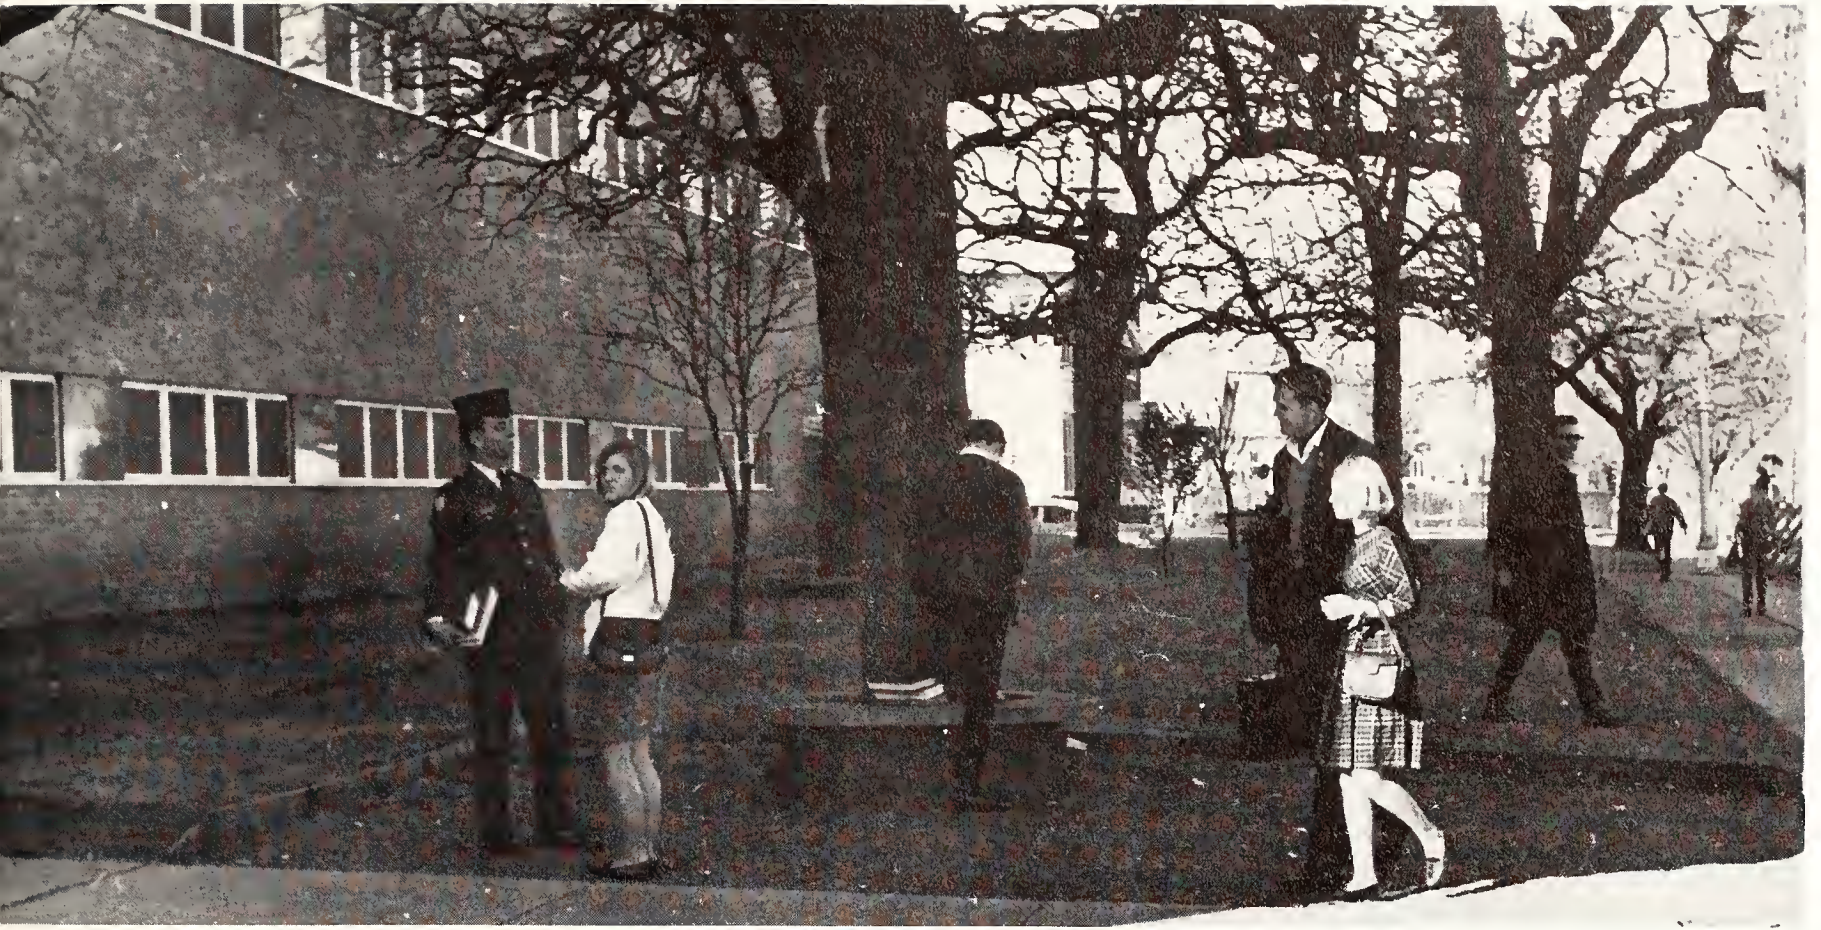

. . . the year rapid growth of UT at Arlington could be seen in one block with the addition of four stories to the Library and a brand new Mathematics and Foreign Language Building . . . the year the 65-year-old cemetery west of the auditorium was converted into a campus park . . . the year coeds wore textured hose, pants suits, straight hair, falls and hair-pieces, while college men favored velour shirts and stay-pressed slacks . . . the year of the Appollo space craft tragedy involving astronauts Grissom, White, and Chaffe . . .

... the year of the Biggest Bone
... in the history of the college ...
... the year Johnny Reb broke his wrist

... versy over Congressman Adam Clay-
... ton Powell, who was charged with
... keeping his wife, a resident of Puerto
... Rico, on a US government payroll
... the year few young men escaped
... the military draft ... the year Myra
... Murray became the Director of Student ... Activities ...

... the year radios aired such tunes
... "California Dreaming" (the Mamas
... and the Papas), "I'm a Believer" (the ... Monkees), "My Cup Runneth Over
... with Love" (Ed Ames), and "Love Is
... Here and Now You're Gone" (the ... Supremes) ... the year that started
... the development of a commuter-
... oriented "drag" on Cooper Street.
... three new shopping centers were ... added within two blocks of the cam... pus ...

... the year the college Concert Series included such artists as Mantovani, Van Cliburn, and Jerry Van Dyke ... the second year Sally Soldo represented UT at Arlington in the annual "Campus Talent" TV program sponsored by Bell Telephone Company ... the year college students echoed comedian Maxwell Smart's "Would You Believe?" and "Sorry about that." Student Activities also used the phrase as theme in the Homecoming parade — "Would You Believe ASC?" ...

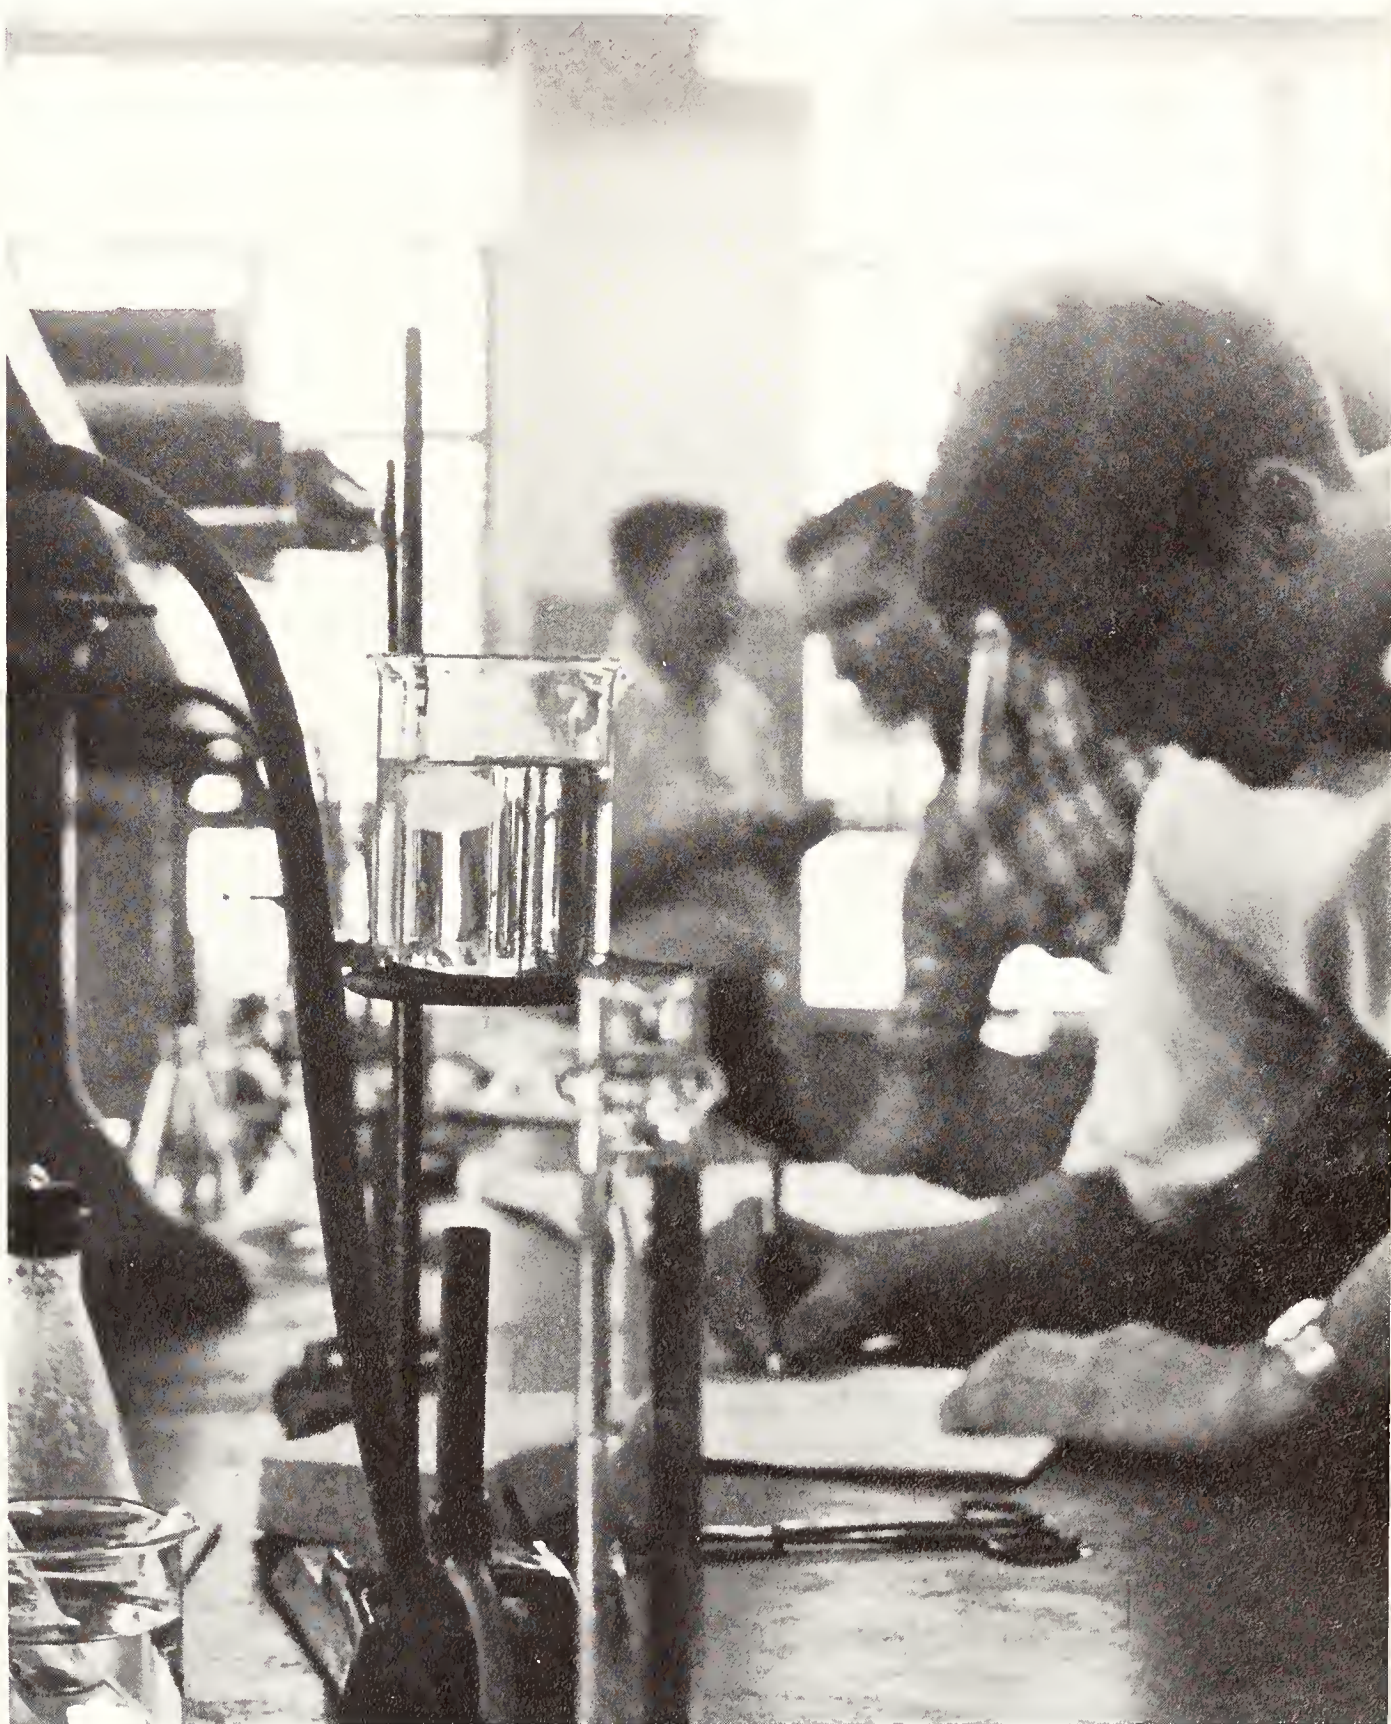

... the year the Association of College Union Conference was held at UT at Arlington ... the year thousands of General Motors employees were laid off because of a strike dispute in Mansfield, Ohio ... the year all trees in front of Davis Dorm were uprooted in accordance with the master plan for campus landscaping ... the year the Little Theatre presented "Tartuff" ... the year several faculty members and their wives organized the Arlington Drama Society and presented "Three Golden Monkeys", written by Dr. Steve Turner ...

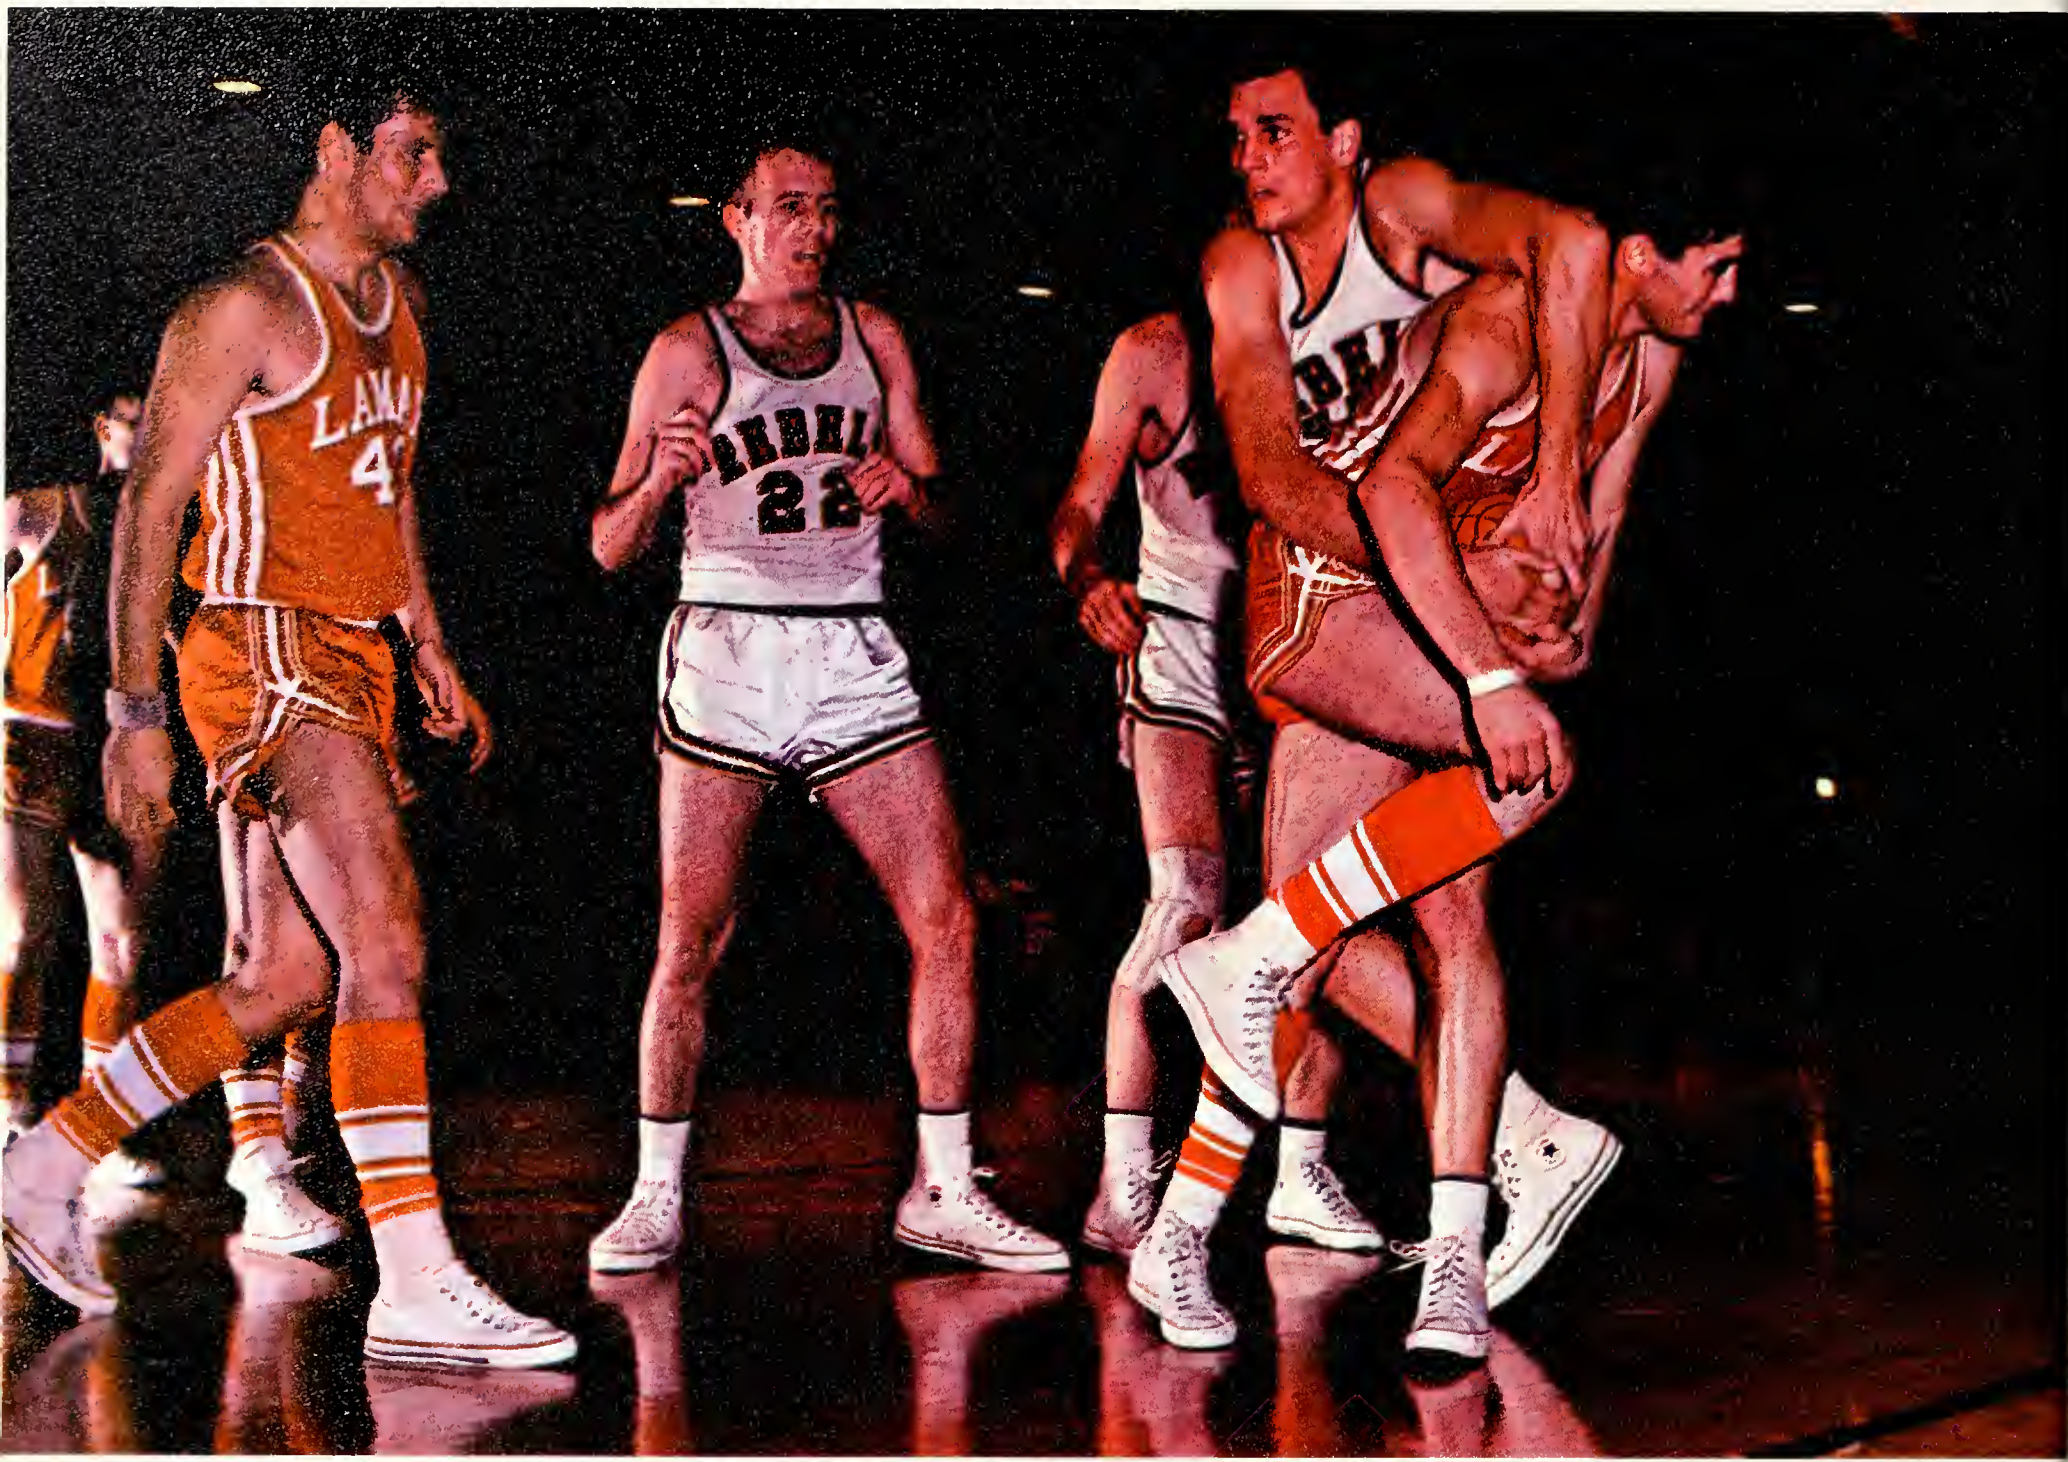

. . . the first year political clubs met on campus . . . the year the University of Texas at Arlington hosted the Urban Affairs Conference . . . the year cartoon king Walt Disney and actress Ann Sheridan died . . . the year movies "Dr. Zhivago", "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum", "Georgie Girl", and "The Sandlot" . . . the year the Administration Building was renovated with new desks, windows, and exterior doors, suspended ceilings, and central heating and air-conditioning . . . the year the Shorthorn advertised any special discounts to collegians at local eating places . . .

... the year UT at Arlington football player Kenneth Ozee won a "Little All-America" Award ... the first year University of Texas at Arlington had two All-American Swimming candidates ... the year UT at Arlington tied for the Southland Conference football championship ...

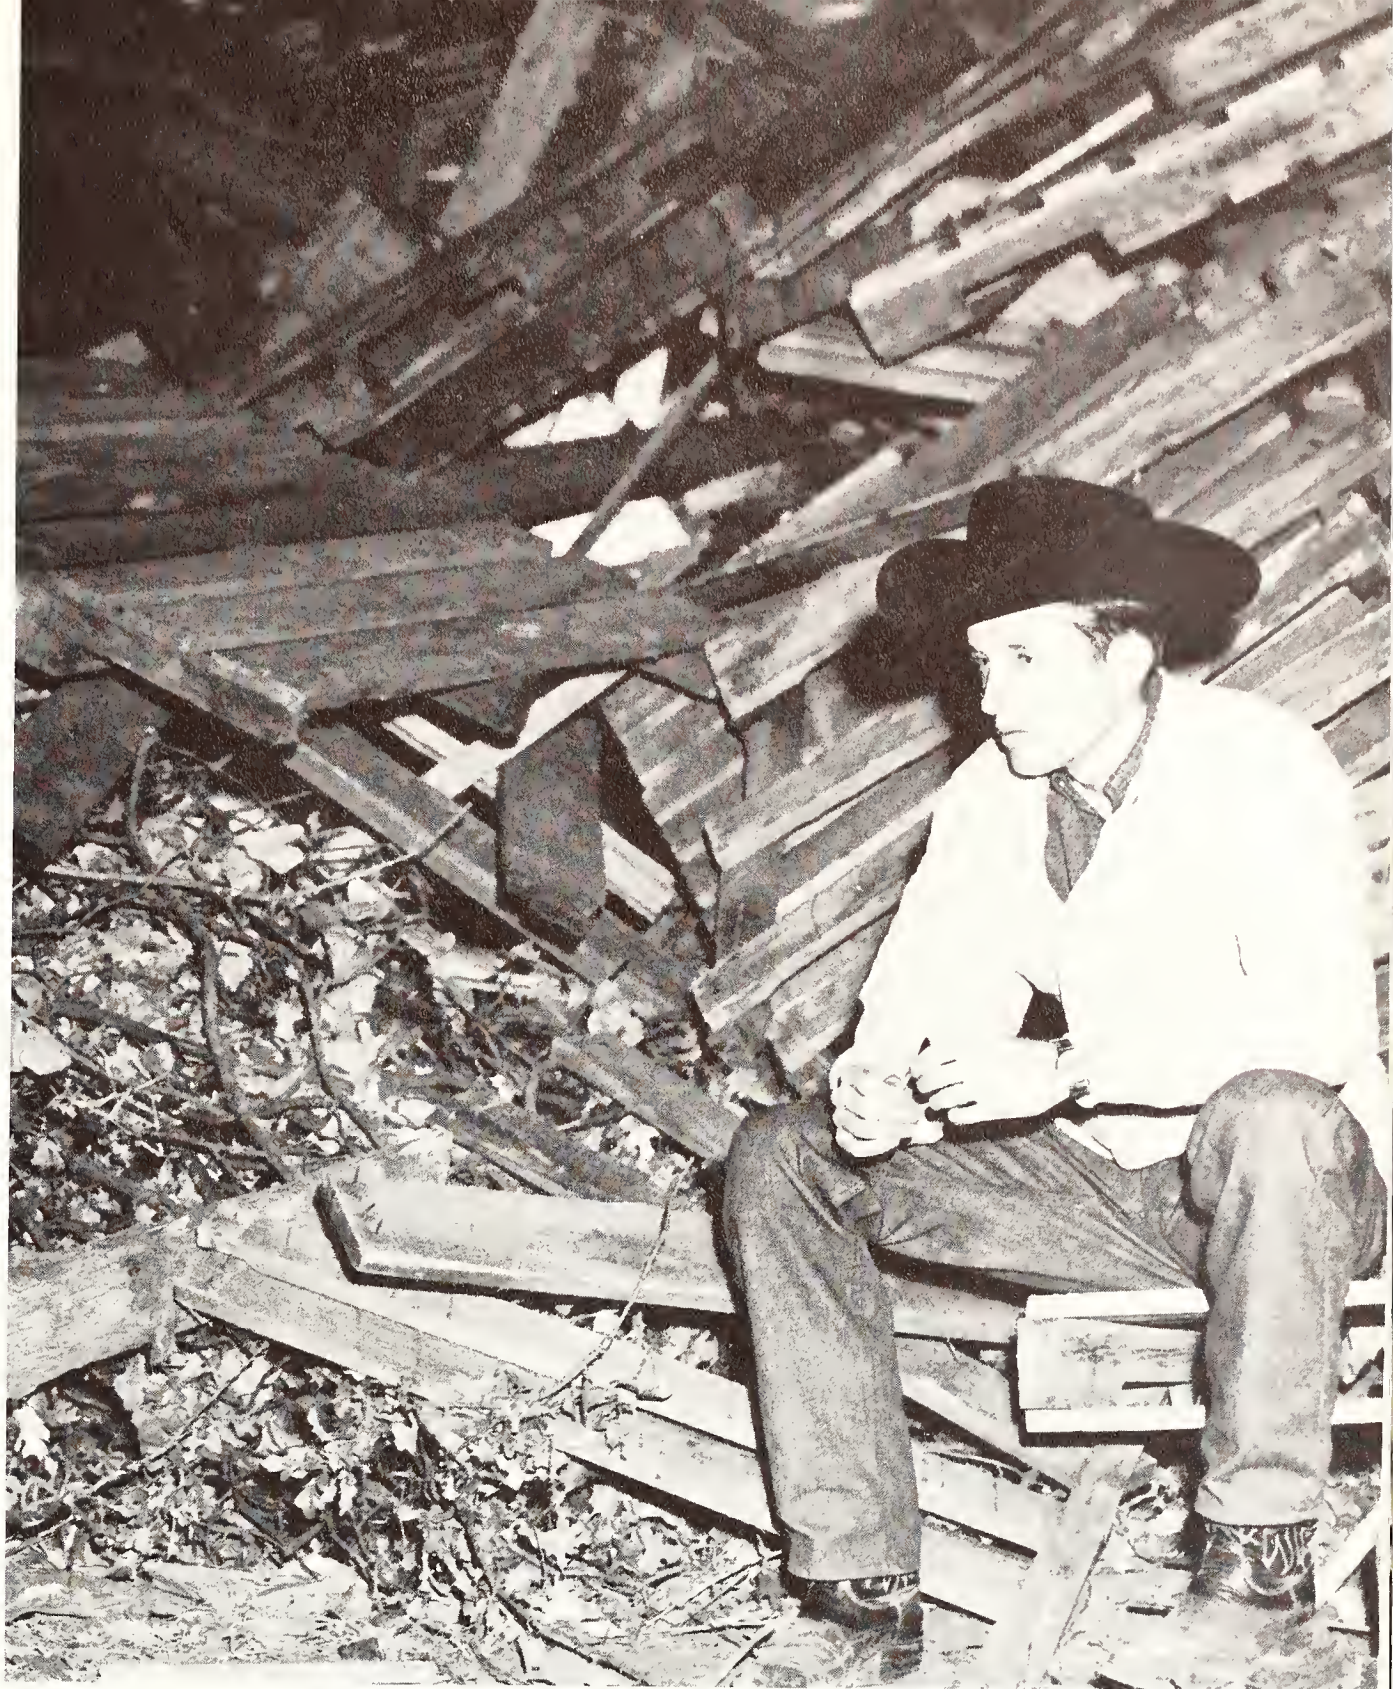

... the year crooner Frank Sinatra married 19-year-old Mia Farrow, a star of TV's "Peyton Place" ... the year Athletic Director "Chena" Gilstrap rode in the Homecoming parade with Chevrolet dealer Mayor Tom Vandergriff while crowds shouted with hilarity. Gilstrap in a roguish moment had slapped a "Texas is Ford Country" sticker on the mayor's bumper ...

... the Golden Anniversary of the Reville ... a year of upward and outward expansion ... a year of memorable moments ... a year of joy interspersed with tragedy.

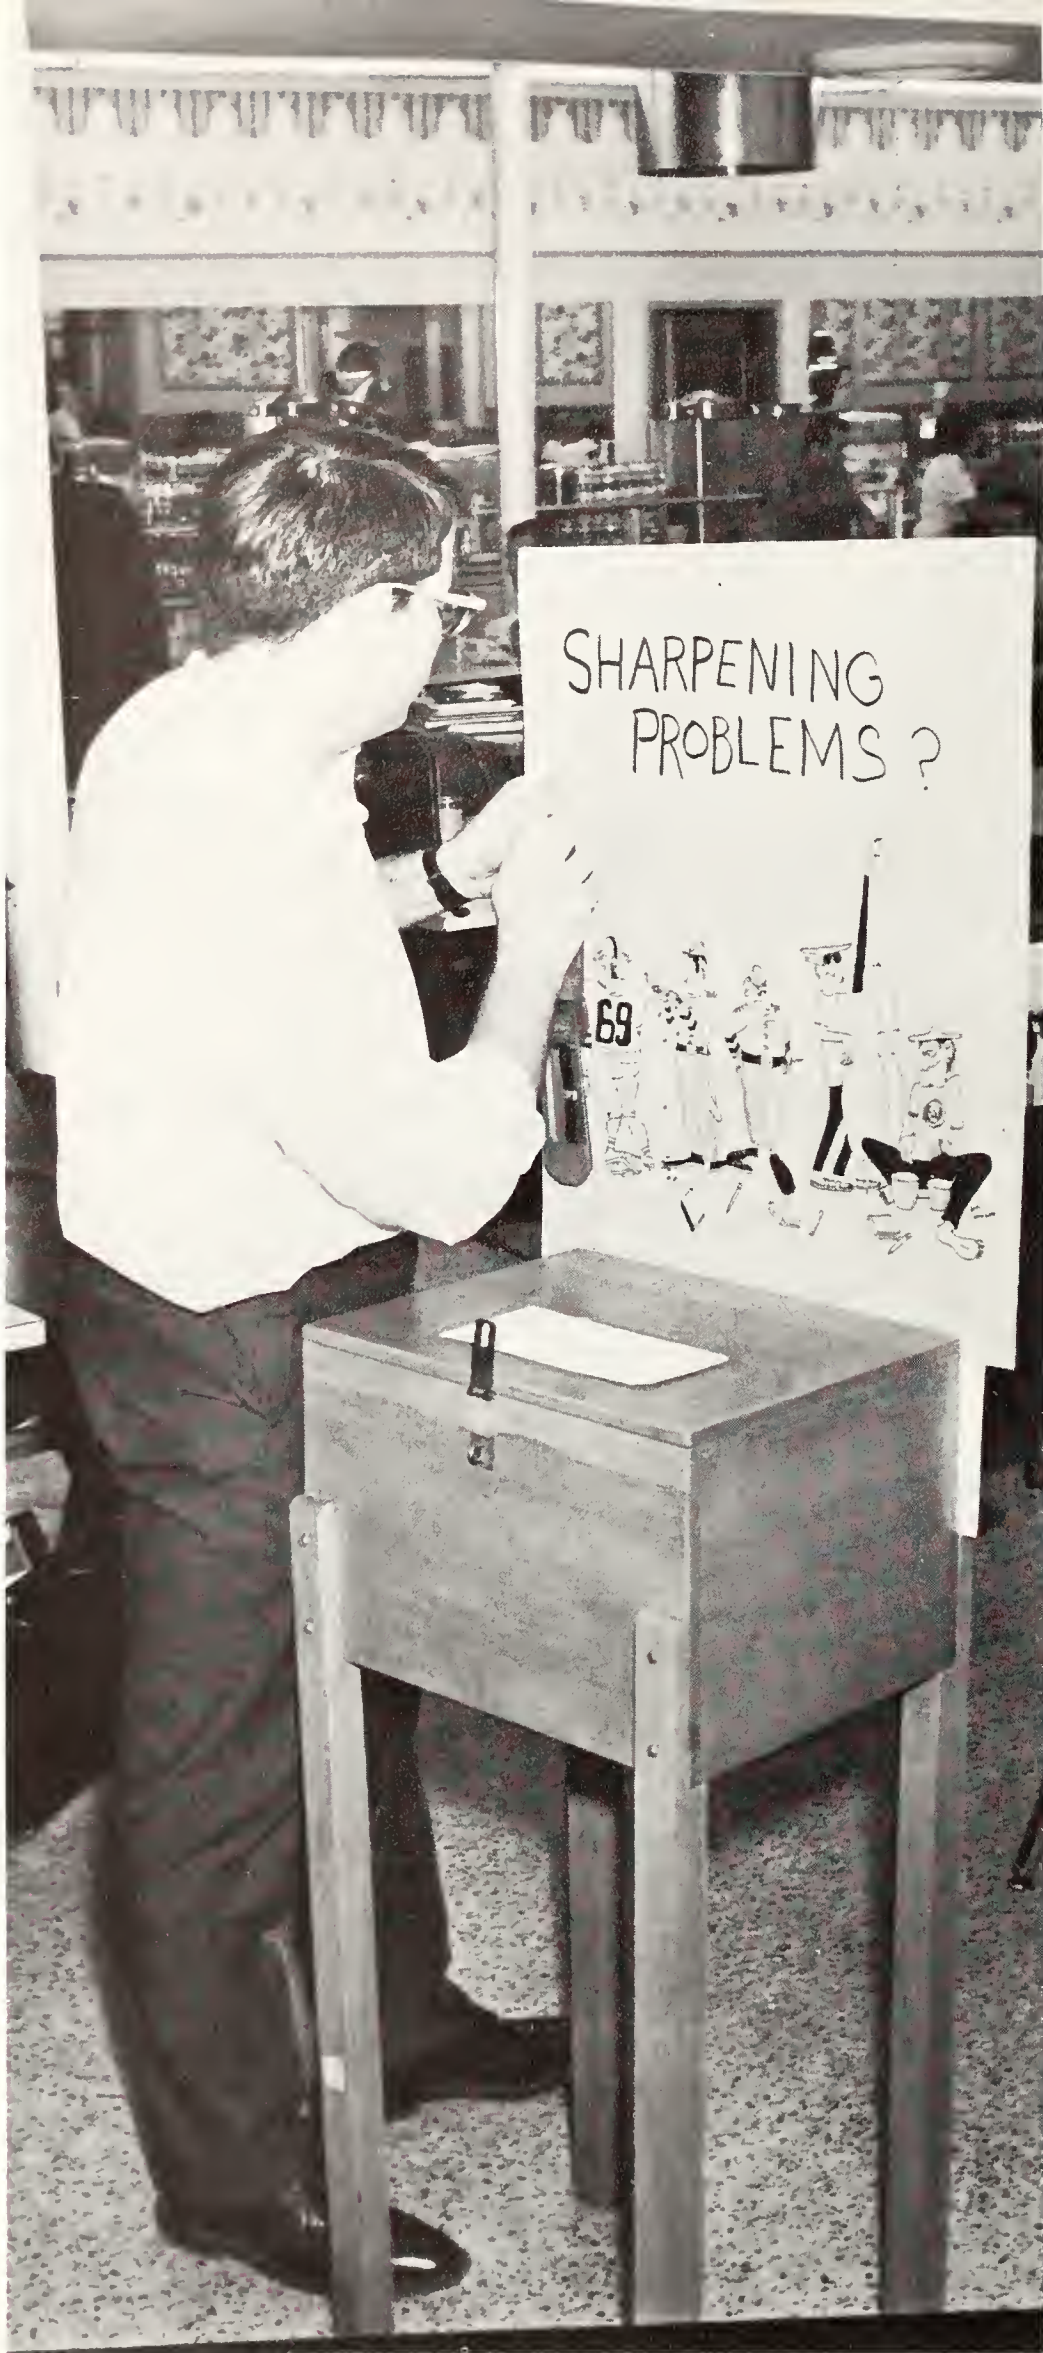

The Reville believes history will record the bittersweet season as a heritage year.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Executive Committee

Officers of Student Government also serve on the Executive Committee. They are Joey Sandifer, president; Richard Calfee, vice-president; Jan Mahaney, corresponding secretary; Sherry Penny, treasurer; and Jan Hart, parliamentarian.

The committee supervises Student Government activities and renders policy decisions. Another function is to select business to be brought before the organization as a whole.

R.E.D. Committee

Under the leadership of John Battle, the Research, Evaluation, and Development Committee investigates needs of the college community, recommends solutions, and evaluates the success of their measures.

Each year the committee determines the policy for who will publish the student directory. They also select the members for the Student-Faculty Relations Board and recommend students to serve on the campus traffic court. Efforts were successful in February to open recreational facilities of the Student Center on weekends, and a reception for National Merit finalists in the area was held again in the spring.

Communications Committee

Encouraging communication between campus organizations is the work of the Communications Committee, headed by Tony Hart in the fall and by Tommy Wallace in the spring.

Bulletin boards relaying organizational messages are maintained throughout the student center. The committee also coordinated the section on organizations in the student directory and sponsored Town Hall meetings, open forums held once each semester. The President's Reception was held again to inform administrators on campus activities and to spotlight common goals of the various organizations.

Campus Committee

General improvement and beautification of the campus is the purpose of projects carried out by the Campus Committee, headed by Steve Tipps. The group considered putting pencil sharpeners in classrooms and having street lights installed between the girls' dormitory and the library. They also made plans to set up bicycle racks, permanent map stands, and a sign board to announce important events.

Richard Calfee, Sherry Penny, Peter Haagan.

Finance Committee

Treasurer of the Executive Committee, Sherry Penny, is the chairman of the Finance Committee. Under their jurisdiction are matters involving finances for Student Government activities. The group determines the budget, keeps the books, and decides rules concerning money.

Charles Smithson, Jan Hart, Steve Higgs

Rules Committee

Serving as chairman of the Rules Committee is parliamentarian of Student Government, Jan Hart. Arbitration is the main function of the group in solving constitutional questions, interpretations of rules, and appeals from decisions from the election committee.

Susi Dana boosted Rebel Rousers and Student Government by purchasing both a freshman beanie and a Rebel flag.

Rebel Rousers sponsored the construction of a 50-foot Homecoming bonfire, largest in the school's history.

Rebel Rousers

As ASC spirit-boosters, Rebel Rousers organized last year to gather support for athletic contests, pep rallies, and other campus activities. A major undertaking this year was the construction of the largest Homecoming bonfire in the history of the school. Glen Wallace and Brian Robbins, directing the project, secured a crane to pile the wood 50 feet high. Organizations contributing the most wood were awarded a trophy and a spirit stick.

Members maintained a card section at football games to form a Rebel flag and to spell out "Go," "Rebs." and "ASC." They also sold refreshments at track meets.

David Mindrop served as president. Other officers were Doug Johnson, vice-president; Sherra Rayfield, secretary; and Karen Pollard, treasurer. The group assisted in freshman orientation, helped Student Government sell freshman beanies during registration, sold Rebel flags, and entered Old South games and Western Day activities. The club sponsors the election of Mr. and Miss Rebel Spirit.

Mr. & Miss Rebel Spirit

School spirit is the special interest of UT at Arlington cheerleaders. At each game they come on field to encourage enthusiastic support of Rebel fans for the University team. They watch the crowds closely from the very first game, especially the out-of-town ones, to see who is there and who most diligently supports the team with his yells.

The cheerleaders are searching for the one boy and the one girl who most typify Rebel Spirit. The chosen couple was named at the Homecoming Bonfire on November 10.

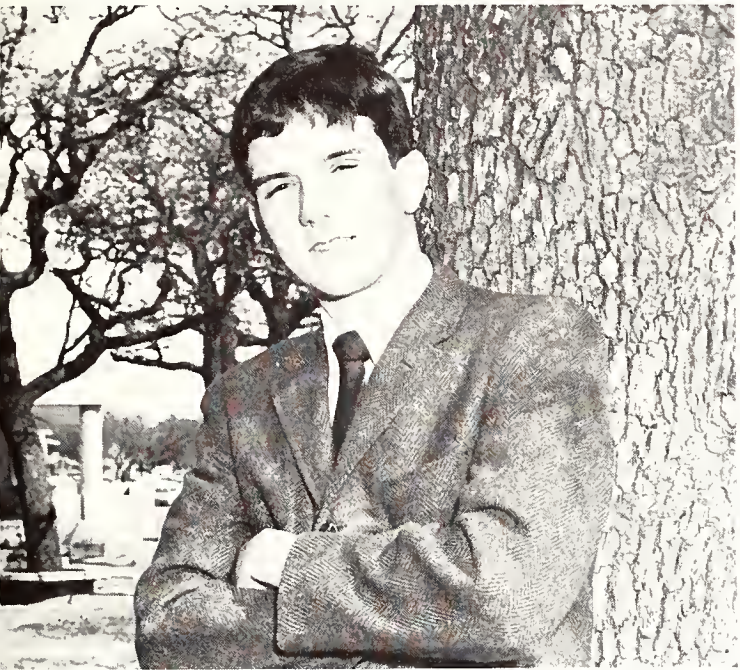

Miss Rebel Spirit is Donnavene Owens, a junior English major. Active in Avolonte, she represented her sorority in intramurals, Winter Olympics, Campus Canto, and Old South. She is also an enthusiastic Rebel Rouser. Donnavene sprained her knee twice this year in intramurals — once during powderpuff football and again in basketball. This is the kind of enthusiasm UT at Arlington cheerleaders wish to recognize.

Ken Terry received the Mr. Rebel Spirit honor. Like Donnavene, he is active in campus affairs. Ken played on the football team for four years. In his last year he was a starting offensive guard. Athletic Director Claude Gilstrap said, "Ken played football with the same determination . . . that made him Mr. Rebel Spirit." Since Ken's eligibility to play on the team has expired he has become an enthusiastic spectator at all athletic contests. Though not an official member of Student Government, he is regarded by some of his friends as a "permanent fixture" of that organization's activities.

Election Determines Freshman Officers

Freshmen were given their first chance to participate in campus elections this fall when they went to the polls to elect four officers from their class. Until this year their titles were more of an honorary distinction than responsible positions. However, freshmen officers this year made some headway in organizing their class. The four met with other freshmen and constructed a Homecoming float for their class. The title of their float was "Breaking the Chains of Bondage."

SAB Committees Sponsor Activities

SAB is the popular nickname for the Student Activities Board. It publishes a campus calendar and provides general activities information.

Barbara Williams heads the Executive Committee. Other officers are Cindy Roberts, first vice-president; Bruce Meyer, second vice-president; Eleanor Batchelder, secretary; and Marti Atkerson and Glenn Day, area advisors. Ralph Baldrige is photographer.

COLA (Council on Leadership Advancement) trains student leaders. Creativity is the key for the Exhibits Committee, which schedules displays on special interest and current events. The Fine Arts Committee sponsors Foreign Country Week and Fine Arts in Dimension, and the Hospitality Committee organizes receptions for campus visitors and sponsors a charm school.

Special Events Committee coordinates large all-school activities, such as Homecoming Parade and Old South Casino. Free movies and the Popular Artists Series are arranged by the Entertainment Committee. The Recreation Committee plans game tournaments and instruction programs, and the Levee Committee organizes dances. The ideas and Issues Committee brings lectures, films, and panel discussions to the campus.

SAB Holds Varied Events

Student Activities Board (SAB) sponsors cultural, social, recreational, and leadership programs. Council on Leadership Advancement (COLA) hosted the Association of Colleges Union Conference held here in December. More than 450 delegates from a three state area — Texas, Arkansas, and Louisiana — attended the Region XII ACU conference. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss ways to improve student activities on college campuses.

SAB's Fine Arts committee sponsored Holland Holiday Week in October. Activities began on Monday with the Miss Holland Contest. Diane Martin of Les Choisies was named official hostess for that week. The week's other activities included a Dutch lunch, an address by the Dutch Consulate-General, Holland games, and a semi-formal dinner and dance.

Homecoming Parade Initiates Exes Day

Many Rebel exes give support to the Homecoming activities.

Homecoming week in 1966 was full of activities. The action began Thursday night with the bonfire, under direction of the Recreation Committee and the Rebel Rousers. Following the bonfire, a discoteque type dance was held.

Friday the Special Events Committee judged the Homecoming Dorm Decorations competition according to the Homecoming theme, "Would You Believe . . . ASC?"

Saturday, November 12, was the day of the Homecoming game. The parade began at 12:00 noon. This year's parade lineup included 55 cars, 34 floats, five bands and six drill teams. Winners in the float competition were, in order, the Sociology Club, the Newman Club, and Koshari sorority.

Exes were not without representation in the Homecoming activities. Miss ASC, Johnny Reb, and the varsity team met with the ex-rebels at a reception held in their honor. The All College Review, presented annually by the exes, featured music by the ASC Lab Band, and songs and dances by talented exes and students.

The Ex-Students Association organized the Exes Reception held Saturday afternoon before the Homecoming game.

Many exes from the days when the school was called Grubbs Vocational College still attend the Homecoming events.

The dance held after the Bonfire boasted such bands as the "Outlaws", the "Uniques", and the "Sonics".

The highlight of Homecoming was the crowning of Patty Kalan as Miss Dixie Belle.

Snowball Elegance Christens Holidays

Nine hundred students crowded into the Ballroom December 10 for the annual Snowball. Those attending were given a special treat this year with the announcement of the Beauty and the Beast winners.

Students elect the Beauty and the Beast by donating pennies to the candidates of their choice. Sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, proceeds of the contest are spent by the fraternity for their service projects. This year's Beauty was Susan Gant, of Koshari sorority, and the Beast was Dale Smith.

They were presented at the Snowball, along with the other Beauty and the Beast candidates and the newly-elected Favorites. A reception was also held before the dance in honor of this group.

The Levee Committee of SAB decorated the Ballroom with angels, Santa Clauses, mistletoe, and the traditional white-flocked Christmas tree. The Galen Jeter Orchestra provided music at the all-school Christmas dance.

Attending the Snowball, Mary Huebner and LeRoy Garcia found the Beauty and the Beast plaques on display before the winners were announced.

All students who attended the Snowball were offered part of the decorations as a souvenir.

The Galen Jeter Orchestra provided soft music for the dance.

Professional photographers were on hand to take pictures of the couples.

'Old South' Events Rise with Tradition

The South rose again for UT at Arlington during the traditional Old South days, April 3-8. Action began Thursday at 11 a.m. with the Chi Chi Chi Hat Grab. Les Choisis, collecting 34 hats from Chi Chi Chi members, won the trophy.

"When Cotton Was King" was the theme featured at the "Cotton-Pickin'" Casino, complete with bar, dance hall girls, and all forms of gambling. Aegeidae fraternity was awarded the Best Fraternity Gambling Award; Jim Justice was named Best Individual Gambler.

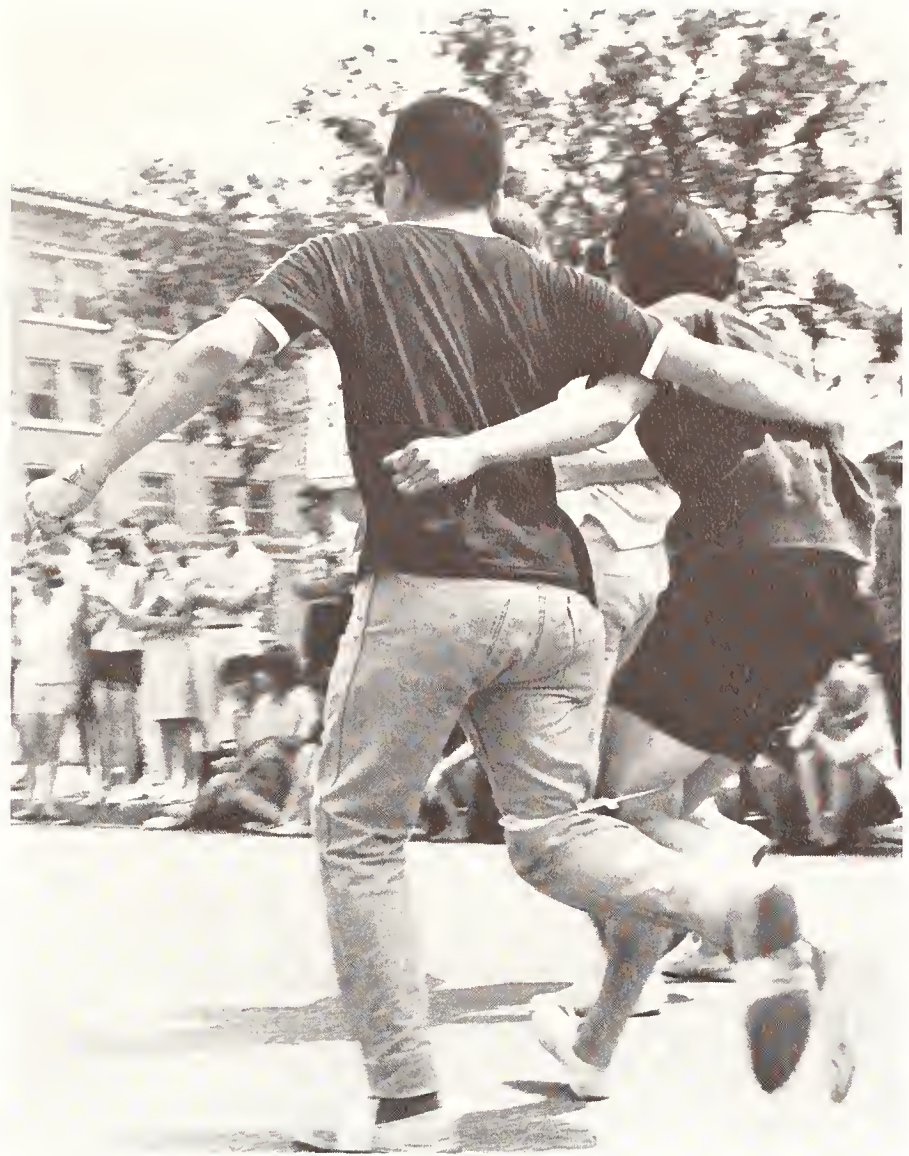

Sorority skits were presented later in the cafeteria. Pledges of Les Choisis presented the winning skit. Second place went to San Souci; third place to En Ami.

Festivities continued on Friday as fourteen UT at Arlington organizations opened their booths along Second Street. Alpha Sigma Chi's "Rebel Riverboat" booth took the first place trophy and a $15 cash award. Second place winner was the Newman Club, and third place went to Sigma Tau Delta.

Dr. Chuck Van Cleve delivered the traditional Secession Speech at noon. Old South Games were then played. Sorority winners were En Ami and Sans Souci. Alpha Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Beta tied in the fraternity division. Newman Club and Young Republicans captured top honors in the independents division. Winners in all events were announced at the Old South Ball held on Saturday night. The "Cotton Cotillion" theme of the ball brought Old South Days to a formal close.

Sean Horace Gillespie joins in the Delta Chi Omega event.

Fraternities and sororities paired off for the three-legged race.

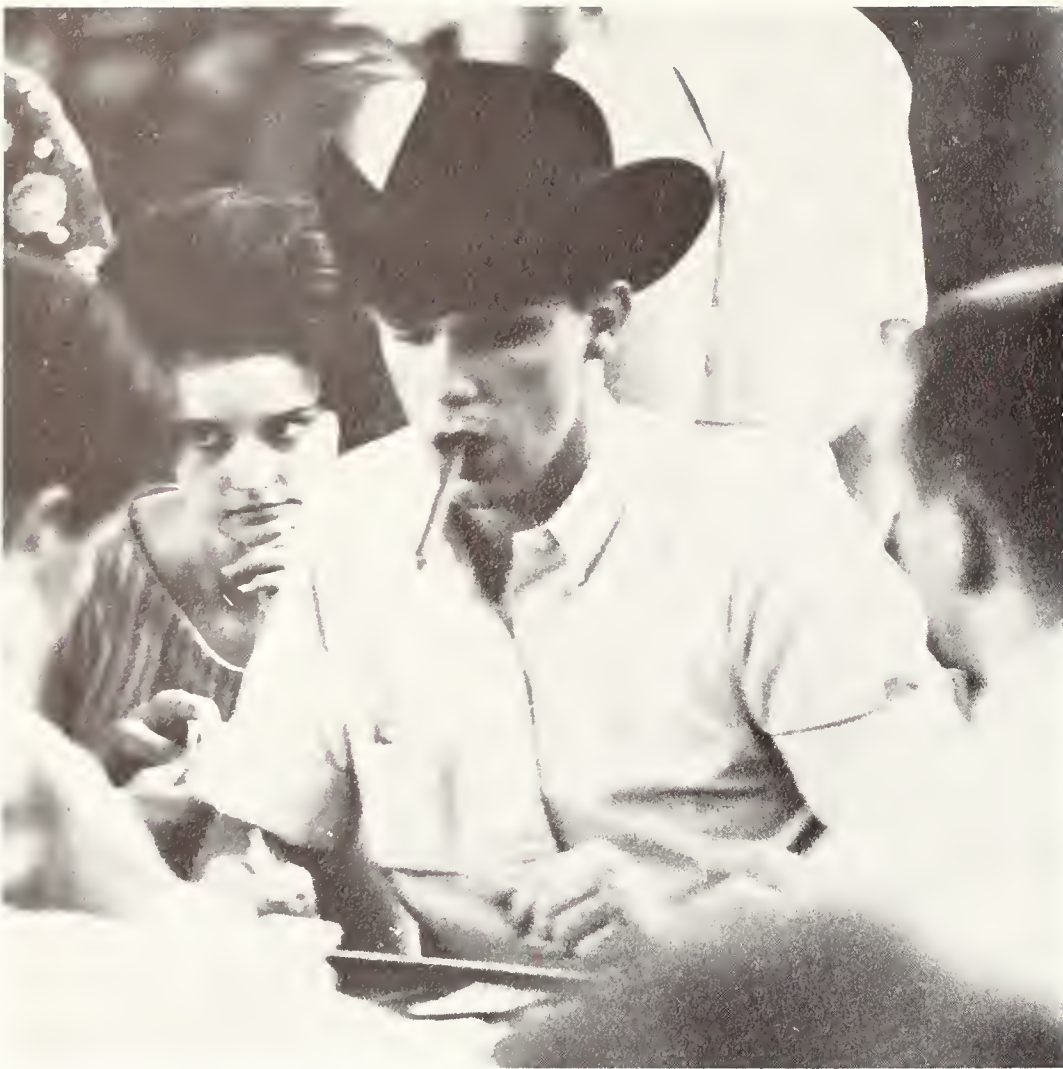

Delta Chi Omega's entry was the Old South Fair, in which baseballs were tossed to release a lever and drop a person from a platform into the water below.

After the games were over, weary sorority members rested by their booths.

Sans Souci took second place honors with their parody on "Gone With the Wind."

Deborah Batchelder, Linda Hamilton, Marilyn Boules, Linda Knowles, Jenny Baker, and Tina Barnett wear variations of campus social club names in their skit, which won third place for En Ami.

Kay Karr and Jamie Hobbs sing, dance, and tell jokes as part of the Zongola presentation.

Boll Weevil, Cow Paddy, and Jack star in Les Choisies' parody on Jack and the beanstalk, which took first place in the skit contest.

Entertainers Spice Year

Student Activities Board's Entertainment Committee, headed by Ken Arnold, books entertainers for the Pop Artist Series. The road show "Half a Sixpence", a musical comedy by Orsen Wells, played at the Auditorium October 28, and Jerry Van Dyke entertained March 17 with the Holiday Singers and the Lab Band. In April, Will Geer presented "An Evening's Frost", a dramatic reading featuring Anne Gee Byrd, Thomas Coley, and Jack Davidson. May featured a six-member jazz and blues band from Preservation Hall in New Orleans.

Arlington Concert Association sponsors the Concert Series, which this year brought the First Chamber Dance Quartet and baritone William Warfield to the campus. Pianist Van Cliburn played a varied selection of numbers to a sell-out crowd in October. In November, Mantovani, prominent orchestra leader, drew another sell-out crowd and two standing ovations for his performance.

ISC

ICC was reorganized last year as the Inter-Sorority Council. Each sorority is represented in the council by a senior delegate, a junior delegate, and the president. Of the 21 members, only the seven senior delegates cast votes.

ISC plans the rush activities for each semester. The council also governs the pledging, initiation and all other sorority activities. This year ISC brought two members from the National Panhellenic Council to talk with the sororities about national affiliation. Dean Thorpe and Mrs. Zoe Hess co-sponsor the Inter-Sorority Council.

IFC

Governing and co-ordinating the various fraternities at ASC is the responsibility of the Inter-Fraternity Council. The council is composed of the president and one representative from each of the clubs. IFC held an all-fraternity party in February. The council also accepted a new fraternity on campus — Sigma Phi Beta.

Dean Gillespie sponsors the Inter-Fraternity Council. Officers are Tom Roeber, president; Roger Farr, vice-president; David Bowman, recording secretary and treasurer; and David Watson, Judiciary Committee Chairman.

Avos Top Sorority In Winter Olympics

After a year's absence, the annual Alpha Sigma Chi Winter Olympics returned on November 17. Girls from each of the seven sororities competed in a series of events from which the overall winner received a trophy.

For the chariot and horse contest, sororities decorated a wagon and a tricycle with a horse head and raced them. The jousting event was entered by girls armed with cans of shaving cream. In the spoon dig, one girl from each sorority searched through a pile of flour for the spoon with the name of her club on it. Other contests included the musical tubs, the bat relay, the egg roll, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw, and Roman toga competition.

Winner of the Winter Olympics was Avolonte. Les Choisies was runner-up, and Sans Souci placed third.

Panel Judges Club Singsong

Competition in singing groups among sororities and among fraternities provided the fare for the second annual Campus Canto sponsored by Sigma Delta Phi on December 14. Profits from ticket sales went to the Fellowship Fund for graduate students.

Contestants were judged on how well they worked together as a group and how entertaining their presentation was during their allotted time of six minutes each. Winners, determined by a panel of judges, were Avolonte and Alpha Sigma Chi. Sororities placing second and third were Zongola and En Ami. Tri Chi was the runner-up fraternity.

Other featured performers included the Holiday Singers of the ASC music department; Fred Dobbs, hypnotist; Rush Robinson, pianist; and Mac Martin, master of ceremonies.

Chi Chi Chi

Tau Delta Tau

Taudelt was reorganized last year as Tau Delta Tau. Last year's membership of 13 has grown into 33 this year. Activities in which Tau Delta Tau participated this year include the Homecoming Float contest, all intramural sports, the wood-gathering contest for the bonfire, and the Old South Booth contest. The fraternity also held an anniversary party.

Tau Delta Tau's Best Pledge for 1966 is Freddy Drennon. The holder of the highest grade point average in the fraternity is David Reed. Tau Delta Tau took third place honors last year both in the Old South Booth contest and for baseball in intramurals. Club sweetheart is Nancy Cox, the freshman class secretary. Mr. Stephen Oates is Tau Delta Tau sponsor. Officers are Bennie Jeter, president; David Reed, vice-president; Mike Choate, secretary; and Freddy Drennon, treasurer.

Sigma Delta Phi

One of the main functions of Sigma Delta Phi's 28 members this year was the sponsoring of the Campus Canto. However, this year the fraternity invited all fraternities to participate. Previously only sororities took part in the Christmas-time singsong. Sigma Delta Phi president Terry O'Neal awarded the trophies to the winners. Revenue from Campus Canto ticket sales went to the Graduate Students' Fellowship Fund. Sigma Delta Phi is also the owner of the Rebel Flag displayed at football games.

Members were honored in 1965-66 by winning second place in the Homecoming float competition and second place for their Old South booth. Sigma Delta Phi also holds the Scholarship Award given by the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Crimson and navy blue are the colors worn on the blazers of the 28 Sigma Delta Phi members. The fraternity took in 11 pledges. Sponsored by Mr. Wendell Knox, Sigma Delta Phi elected Sharon Terrill as their sweetheart. Sharon is Miss Arlington and the first runner-up as Miss Texas. Sigma Delta Phi officers include Terry O'Neal, president; Gene Bibb, vice-president; Ray Moore, secretary; Jerry Luke, treasurer; and Dennis Wilson, social director.

Alpha Sigma Chi

Alpha Sigma Chi, with 60 members, is the largest fraternity on campus. Alfasig, as the fraternity used to be called, owns the victory bell and victory wagon and, with these, promotes school spirit at the football games. The fraternity also fosters a Korean orphan named Olympia. On November 17 Alpha Sigma Chi held their annual Winter Olympics of Roman nature. On the night following the games, the fraternity held a Winter Olympics Dance, announcing the winners of the various contests and the overall winner. They also sponsored a Christmas party for the Dallas Juvenile Home.

Cheerleader Freddie Jones is an Alpha Sigma Chi, as are ASC Favorites Buddy Lear and Robert Hale. Besides these individual honors, the fraternity as a whole has distinguished itself. Alpha Sigma Chi was the 1965-66 Intramural champion. They also took the fraternity trophy in the 1966 Campus Canto, sponsored by Sigma Delta Phi.

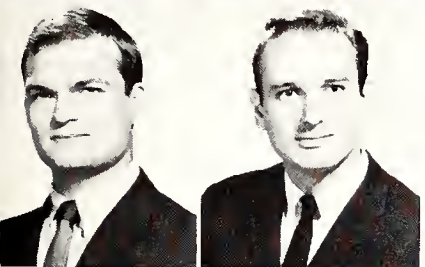

Cheerleader Susie Wine, Avolonte, is the fraternity's sweetheart. Sponsors are Dr. Robert Carter and Dr. Scott Poage. Directing Alpha Sigma Chi's activities are Garry Goodin, president; Ronnie Mason, vice-president; Royce Bush, secretary; Ken Kautz, treasurer; and Ted Carmack.

Delta Chi Omega

Delta Chi Omega was one of the first social clubs on campus. The fraternity, formerly called Sakkara, now has 36 members. Fall Rush produced Delta Chi Omega with 18 pledges. Last year Delta Chi Omega won second place in intramural football. Besides winning the Sportsmanship Award, several Delta Chis won intramural fraternity letters. Colors for the fraternity are black and gold.

Linda Pendergrass, elected as Delta Chi Omega's sweetheart, was one of the five finalists in the Miss Arlington Contest and, on campus, an Avolonte fall pledge. Mr. Ken Coffelt is the fraternity's faculty sponsor. Officers for the club are Howard Daniels, president; Larry McFarland, vice-president; Gari Ruggles, secretary-treasurer.

Mary Huebner
Sweetheart

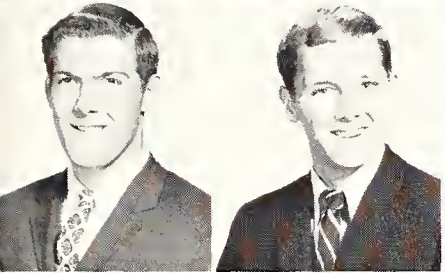

Organized as Phi-Eps in November of 1964, Phi Delta Epsilon is the newest fraternity at ASC. Even though a young fraternity, Phi Delta Epsilon has taken a large part in campus activities. In intramurals last year the fraternity won the swimming competition. This year Phi Delta Epsilon won the Homecoming spirit award by gathering the most wood for the Homecoming bonfire. To increase school spirit, Phi Eps and their pledges are remodeling a Volkswagon to be used as a "Welcome Wagon" at all pertinent campus functions. They are painting the bus burgundy and gold, their club colors.

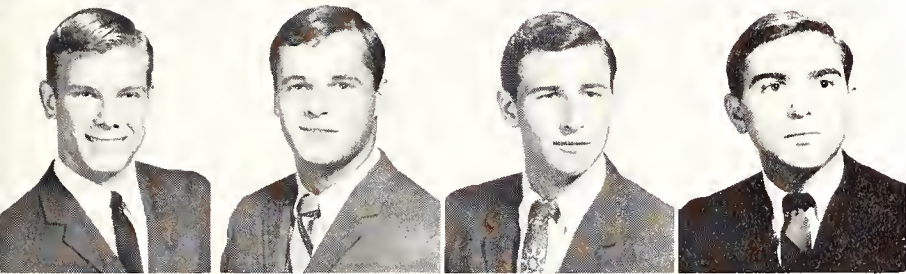

Distinguished Phi Eps are David Watson, who is not only head cheerleader but also an ASC Favorite, and Ken Arnold, head of the Entertainment Committee of SAB. Officers for the 32-member fraternity are David Watson, president; John Morawski, vice-president; Jimmy Wrenn, secretary; Jimmy Pritchett, treasurer; and Jeff Miller, pledge master. Dr. Charles Van Cleve is sponsor. Phi Delta Epsilon elected Mary Huebner, who is also Miss ASC, as their sweetheart.

Aegeidae

Second-largest fraternity on campus, Aegeidae was organized in September of 1963. Club colors are blue and grey. This year the fraternity put in time and effort toward an Orphan's Christmas Party. Aegeidae's Fall Smoker produced the fraternity 16 fall pledges. Among Aegeidae's members is Joey Sandifer, the president for 1966-67 of ASC's Student Government. Richard Calfee serves two organizations in vice-presidential capacities: Student Government and his own fraternity. Another distinguished Aegeidae is David Bowman, an ASC cheerleader. Joey Sandifer and David Bowman were also voted in fall elections as ASC Favorites.

Mr. Ronald Foster is Aegeidae's faculty sponsor. The fraternity elected Sue Grant as their sweetheart. The 45-member fraternity is directed by Tom Trostel as president. Other officers are Richard Calfee, vice-president; Jan Wallace, secretary; Andy Howard, treasurer; and Garth Hodge, pledge trainer.

Coeds in blazers of royal blue and gold are members of Koshari Sorority. Koshari's Homecoming float, "We're Still Rebs," won the third place trophy in the Homecoming parade.

Honored Koshari members are Ginger Fulenwider, Staff Sweetheart of ROTC and a Reveille Beauty; Jennifer Stephen, who won the Sportsmanship trophy for Winter Olympics; and Susan Gant, an ASC Favorite. Susan also succeeded Ginger as Beauty in the APO Beauty and the Beast Contest, which made the trophy a permanent possession of Koshari.

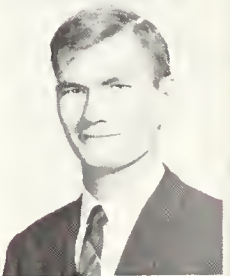

Heading the club are Ginger Fulenwider, fall president, and Mary Ellen Venturi, spring president. Mrs. Bertie Acker and Miss Madeline Hill co-sponsor the sorority. Koshari beaux are Ken Sargent, Jerry Attaway, and Tony Narvaez.

Karuso Pteros

As the newest sorority on campus, Karuso Pteros has 12 members this year. In keeping with a precedent they set last year, KP's again this year established a college blood bank. Distinguished Karuso Pteros members are Barbara Sury, elected to Student Government and a member of Sigma Tau Delta; Evelyn Hodges, a member of Phi Kappa Theta; Penny Cotton and Eileen McCluskey, dorm counselors; and Karen Pollard, a majorette. Jerri Campbell is the vice-president of ISC and a member of Tau Beta Sigma, the national band service sorority, along with Marti Maber and Joan Crist.

Rusty Russell is the Karuso Pteros beau and the sponsors are Miss Anna Ryan and Miss Donna Christopher.

Les Choisies

Second largest sorority on campus, Les Choisies has as its motto "Let Friendship Prevail." Les Choisies distinguished itself this year by winning the Homecoming Spirit Stick and the second place trophy in the Alpha Sigma Chi Winter Olympics. As a charity project, Lacey's collected clothing and sent it to Korean orphans.

Two Lacey's hold the top campus coed honors: Mary Huebner, who is Miss ASC, and Patty Kalan, Miss Dixie Belle. Mary is also Phi Delta Epsilon Sweetheart and was presented as queen at the first Chi Chi Chi party of the year, and Patty is a Rebel cheerleader. Cheerleader Cindy Coulson, like Barbara Stuart, is a Reveille Beauty, and, along with Rene DeMaris, an ASC Favorite. Barbara Stuart was also one of the five finalists in the Miss Arlington Pageant. Other distinguished Lacey's are Lynne Easter, Sigma Pi Epsilon Sweetheart; and fall pledges Jean Heidt, winner of the Six Flags scholarship, and Wanda Downing, "Miss December" in the Shorthorn. The 33 Lacey's are sponsored by Miss Dolores Holder and Mrs. Jeanne Ford.

En Ami

Out of the last seven years, En Ami has taken the Scholarship trophy four times and finally won it permanently last spring. En Ami also won third place in the Campus Canto. The club won the Old South trophy for 1966. Several En Ami members also took individual honors on campus. Karen Marazinni is Deputy Corps Sweetheart; Military Sweethearts are Eleanor Batchelder, Susan Behnke, and Sally Soldo. Sally is also a cheerleader, a finalist for Miss Dixie Belle, and one of the five national finalists in the Miss Cheerleader, U.S.A. contest. Barbara Williams is president of the Student Activities Board.

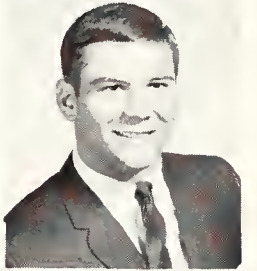

En Ami sponsored a Christmas party and a field trip for the Fort Worth School for the Deaf. Green and White are En Ami's colors, and George Medlin is beau. Sponsoring the club are Mrs. Ernestine Sewell and Mrs. Robert L. Williamson. Martha Wolfskill is president; Ivanka Toborsky, vice-president; Ann Reagan, secretary; and Susan Behnke, treasurer.

Sans Souci

Organized in 1932, Sans Souci is the second oldest sorority on campus. Sans Souci took third place honors in Alpha Sigma Chi's Winter Olympics this year. Working with Circle K, the Soucis sponsored a "Toys for Tots" program, sending gifts to a nearby orphanage.

Outstanding members include Debbie Maddox, ASC Favorite; Beverly Riggall, Kathy Cox, and Sharon Terrill, Reveille Beauties. Sharon Terrill also holds the Miss Arlington title and is first runner-up to Miss Texas. Senior Jackie Moe is the regional vice-chairman of the Associated College Union, and was in charge of the Region XII ACU conference hosted by ASC. Several Soucis are sweethearts for different organizations on campus: Lynn Petrelli for the Rifle Team, Vivian Bauer for Circle K, Sheryl Stewart for Alpha Phi Omega, and Sharon Terrill for Sigma Delta Phi.

Zongola

Zongola, with colors of maroon and white, numbers 28 this year. Members participated in the Alpha Phi Omega's party for the mentally retarded children at the Denton State School and also sponsored a Christmas party at the Pilgrim Rest Home in Dallas.

Besides their activities, Zongola holds several campus honors. The club won second place in the Campus Canto. Arlo Jo Payne is president of the Lipscomb Dorm Council and Tau Beta Sigma, the national band service sorority. Dorothy Smith is the vice-president of the Student Education Association; Toni Hart, chairman of the Communication Committee of Student Government; and Nita Murray, one of the 14 elected representatives in Student Government. Phyllis Davis won third place in the Beauty and the Beast Contest and second place in the Miss Holland contest. Miss Dallas of 1965, Evelyn Seibert, was selected as the Best-Dressed Coed last year.

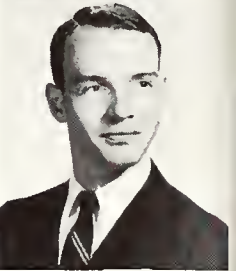

Mrs. Neita Flenniken and Miss Mary Devenport are the faculty sponsors for Zongola. The sorority's beau is Tom Trostel. Officers are Jill Jamieson, fall president; Linda Barr, fall vice-president; Dorothy Smith, fall vice-president and spring president; Ginger Dean, secretary; Sherry Felscher, fall treasurer; and Kay Karr, spring treasurer.

MSC

The Methodist Student Center offers fellowship for Methodists on campus, credit courses in religion, and non-credit lay-theological studies. The group sponsors Friday noon luncheons and Tuesday night suppers with programs, and has two weekend conferences a year.

Rev. Ken Blackford sponsors the Methodist Student Center. The steering committee of six officers consists of Dennis Burdette, Marcia Elliott, Carol Halwes, Jan Hart, Jack Roberts, and Bill Shepard.

Members of the Methodist Student Center listen to speaker Carter Boren.

The MSC offers special speakers for the Friday noon luncheon.

Rosemarie Bowman, Buddy Spiegel, and Diane Rush await the food at the BSU's annual Christmas Banquet.

Officer Jerry Bass and his date Millie Henderson entertain Mike Graham and Terresa Edington before the dinner.

BSU

With 150 members, the Baptist Student Union participates in state conventions, leadership training conferences, and Friday night missions at Eastland Street Baptist Church. The group meets from 12-12:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and from 6-6:30 on Tuesday and Thursday nights for vespers.

Serving on the executive council are Earnest Stone, president; Anita Prichard, vice-president; and Millie Henderson, secretary. Other officers are Carol Hart, missions chairman; Darlene White, summer missions chairman; Tommy Stone, social chairman; Buddy Spiegel, music chairman; Tim Morris, vespers chairman; Woody Mabry, enlistment chairman; Margie Montgomery, publicity chairman; Pam Arfman, devotional chairman; Beverly Mickle, student center chairman; and Jerry Bass, evangelism and study chairman. Staff members are Rev. Dan Boling, director; Don Akin, assistant director; and Linda Benton, secretary.

Bible Chair

Besides providing a building for recreation and relaxation, the Church of Christ Bible Chair serves as the central office for the religion department and offers accredited religion courses. An expanding library is also provided. Activities include daily noon devotionals, luncheons, frequent retreats, and a Monday night visitation program.

Director for the Church of Christ Bible Chair is William S. Harper. He is assisted in his work by Paul Phillips.

Singing is always part of the daily devotionals at the Church of Christ Bible Chair.

Third row: David Giddings, Ron Bolton, Dan Hawkins, Wayne Lingecum, Ron McGregor, Brad Burke, Ronnie Dove, Argyle Tucker.

Scientists

One of eight religious organizations on campus to provide fellowship and spiritual instruction for its members is the Christian Science Student Organization. The group meets weekly under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Sparrow, sponsor, and Wesley Flinn, co-sponsor. Special study sessions, speakers, and discussion groups provide members with a variety of programs.

A yearly project of the Christian Scientists is to supply and distribute literature, which includes maintaining a rack of information on Christian Science in the Student Center lobby.

Newman Club

Since 1959, the Newman Club has offered religious programs, socials, and fellowship for Catholics on campus. Two hundred members, 75 of whom are active, meet five times a month and take part in all intramural sports. This year they placed second with their Homecoming float, and their Bowling Team won the Independent League.

Chaplain for the group is Father Flusche, and sponsor is Dr. Fairchild. Officers are Daniel Bump, president; David Shipman, vice-president; Elizabeth Einhaus, secretary; Hank Crouch, treasurer; Barbara Gostomski, historian; and Paul Schattmann, reporter. Committee chairmen are Freda Jones, religious; and Loren Hart, building fund.

Front row: Henry A. Crouch, treasurer; Freda Jones, religious and cultural committee chairman; Elizabeth Einhaus, secretary; Sharon Pannell, membership chairman; Barbara Gostomski, historian. # PUBLICATIONS

Arlington Review

Over $600 in prize money was divided among students who had winning entries in the fall and spring Arlington Review literary contests. Each semester, the Review conducts a contest to secure top entries in a number of categories, and the winners receive priority for publication.

Faculty members from the departments of English, foreign language, history, sociology, philosophy, and art judge the contest. Sponsoring the publication are Miss Alberta Harrington and Dr. Cothburn O'Neal of the English department and Ernest Leisner, student publications advisor. Judi Dunnihoo, as editor, was assisted by Bruce Meyer, associate editor, and Dick Galliher, art editor.

Reveille

Securing pictures, laying out pages, and composing copy are not the only tasks in developing a yearbook. The Reveille staff also arranges interviews, sponsors the Reveille Beauty Contest, and follows campus activities to capture both the typical and the unusual which tell the story of the year.

Eight staff members were employed this year to create a 400-page yearbook which gives an overview of the 1966-67 activities at ASC. The Texas Intercollegiate Press Association judged the 1965 book first place, and the Associated Collegiate Press awarded the 1966 book a first class honor rating.

Shorthorn

As students crisscross the campus on Fridays copies of the Shorthorn, the campus newspaper, rapidly disappear from their stacks. Eight thousand issues are printed weekly with features, sports news, editorials, reports of past activities, and information of upcoming events.

Eleven staff members receive a combined monthly salary of $410, and three more work on commission. Together they turned out 26 regular issues and, for the first time, a special registration issue distributed to freshmen during summer orientation sessions.

In 1966 the newspaper earned an overall third place rating in the Texas Interscholastic Press Association, falling only two points behind a first place position.

Army Directs ROTC Program

Captain Warren Underwood uses a sandbox to train Cadets Christopher Mills and Bill Cain in battlefield tactics.

Through the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps program instituted at ASC, students are provided military leadership training and an opportunity to earn commissions as Army officers. Freshman and sophomore courses offer instruction in basic military subjects, military history, weapons, equipment, and leadership techniques. Juniors and seniors train in military techniques, logistics, administration, teaching methods, leadership techniques, and the exercise of command.

For one hour per week, the cadets attend a Leadership Laboratory designed to acquaint them with actual military situations. Active drill and training exercises are carried on at Randol Mill Park.

Corps Sweetheart — Linda Hamilton

Surprise overcomes Karen Marazzini as she is announced Deputy Sweetheart . . . and Linda Hamilton as she is revealed as Corps Sweetheart.

Cadets Select Queen To Represent Corps

Military cadets, clad in their Winter Green or Dress Blue uniforms, escorted their dates to the Military Ball to witness the crowning of the 1966-67 Corps Sweetheart, Miss Linda Hamilton. Sandy Barnes Stepp, last year's Corps Sweetheart, traveled from her present home in Kansas to crown the new Sweetheart. Miss Hamilton was also awarded the honorary rank of Lieutenant Colonel and a dance was performed in her honor. Like Linda, in her first year as a ROTC Sweetheart, Miss Karen Marazinni was crowned Deputy Sweetheart.

Decorated with an oriental theme, the Military Ball began at 7:30 P.M. with a receiving line, whose members were introduced to the guests by Cadet Raymond Jolissant, Battalion Aide. The receiving line consisted of the head of the Military Science Department, Col. Charles Johnson and his wife; the Academic Dean for Liberal Arts, Dr. Charles Green and his wife; and the Corps Commander, Cadet Charles Cannon and his wife. Music was supplied by the Danny Burke Band. Ken Sargent, President of the Officers's Club, emceed the presentation of Sweethearts and the coronation of Corps Sweetheart and Deputy Sweetheart for the Military Ball, sponsored by the Officer's Club.

Linda Hamilton, a little teary-eyed, smiles to the cadets who elected her Corps Sweetheart, while emcee Ken Sargent looks on.

Pistol, Rifle Events Present Competition

Representing ASC in various smallbore pistol and rifle competitions are the 25 members of the Pistol and Rifle Teams.

Shooting with five boys to a team, the Rifle Team entered two Fourth Army Area competitions and seven Postal Matches this year. From the Oklahoma State University Invitational Rifle Match on October 18, the team returned with a third place trophy and an individual who fired the highest score in the match to set a new national record. Lanny Bassham's score of 1158 of a possible 1200 points is the highest score ever fired by a civilian in an International Shooting Union Match modified by National Rifleman's Association Rules. Team captain for the group is Cadet Donald Cranford; faculty sponsor is SFC James Sawyer; and sweetheart is Lynn Petrelli.

With equipment furnished by the government, the Pistol Team offers membership to anyone interested, including girls. The group enters postal matches throughout the year, participates in invitational meets, and competes with the Air Force Academy. Members of the first team are Richard Jones, David Wood, Butch Walker, Steve Martin, and John Hoaldrige. David Wood is master shooter and student coach, and Richard Jones serves as expert and team captain. Sweetheart is Susan Behnke, who last year was named outstanding college coed freshman shooter. Faculty advisor is SFC Lee Harville.

Select Cadets Form Precision Drill Team

ASC's Sam Houston Rifles is composed of cadets in the military department who practice precision drill sequences on their own time as an extracurricular activity. Chosen on the basis of skill, the Sam Houston Rifles, known as the Jodies, number 14 this year. Recruits with a 1.0 grade average are elected by the corp members on the basis of the skill which they display in their precision drill.

Established in 1933, the Sam Houston Rifles have maintained the distinction of being without peer in southwest drill competition. The Jodies engage in drill competition during the spring semester with LSU and San Antonio. Last spring the Sam Houston Rifles won the competition in the Fiesta Flambeau. During the fall semester the Jodies march in the games' half-time exercises, serve as honor guard for Homecoming, and march in the Tyler Rose Festival Parade.

Sergeant Warren Underwood serves the Jodies as faculty advisor, a position recently vacated by Captain John W. Joyce. The team commander for the Sam Houston Rifles is Captain Edward H. Thompson.

Insurgents

Formed to train cadets in fundamental insurgency and counterinsurgency tactics, history, and techniques, the Insurgent Team is in its fourth year on campus. Eight members and 17 recruits concentrate on ambush and field patrol through classroom instruction and Saturday morning field maneuvers. As the voluntary insurgents reach proficiency, they carry out field problems against an organized force.

ASC's Homecoming Bonfire was placed under the protective guard of this group from 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. on the night before the game. Any prospective arsonists were undoubtedly frightened off by these insurgents. The 25 members are led by Faculty Advisor Major Reese; Commanding Officer Cadet David John Skipper, Jr.; and Personnel and Supply Officer, Cadet Sam Middlebrook.

HONORARIES

Phi Kappa Theta

With 2.5 grade point averages for 15 semester hours during the preceding semester, students are eligible for membership in Phi Kappa Theta. To retain membership, a 2.0 average must be maintained. The group attempts to promote scholastic endeavor and provide intellectual fellowship through monthly meetings and an annual banquet. A $100 scholarship is awarded each year to a winner chosen by the sponsors and the officers.

Sponsoring the 83 members are Dr. Anne Whaling and Dr. E. C. Barksdale. Presiding as officers are Lynette Boroff, president; Paul Sakowski, vice-president; Mary Phelps, secretary; and Juanita Ayala, treasurer.

Epsilon Nu Gamma

To honor outstanding engineering students and to recognize alumni who have made notable engineering achievements, Epsilon Nu Gamma was established on the precepts of Tau Beta Pi, the national engineering honor society. Renewing an old tradition, the group again organized the Engineers' Banquet.

Members are selected from the top eighth of the junior engineering class and the top fifth of the senior engineering class. This year, 22 members joined under the leadership of Ronald W. McGregor, president; Tommy L. Green, vice-president; Rupert F. Emison, secretary-treasurer; and William J. Nickerson, cataloger. Sponsors for the organization are Dr. John J. Haynes, Dr. Calvin L. R. Barker, Dr. Mo Shing Chen, and Dr. Wendell H. Nedderman.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon      Sigma Pi Sigma

Attending conventions, sponsoring field trips, and constructing rock study kits for geology students are activities of the Beta Omega Chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon. With nine members, the group recognizes scholastic achievement in the geological sciences and promotes professional interest.

Dr. R. E. Clemons is sponsor. Officers for the organization are Michael Barnes, president; Jim Hensley, vice-president; Clarence Cope, secretary-treasurer; and Rex Lyle, corresponding secretary-editor.

With lectures, an annual banquet, and field trips to research laboratories, Sigma Pi Sigma promotes interest in the study of physics. Students with a 2.0 overall average and a 2.25 average in 14 hour of physics are eligible to become members by invitation.

Nolan Massey sponsors the group of 13, which elected Katy Heisserer as their sweetheart. Officers are Paul Mix, president; Fred Tart, vice-president; Ted Heithecker, treasurer; and Katy Heisserer, secretary.

Sigma Tau Delta

This year Sigma Tau Delta, the national honorary English fraternity, is emphasizing the international aspects of learning by having professors who have studied or taught abroad speak to the club. This also accents their general purpose of promoting good writing and studying good literature.

Junior and senior English majors with a 2.0 average are eligible for membership. Twenty-five students and 15 faculty members meet monthly for lectures and discussions. Sponsors for the group are Mrs. Neita Flenniken, Miss Joyce Cochran, and Dr. Margaret Wiley. Officers are Phillip Ariola, president; Linda Barr, vice-president; Martha Wheat, secretary-treasurer; Melita McGee, reporter; and Faylee Gorthey, marshal.

Kappa Kappa Psi

Dedicated to the betterment of the ASC Rebel Band, the Delta Sigma Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi has 27 members on roll. The national honorary band fraternity plans numerous activities each year, including coordinating and supervising all band trips and tours. Each year the service organization ushers for the Arlington Concert Series Programs, the proceeds of which go to the Rebel Band Scholarship Fund. For the second year the organization hosted the Six Flags Musical Festival.

Jack Mahan and William Postlethwaite sponsor the band fraternity. Officers for the year are Bob Newton, president; Kenneth Vines, vice-president; Ben Christy, secretary; and Don Dixon, treasurer.

Eta Kappa Nu

Numbering 32, the Epsilon Mu Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu entered its second year in February. As an electrical engineering honor fraternity, its main purpose is to serve the Electrical Engineering Department. The group has monthly parties, operates a clinic for electrical engineering majors with problems, and secures speakers in the field of arts and engineering.

During pledge period, new Eta Kappa Nu members are seen wearing a cap resembling a crash helmet covered with electrical tubes. Members must be electrical engineering majors in the upper quarter of their junior class or in the upper third of their senior class. Sponsor for the group is Dr. C. W. Jiles. Composing the cabinet are John Fagan, president; Greg Carlock, treasurer; Larry Hamrick, secretary; Lee Smith, project chairman; and John Byers, social chairman.

Art Club

Open to all students interested in the fine arts and the commercial arts, the Art Club this year enrolled 35 members. To earn money to build a float for the Homecoming Parade, they worked as waiters for a school banquet. During the spring semester, the club sold calendars featuring selected sketches to the students and held a painting and drawing sale. They also visited various local museums throughout the year.

In charge of planning the club's activities are Patricia Groody, president; Alan Smith, vice-president; Ginger Matthews, secretary-treasurer; and Sharon Copeland, special events committee chairman. Rex Dyer is sponsor.

Geological Society

Students can qualify for membership in the ASC Geological Society by having a major or minor in geology, or by having an interest in the earth sciences. Thirty-five such students joined this year to promote interest in this field.

Fund-raising is accomplished by preparing mineral study kits which are sold to freshman geology students. They aid Boy Scouts by helping start new troops and by helping those who are attempting to earn the Geology Merit Badge. The group also arranges field trips and lectures for themselves and for elementary, junior high, and high school clubs. During the year they attended the Southwest Association of Student Geological Societies and entered a float in the November Homecoming Parade.

Beginning his first year as sponsor for the group is Charles F. Dodge, an assistant professor of geology. Officers for the year are Dave Wright, president; Butch Chambers, vice-president; Arla Jo Payne, secretary; and Sydney Smith, treasurer.

Professor C. F. Dodge, sponsor of the Geology Society, examines a pneumatic drill with Lauran Litton.

Physics Club

Students interested in physics are eligible for membership in the Physics Club, and, in addition, they may join the Student Section of the American Institute of Physics. The two groups hold their meetings concurrently and elect a common set of officers. Dr. B. C. Thompson advises the group led by Paul Mix, president; Billy Fornero, vice-president; David Timmons, secretary; and Robert Scott, treasurer.

Last year the organization applied to the American Institute of Physics for a grant-award given by the Bendix Corporation, and the club continued the project this year. The 50 members also held their annual Christmas banquet and spring picnic.

Robert Scott and Jerry Arden operate an electron paramagnetic resonance spectrometer in the basement of the Science Hall.

ACM

Completing its second year on campus, the Association for Computing Machinery numbers 20. Membership, open to anyone, offers subscriptions to three national computer periodicals and group trips to computer installations in the area.

Melvin Pierce from the Department of Industrial Engineering and Dr. David Falconer from the Department of Mathematics sponsor the club. Officers are Scott Wheeler, president; Clyde Haggard, vice-president; Nancy Archer, secretary-treasurer; and Janne Evans, publicity chairman.

ASSSME

To promote fellowship and to acquaint members with the modern advances of engineering, the Arlington State Student Society of Mechanical Engineers was established in the fall of 1963. The group holds two meetings each month, arranges field trips, and sponsors a technical paper contest.

SAE

As one of ASC's national organizations, the Society of Automotive Engineers is a technical society for students engaged in the design, construction, and utilization of self-propelled machines, prime movers, and related equipment. This year's programs included field trips to industries, film meetings, and lectures by leaders in the mechanical industries.

Sponsor for SAE is Dr. Joseph Stanovsky. Officers who head the club's activities are Ronald McGregor, chairman; James Fowler, vice-chairman; Eddie Fritcher, secretary; and Richard Duval, treasurer.

ASCE

Sponsoring a student paper contest, a Christmas party, and a spring picnic are activities of the Civil Engineers Club, the campus chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Monthly meetings further their knowledge of the practice and ethics of the civil engineering profession.

Dr. John Haynes is the faculty advisor for ASCE's 52 members. Officers are John Reglin, president; Gary Hilliard, vice-president; Eillene Risinger, secretary; and Hank McGinnis, treasurer. The civil engineers elected Carolyn Critz as their sweetheart.

Circle K

As a branch of Kiwanis International, Circle K is an organization for young men on campuses in all 50 states and in Canada. At Christmas the group instituted a "Toys for Tots" program to repair toys for an orphanage. Sweetheart for the 14 members is Vivian Bauer. Elwood Weiss and Eddie Warren are sponsors, working with Larry Oliver, president; Terry McCreary, vice-president; Greg Connally, secretary; and Bill Freeman, treasurer. Holding positions off-campus are Terry McCreary, regional lieutenant governor, and Morris Narunsky, district recording secretary.

Amateur Radio Club

Sending and receiving messages for the Fort Worth-Dallas area about health, safety, and other matters is one of the activities of the Amateur Radio Club. The group, numbering 17, has the opportunity to use the equipment in the old drawing building in the Engineering Technology Laboratory. Club members have the chance to learn to use the complex transmitters and earn their operator's licenses.

Officers elected this year are Eugene Jurajda, president; Don Douglas, vice-president; and John Hoskins, secretary-treasurer. Joe Spradlin is the faculty advisor, and Robert Lunday serves as station trustee.

Secretarial Society

To help increase speed in shorthand and typing, the Secretarial Society established a lab on Thursday afternoons and opened its services to anyone. Membership is limited to secretarial majors with a 1.0 average. Fifteen joined the club this year. Three meetings are held each month, and secretaries frequently speak to the group.

Beau for the organization is John Jones, the president of APO. Miss Barbara Getts and Mrs. Jo Chrisman sponsor the girls, and the officers are Mary Weadon, president; Cheryl Smith, vice-president; Michele Dubic, secretary; and Susan Price, treasurer.

AIAA

Completing its third year, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics numbers 36. To encourage interested students, the group meets twice monthly for discussions and lectures by speakers from area industries, such as Larry Patton from General Dynamics. Film on the Gemini flights were shown at the December meeting.

Fencing Club

Barely one year ago, the Rebel Fencing Society was established. The group now has 20 members and holds weekly meetings. This year they hosted two tournaments at the Amateur Fencing League of America, sent teams to collegiate tournaments, and met for lessons on Monday nights.

William Brazzil is the sponsor. Membership, open to all students and faculty members, is overseen by David Broyles, president; Linda Dempsey, secretary; Roger Townsend, treasurer; and Charles Duncan, sergeant-at-arms.

Young Republicans

Just before Thanksgiving the Young Republicans became an official club on the ASC campus. The group of politically-minded students meets every Wednesday at 7 a.m. in the Lee Jackson suite under the sponsorship of Dr. Glen Rodgers. In November they entered a float in the Homecoming parade.

Activities are organized under the leadership of Reed Hunt, chairman; John Rodgers, vice-chairman; Judy Procter, recording secretary; Kay Von Hagel, corresponding secretary; and Pat Will, treasurer.

Pi Sigma Epsilon

Oldest of the national fraternities on campus is Pi Sigma Epsilon, which offers professional advancement in the fields of sales, management, and marketing. The Fort Worth Sales and Marketing Executive sponsor the club. Speakers and films are presented at the meetings that are held every first and third Thursday of each month.

Each club member serves on the communications committee, the social committee, the finance committee, the publicity committee, the speaker committee, or the special event committee. Officers are Scotty Nicholson, president; John Vinson, activities chairman; Rex Robinson, recording secretary; Ron Freeman, treasurer; Wayne Morgan, marketing manager; and Joe Montemayor, sergeant-at-arms.

Delta Sigma Pi

Only men students enrolled in the School of Business Administration with 12 hours and a 1.0 average are eligible for membership in Delta Sigma Pi, an international business fraternity. The group sponsors various types of professional and social events, including dinner speaker meetings, industrial tours, movies, and on-campus speakers.

This year the organization has 24 active members and nine pledges. Faculty advisors are Jim Cook and Dr. E. Smith, who work with the seven officers: Ronald Canter, president; Robert Jenkins, vice-president; Sheldon Gerron, vice-president; John Goad, secretary; Curtis Mosley, treasurer; David Anderson, chancellor; and Tom Neighbors, historian.

Press Club

Members of the staffs of the three student publications — the Shorthorn, the Reveille, and the Arlington Review — form the Arlington State Press Club, sponsored by Paul Blakney and Ernest Leister. Editor of the Shorthorn, Tommy Geddie, is the Press Club's president; Donna Darovich, vice-president; Karen Voss, secretary; Jerry Schraeder, treasurer; Judi Dunnihoo, social chairman; Jenny Baker, program director; and Ken Roselle, parliamentarian. Each year when new Reveilles are being distributed to students, the Press Club profits by selling clear, plastic yearbook covers.

AIIE

Members of the American Institute of Industrial Engineering meet monthly to encourage interest in industrial engineering on the ASC campus. This year the group visited Ling-Temco-Vought and General Motors and held a dinner meeting at Cibola Inn. Other projects and discussions are designed to provide fellowship and information for industrial engineering students.

Responsible for organizing the year's activities are George F. Pickett, president; Robby Mosley, vice-president; Jerry T. Shelby, secretary; and Rawlins Collerain, treasurer. Dr. F. A. Meier sponsors the club.

ASCSET

All technology students — electrical, aeronautical, mechanical, and civil — are eligible for membership in the ASC Society of Engineering Technicians, and honorary membership is given to all executive officers of the college and faculty members of the Technical Institute Division. Banded together to promote a spirit of fellowship, 82 members conduct industrial seminars and take field trips to various plants in the area.

Charles M. Eller sponsors the technicians, and Paul A. Meine is co-sponsor. Members of the executive committee are Kenneth Riza, president; Frank Zelenuk, vice-president; Larry Carlock, treasurer; Kenneth Brown, secretary; and, on the membership committee, Billy Anderson, Michael Boyd, Ray Davis, and Bruce Marvin, chairman.

Front row: C. M. Eller and P. A. Meine, sponsors. Second row: Kenneth Riza, president; Bruce Marvin, membership committee chairman; Ray Davis, membership committee; Bill Anderson, membership committee; Larry Carlock, treasurer; Frank Zelenuk, vice-president.

Architecture Society

After 15 years on campus, the ASC Architecture Society has 75 architecture majors who are members. The group sponsored a Christmas dance and acted as hosts at the Texas Society of Architects in Fort Worth at the Texas Hotel. Four delegates attended the Student Architectural Forum in Washington, D. C.

Sweetheart for the architects is Beverly Dunn, and sponsors are George Shupee and Edward Kemp. Officers are Ronnie Weddell, president; and, as vice-presidents, William Austin, programs; Ray Morrison, membership; R. L. Hauk, social; Mike Imes, treasurer; and Lee Ann Zacha, secretary.

IEEE

Membership in the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers on a local basis is open to any interested student, but national membership is limited to those enrolled in electrical engineering or related fields. The group was affiliated as an associate branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers in 1960 and as a student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in 1961. The two organizations merged in 1963 to form the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, of which ASC became a student branch. The members, about 75, meet monthly to hear speakers from industry on theory and practice in areas of interest to electrical engineering students.

Officers are Jerry Martin, chairman; Ronnie Darr, vice-chairman; Roger Risinger, secretary; and Harry Gooch, treasurer. Dr. John W. McConnell is the IEEE advisor.

Front row: Jerry Martin, chairman; Roger Risinger, secretary; Ronald Darr, vice-chairman; J. W. McConnell, counselor. Second row: John Goodwin, K. R. Rao, and S. F. Crumb, faculty members.

Vaqueros

When a saddle is hung from the tree in front of the student union building on Thursday, the students know that Vaqueros will hold a meeting the following day. Vaqueros, the western club on campus, now has 30 members who try to promote activities with a western theme.

Throughout the year they participate in match rodeos with other colleges in the state, including East Texas and Abilene Christian. In November they sponsor Fun Day at the Arlington Saddle Club Arena, and in the spring they hold Western Day and the All College Rodeo for the campus and sponsor a Western Dance.

Charles M. Eller and W. A. Turner sponsor the organization, and its officers are Bobby Lewis, president; Jimmy Greer and Dennis Hunt, vice-presidents; Gloria Campbell, secretary; Sharon Lewis, treasurer; Earl Landry, sergeant-at-arms; and James Guenzel, publicity director.

Sitting: Bobby Lewis, president. Standing: Sharon Lewis, treasurer; James Guenzel, publicity director.

APO

With backgrounds in scouting, 35 students became members of Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity. APO handles the voting in student elections, cooperates in student services with the Rebel Rousers, provides the outside ramps used for handicapped students, and manages lost and found articles, auctioning them at the close of the year. Annually they utilize campus talent for a program at the Denton State School for Mentally Retarded Children and sponsor the Beauty and the Beast Contest, charging a penny per vote. This year the group boosted Peace Corps Week in November by distributing pamphlets and information.

Five faculty and staff members sponsor the group: Elwood Preiss, Dr. Floyd Cash, Colonel Charles McDowell, Dr. Allan Saxe, and Harry Meissner. Sheryl Stewart reigned as sweetheart during the year. Officers are John Jones, president; Gary Coplin, vice-president; Gardner Chambliss, pledgemaster; Roger Townsend, recording secretary; John Cochran, corresponding secretary; Don Majka, treasurer; Don Brown, historian; and LeRoy Garcia, chaplain.

Pre-Law Club

Future lawyers seeking information and guidance in their chosen profession compose the 30-member Pre-Law Club. Participation in the organization acquaints members with the various aspects of the law profession and often helps them decide whether or not to make law their career.

Moot courts were again held this year as members staged hypothetical cases to be considered in mock trials. The group also met with the Arlington Bar December 7 and took a field trip to the SMU Law School. Among the speakers invited to speak at their meetings was Frank Coffey.

Officers are Paul Sakowski, president; Helen Cochran, secretary; and Delbert Bradshaw, treasurer. C. D. Richards and Donald Cantwell are co-sponsors of the group.

Marching, Lab, Concert Bands

Daily practice and frequent rehearsals prepare the 22-member Lab Band for various competitions and performances. Directed by Dan Burkholder, the group played at the April Stage Band Festival at the Wm. Edington Scott Theatre and participated in events at TCU, NTSU, and TWC. Daily Soldo is vocalist for the Lab Band. Many boys in the group play professionally in local combos and orchestras.

Three drum majors, five twirlers, and 105 marchers compose the ASC Rebel Band. The band performs during half-time at all home games and this year traveled to Beaumont for the Lamar Tech game. The Marching Band gave a Christmas concert December at the Theatre and sponsored a Scholarship Awards Concert in the spring. Jack Mahan directs the group, and W. F. Postlewaite assists him. Leading the band are Johnnie Carr, drum major, and Bob Newton and Milton Strong, assistant drum majors. The five majorettes are Terrina Rush, Linda MacDonald, Karen Pollard, Sandy Caffey, and Cheryl Ferguson.

To interest prospective students in ASC, the Concert Band, composed of members of the Marching Band, tours high schools during the spring. Auditioning during the year, members earn chairs and form a Symphonic Band.

Lab Band members practice for an upcoming concert.

A Capella Choir Holiday Singers

All types of music are performed by the 60-member A Capella Choir and the 20 Holiday Singers selected from its members. Beginning his first year as director is Gary Ebensberger, who transferred from Howard County Junior College. All students are eligible to audition.

For the holiday season, the A Capella Choir sang at area churches, held a Christmas concert, and presented a Yuletide program in the Student Center. They also sang at the Texas Hotel for the Fort Worth National Bank Christmas Dinner. In the spring, the choir tours the state, singing for high schools and other groups. Elizabeth Hawks accompanies the choir.

With Rush Robinson as pianist, the Holiday Singers specialize in popular music. They performed for the Campus Canto, the Homecoming Review, the ASC Faculty Women's Club, the Arlington Women's Club, and the Executive Dinner Club at the Dallas Country Club. Composing the Holiday Girls' Trio are Mary Jane Dietz, Christine Rutherford, and Connie Glover.

Mr. Gary Ebensberger directs both the A Capella Choir and the Holiday Singers.

Little Theatre

Under the direction of Richard Slaughter, the ASC Little Theatre group staged two plays during the year. "Tartuffe," a dramatic classic by Moliere, banned in France in 1665, was presented at four free performances in December.

The story involves Tartuffe, who poses as a holy man in the home of Orgon and uses piety to gain the confidence of Orgon and thus get the title to all of his property. Students who assumed roles in the production were John Martin as Orgon, Bondey Mays as Tartuffe, Sharon Terrill as Elmire, Jerry Rossing as Damis, Patty Blade as Marianne, Wanda Madding as Dorine, Randle Garner as Cleante, Ruby Rivers as Madame Pernelle, Tom Mahar as Loyal, Lonnie Ivie, as the policeman, Diane Winestock as Flipote, and Tim Gardner as Valere.

Best-Dressed Coed Selected by Judges

Good Grooming and imaginative wardrobe combinations gained Diane Martin the coveted title of Best Dressed Coed. Sponsored by Les Choisies sorority, the nineteen-year-old sophomore was chosen from a field of 32 girls.

In addition, Diane was chosen Miss Holland and a finalist in the Reveille Beauty Contest. She is a member of the Cricket 310 Fashion Board and was an exchange student to Mexico while at Arlington High School. Diane serves Les Choisies as junior delegate to ISC and Rush Chairman.

The contest is nation wide, sponsored by Glamour Magazine. Entrants were judged on their hairstyle and makeup in three appearances and their fashion taste was evaluated in each outfit.

First runner up was Brenda Worsham of Sans Souci. Barbara Stuart, sponsored by Les Choisies, was second runner up. Two freshmen tied for third runner up: Sandra Griffin, a Les Choisies pledge, and Jeri Lynn Mahan, an Irving speech major.

Diane's wardrobe is both fashionable and imaginative.

A sophomore English major, Diane Martin spends a great deal of time reading.

Ballots Decide Slate of Favorites

Student Government sponsors elections of twelve Favorites each fall. Traditionally, six men and six women are chosen. Candidates are elected by the student body without regard to classification. Applicants are required only to hold a 1.0 grade average. The rules state that each organization may sponsor two candidates. Ballots this fall named 25 women and 16 men candidates for Favorite.

Three Representatives Embody Rebel Spirit

Arlington State each year elects a group of outstanding students to represent Rebel spirit and tradition. On these students is placed the burden of responsibility; they must look and act their best each day.

Miss ASC is the official representative of Arlington State in all campus activities. Elected in the preceding spring elections, she takes part in welcoming new students each fall and receiving visitors to the campus.

Johnny Reb is the embodiment of ASC school spirit. Carrying the Rebel flag, he attends all football games in confederate attire. He is the official escort of Miss ASC and heads activities during Old South Week.

Miss Dixie Belle is chosen in the fall three weeks before homecoming. The four finalists are announced after the votes have been counted, but the winner is not revealed until half-time at the Homecoming game.

Patty Kalan Assumes Miss Dixie Belle Role

During the Homecoming half-time activities, four Miss Dixie Belle finalists were escorted onto the field to hear the results of the fall elections held three weeks before. The finalists were Sally Soldo, a junior from Dallas, Patty Kalan, Susie Wine, and Vivian Bauer, all sophomores from Arlington. As tension mounted in each girl, the inter-com system revealed the winner to be Miss Patty Kalan, a physical education major.

As Miss Dixie Belle, Patty joined Miss ASC and Johnny Reb in their role as official hosts for campus functions. Patty Kalan, who is a Les Choisies Pledge Trainer, succeeded an ex-sorority sister, Bobbie Ragatz, also a Pledge Trainer.

Patty has served ASC on the Special Events Committee and as a Rebel Rouser. She was elected cheerleader by the student body last spring and served in that position this year.

Patty Kalan and Joey Sandifer are both ecstatic as she is announced Miss Dixie Belle during half-time activities at Homecoming.

Bob Diem, Patty's fiancé, distracts her from her studies.

Rusty Russell Wins Johnny Reb Title

East Texas State students took a second look last year when Rusty Russell, a sophomore from Arlington, traveled to Commerce all the way from Arlington on a bicycle. This kind of Rebel spirit, however, came in handy in the following spring elections. Rusty Russell, with his catchy bicycle signs, was elected Johnny Reb for 1966-67. Rusty's spirit and friendliness aid him in his daily role as the official representative for ASC. Aside from his duties as the escort of Miss ASC at school functions and Miss Dixie Belle at Homecoming, and his duties as the symbol of ASC's Rebel spirit, the Arlington junior is involved in many other campus activities.

As a freshman, Rusty served on the R.E.D. Committee of Student Government and presided as chairman over the S.O.S. Committee during the Amendment I proposal. He served on both the Campus Committee and the Communications Committee as a junior. Rusty was a Student Government representative for two consecutive years.

This year Rusty is chairman of a special Student Government sub-committee organized to "find a Rebel theme." He is a Rebel Rouser and a member of the Board on Student Organization. Johnny Reb is also beau for Karuso Pteros Sorority. A government major, Rusty worked for two years to organize the ASC Young Republicans Club.

As emcee for the Reveille Beauty Contest, Rusty asks a question to finalist Cindy Hodges.

Election as Johnny Reb came to Rusty Russell with a campaign based on his bicycle trip to Commerce for the East Texas State game.

Symbol of Rebel spirit, Rusty draws support from the football crowds.

Mary Huebner Acts As Hostess for ASC

Old South Week is highlighted each year by the revealing of Miss ASC and Johnny Reb. Elected in the spring by popular ballot, Mary Huebner is the reigning Miss ASC. With this title comes many responsibilities which require both poise and personality. As official hostess for Arlington State at delegated functions, Miss ASC speaks to freshmen at their clinic and welcomes them to the Freshman Assembly.

Mary's first duty as Miss ASC was to present the awards at the Southland Spring Sports Festival. Her Homecoming duties include attending the receptions for the parade officials and the Ex-Students' Reception. Mary also welcomed guests to the All College Union Conference.

As a freshman, Mary served on the Fine Arts Committee and was elected as a Student Government representative in the spring elections. She was secretary of the Art Club during her sophomore year, following a summer of volunteer work at the Fort Worth Rehabilitation Center.

Added to the honor of being Miss ASC, Mary was also a '66 Favorite and was presented as queen of the first Tri-Chi party on Oct. 1. Moreover, Mary is the Sweetheart of Phi Eps and the historian for Les Choisies Sorority.

An art major, Mary Huebner paints an expressionistic portrait of a bird.

Cheerleaders Provoke Support From Rebels

Eight cheerleaders are elected in the spring to represent the school and to spark spirit along the sidelines. Cheerleading coaches from the area conduct a week-long clinic for all candidates to select the top prospects — up to 12 boys and 12 girls. Balloting by the students names four boys and four girls as winners.

This group leads the student body in yells at pep rallies and athletic events. Stimulating Rebel support this year are Cindi Coulson, Patti Kalan, Sally Soldo, Susan Wine, David Bowman, George Garrett, Freddie Jones, and David Watson.

FOOTBALL

Football Fever Opens Autumn

The Arlington State Rebel football team enjoyed its finest senior college football season in 1966, and its 6-4 record was deceiving.

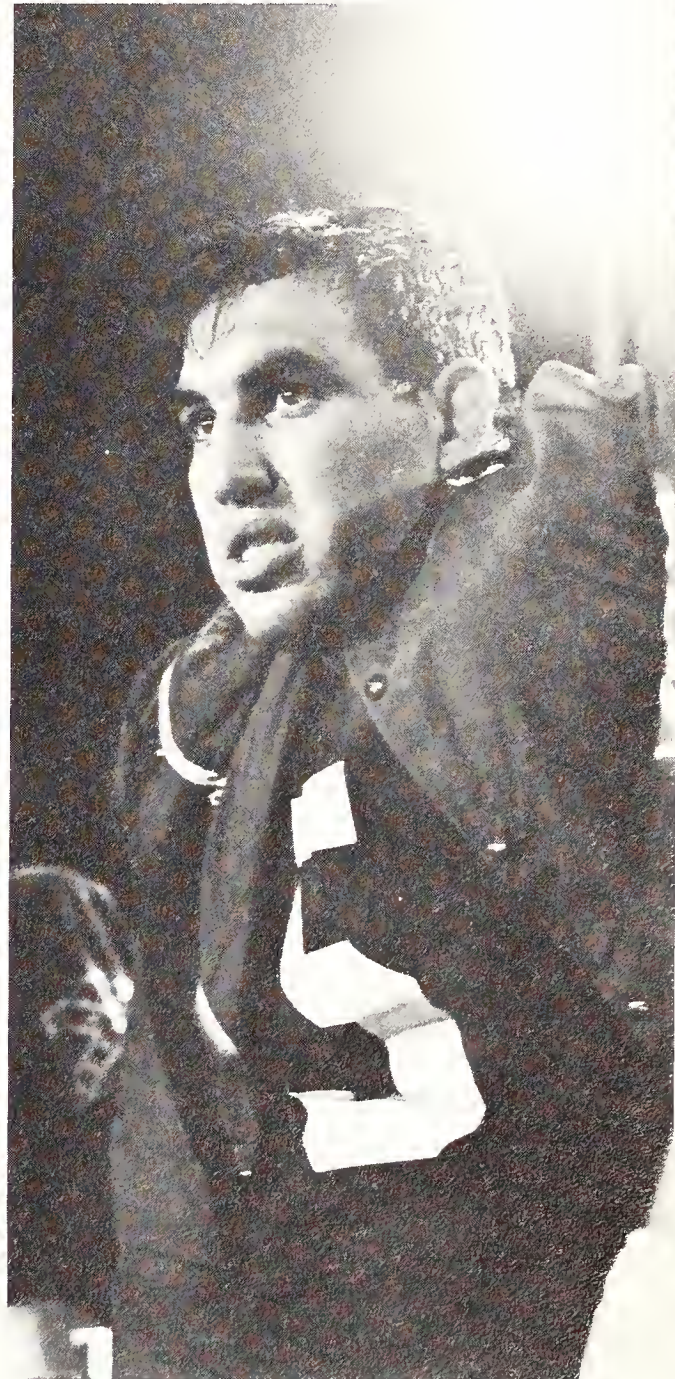

Three of those losses came to major college powers — East Texas State, New Mexico State, and Texas Western—and the final loss was to Lamar Tech, rated number nine in small college polls. The Rebs finished the season rated number 10.

Coach Burley Bearden was named Southland Conference Coach of the Year and senior co-captain Ken Ozee was honored as Defensive Player of the Year and first team little All-America. Along with Ozee, seniors Mike Barnes, Melvin Witt, and Bob Diem, and junior Robert Willbanks and sophomore Ken Riley were named to the all-conference team.

West Texas Wins 38-6 In Season's First Game

Arlington State's inexperienced young Rebels opened the 1966 football season with a trip to Canyon, Texas, on September 17. The trip really wasn't worth it, though, as the Buffaloes of West Texas State shocked the Rebs 38-6.

The Buffs racked up 557 yards against a young ASC defense that found out the hard way college football is a big boy's game, and that its lessons are often learned the hard way.

The only Rebel score came late in the first half when sophomore quarterback Carl Williams passed to wingback Raymond Matthews on a 12-yard play.

Pleasant surprises in this opening game disaster were freshmen Skipper Butler from Gladewater and Danny Griffin from Cleburne. Butler punted eight times for a fantastic 47.8 yard per kick average, while Griffin, a 200-pound fullback, was the leading rusher with 53 yards in 11 attempts.

New Mexico State Defeats ASC, 23-10

The Rebels showed vast improvement September 24 against the New Mexico State Aggies. NMSU won 23-10, but in reality the game was much closer.

"With the exception of two plays," said defensive back coach Judd Ramsey, "our kids played about as good a defensive game as you could expect."

Those two plays, an errant pass by Carl Williams and a breakaway 79-yard run by Aggie star Jim Bohl, provided the two NMSU scores which made the difference.

Midway through the first period, the Rebs covered an Aggie fumble four yards from the goal and scored on a Williams-to-Jimmy Thomas pass to tie the game.

Then with 1:33 left in that period, Skipper Butler kicked a 37-yard field goal and the Rebs had their first lead of the year, 10-7.

Bohl made his long run to set up a New Mexico score. The Aggies scored two more touchdowns and a safety on a fumbled kick-off to ice the game.

Sidelined Rebels spur their teammates on with shouted advice.

Rebs Nip Cats With 17 Points

ASC's first 1966 home appearance on October was before a sell-out crowd of 10,000, and the win hungry Rebs tripped East Texas State 27-10.

East Texas jumped out front 10-0 before Carl Williams put his throwing arm in gear. He guided the Rebs down the field and skirted right end untouched for the first six points. With 1:56 left in the first half he hit freshman wingback Mike Buchanan with a seven-yard pass for the go-ahead points and the score was 13-10. Williams ran for another score and passed to Dick Hill for the last touchdown.

Raymond Matthews, substituting at halfback from his usual wingback position, raced for 104 yards on 24 carries to spearhead the offense along with Williams.

ASC totaled 457 yards offense for a new school record, while a fast-improving defense held the Lions to 228 yards.

Some of the defensive standouts were Ken Ozee, Jesse Carpenter, Melvin Witt, Robert Willbanks, Jim Sheridan, Robert Overton, and Monty Tolleson.

Rebs Blank Lions In Home Game

On Oct. 8, ASC shut out McNeese State of Lake Charles, La. 20-0.

Carl Williams started it all in the first quarter with a one-yard run around right end. Other scoring came on a three-yard pass from Mike Baylor to Jimmy Thomas and two field goals by Skipper Butler.

An estimated crowd of 8,000 looked on as the Rebels put on another superb defensive show, limiting McNeese to 211 yards total offense and intercepting five passes.

Meanwhile, the Rebels racked up 346 yards, 295 on the ground, and 20 first downs to leave no doubt about the outcome.

Defensively Ken Ozee, Jesse Carpenter, Robert Willbanks, Mike Barnes and Ronnie Tufts turned in stellar performances to lead the ASC charge.

Miners Whip Rebs 68-21 in El Paso

Against Texas Western College, The University of Texas at El Paso, ASC lost 68-21 to suffer their worst defeat in history.

Raymond Matthews ran 69 yards for the first score early in the game, but then the potent Miners flashed their speed and racked up 68 straight points before Mike Baylor scored twice in the closing minutes.

The Rebs were unable to contain the passing of Billy Stevens, one of the nation's highest rated passers, who connected for 492 yards in the air.

Scoring by quarters for the Miners was 17, 28, 14, and 14, and Texas Western picked up 24 first downs to six for the Rebs.

Keith Luft follows the path opened by his blockers.

ASC Tops Trinity In SLC Opener

ASC beat the Trinity Tigers 20-7 in a close-fought Southland Conference game at Memorial Stadium Oct. 22.

Defense was once again the key as the Rebels intercepted three passes and recovered three Tiger fumbles. Defensive leaders were Ken Ozee with 12 tackles and David Miller with 11. Others doing outstanding jobs were Jesse Carpenter, Melvin Witt and Monty Tolleson.

Offensively, Skipper Butler kicked two second quarter field goals to provide a 6-0 halftime lead for the Rebs.

In the third quarter, Keith Luft blasted over from one yard out and in the final period Jimmy Thomas caught a seven-yard touchdown pass from Mike Baylor for the final score.

Trinity scored in the closing minutes on a seven-yard pass from Donnie Witwiski to Earl Eason.

Rebels Set Records Against TSC Rivals

Arlington State renewed a rivalry begun in 1917 when they met the Tarleton State Texans Oct. 29.

The Rebs won 46-15, setting senior college records for points scored in a single game, touchdown passes thrown in a single game, touchdown passes caught in a single game, and touchdown passes caught in a season. Tarleton was also held to minus 68 yards rushing, which is a record as far as can be determined.

Freshman end Dick Hill caught an eight-yard touchdown pass from Mike Baylor to start the scoring avalanche and the Rebs were never headed. Hill scored twice more and Raymond Matthews, Jimmy Thomas and Danny Griffin each got a touchdown.

Top Reb Defensive Sets Wildcat Loss

A hard-hitting defensive effort helped ASC ruin Abilene Christian College's Homecoming Nov. 5 in a Southland Conference game. The defense set up three scores and made the fourth themselves as the Rebs won 23-0.

"Our people up front — Melvin Witt, Ken Ozee, Jesse Carpenter and David Miller — did a spectacular job," said Coach Burley Bearden. ASC intercepted five passes and three fumbles to corral the speedy Wildcats.

Scoring for the Rebels were Raymond Matthews, Keith Luft, Jim Marcum and Skipper Butler.

Rebels Win 16-6 At Homecoming

The Rebels eked out a narrow 16-6 win over Arkansas State Nov. 12 before a 10,000-plus Homecoming crowd in Memorial Stadium.

Defense again was the key as the Rebs limited the Indians to 223 yards total offense and only 56 on the ground. Standouts were Ken Ozee (17 tackles), Monty Tolleson (16), David Miller (16), Robert Willbanks (14), Jesse Carpenter (13) and Melvin Witt (11).

The Indians scored first, taking the kick-off and marching it down the field. But then it was all ASC.

Mike Baylor hit Jimmy Thomas with an 81-yard scoring strike just before the half to tie the score, but the try for point after was wide, leaving the score knotted 6-6.

A Skipper Butler field goal and another Baylor to Thomas pass provided the last 10 points.

Lamar Tech Wins in Closing Game

In the last game of the season, with a chance to win the Southland Conference grid title outright, the Rebels journeyed to Beaumont only to lose to the Lamar Tech Cardinals 26-7. The game put the two teams in a tie for the crown.

It was a more than frustrating first half for the Rebels. The Cardinals scored four times — on a 22-yard run by fullback Darrell Johnson and two touchdowns by quarterback Phil Primm, a two-time All-Southland performer. The Rebels were continually blocked in their own end of the field.

Like Baylor threw an 18-yard scoring strike to record-breaking senior end Ronny Young in the fourth quarter for ASC's only score. Young became the winning receiver in ASC history with his performance against Tech.

Rebs Place Fourth in Annual Tourney

The Rebels won fourth place in the Cotton Bowl tournament during the Christmas holidays, Dec. 29-30.

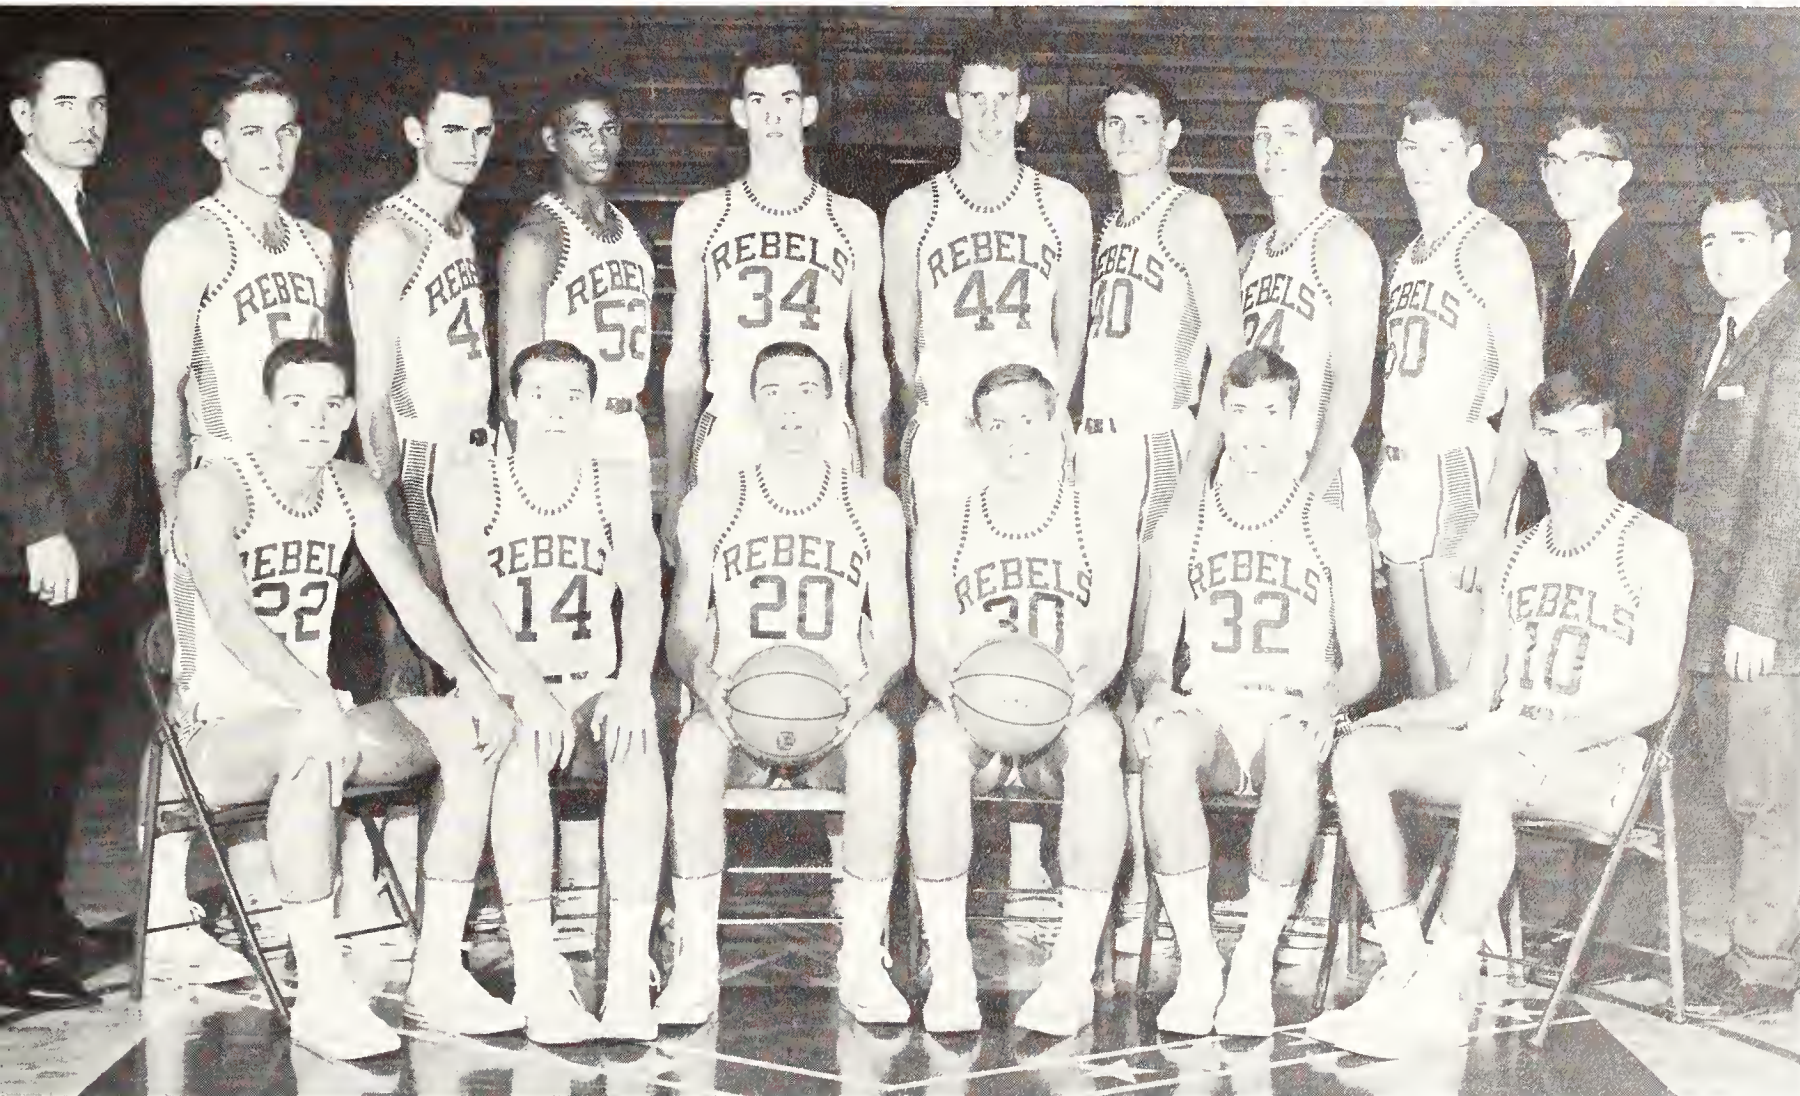

They beat Austin College 93-76 in the first round, then fell to Midwestern 83-66 and East Texas State 77-65.

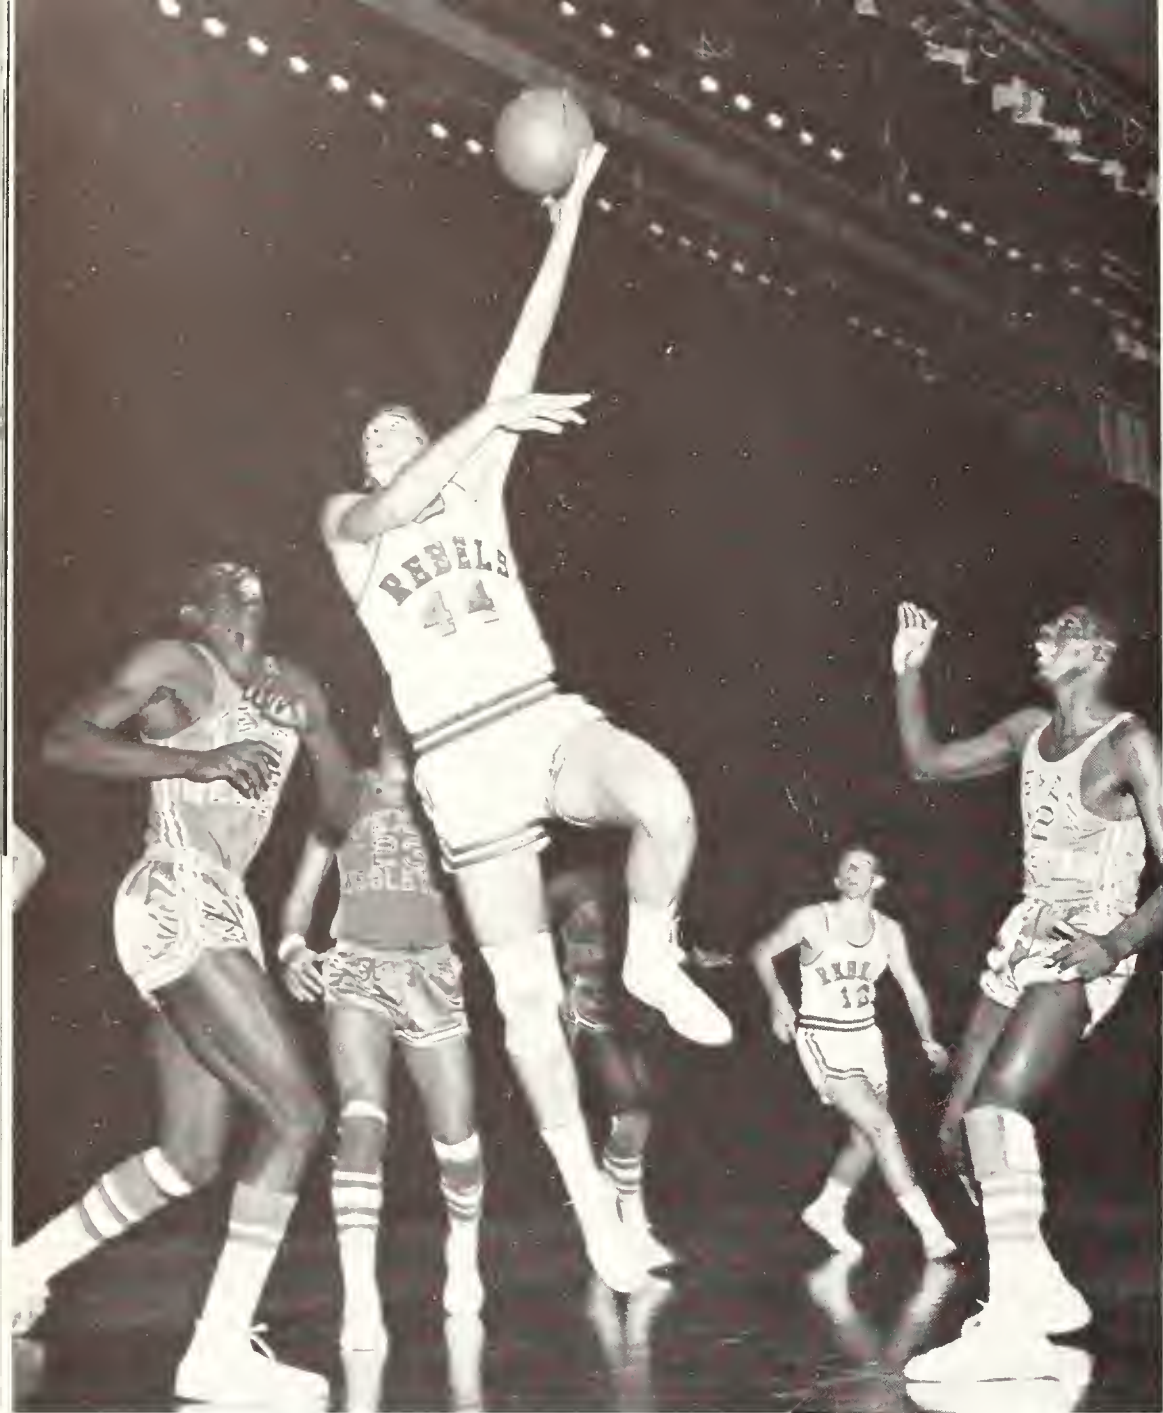

New coaches this season were Barry Dowd, a University of Texas graduate in his first year of collegiate coaching, and Bill Reeves, a 1962 graduate who handled the freshmen.

Rebels Mike Nau and Huey Saulsberry find the area under the basket a little crowded as they fight for the ball against SMU in Dallas.

Rebs Whip Rams Twice in 1966-67

Arlington State swept its home-and-home series with Texas Wesleyan this year for the first time in three seasons, winning 89-69 at home and 81-76 in Fort Worth.

On Dec. 6, Mike Nau and Terry George led the ASC offense with 31 and 20 points respectively as the Rebs won handily 89-69.

The visiting Rams led 39-38 at the half and stayed close through the first 10 minutes of the second half before ASC's superior depth began to show through and the margin widened.

Playing at the Southside Recreation Center in Fort Worth (since Texas Wesleyan does not have a home court), the going was a little rougher.

ASC had not beat the Rams in Fort Worth for two years, but some clutch free throw shooting in the fading minutes proved to be the deciding point as the Rebs won by four points.

ASC Splits Series With Lumberjacks

The Rebels split a pair of matches with a highly-rated Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, losing 90-86 at home Dec. 7 and winning 66-64 in Nacogdoches Jan. 2.

In the first game between the two ASC earned a 48-40 half-time lead, but lost the game in the closing minutes to the undefeated Lumberjacks, who stretched their record to 5-0.

Mike Nau scored 23 points to pace the Rebs and John Shelton, Joe Gary Smith, Gene Gipson and Gene Wilson were also in double figures.

Then, in Nacogdoches, Nau connected on a jump shot with two seconds left in the game to provide the 66-64 margin over the Jacks. He also claimed game scoring honors with 20 points. Joining the big senior in double figures were Wilson, Gipson and Terry George.

Rebels Lose Two To Angelo State

The Rebels lost twice to Angelo State, called by one sportswriter the most under-rated team in the state, during the season, 78-82 and 73-77.

In the first meeting, Dec. 10 in Arlington, the Rebs trailed 26-37 at half-time, but battled back to within four points with a 49-point second half.

Joe Gary Smith, freshman guard from Dallas Sammuell, led the way with 19 points and 6-8 Mike Nau was right behind him with 18. Eddie Miller was also in double figures with 13.

In a Jan. 14 encounter at San Angelo, the Rebs lost again by four points, and again trailed by 11 at half.

Terry George led the way with 29 points and Nau scored 24. Also in double figures was Gene Wilson, who had 12 points.

ASC Wins Twice Against Kangaroos

Arlington State jumped on Sherman's Austin College twice during the 1966-67 season, whipping them 99-64 in Arlington and 91-71 in Sherman.

In the Arlington game, played Dec. 13 in the ASC auditorium, the Rebels racked up a 69-38 half-time lead and looked certain to break a hundred points. But the Kangaroos came out in a stall in the second half to effectively freeze the ball, holding ASC to only 30 points while scoring just 26 themselves.

Joe Gary Smith and Mike Nau led ASC with 23 and 22 points respectively, while Terry George, Eddie Miller and Ronnie Wirz also scored in double figures. Jody Oren led Austin College with 19.

In the second meeting between the two schools, Jan. 30, Smith led the Reb attack with 21 points and Mike Collinsworth and John Shelton had 19. Ronnie Wirz scored 14 and Mike Nau 12.

Rebs Blast Lions In Close Contests

The Rebels further heated a growing rivalry with the East Texas State Lions by whipping the Commerce team twice in regular season games, both times by narrow margins.

On Dec. 15, in Arlington, ASC beat the Lions 63-57 which wasn't decided until the final minutes when ETSU star Jeff Fitch was ejected from the game.

Then in Commerce on Jan. 4 the Rebs won 66-62. ASC steadied halfway through the first half to overcome a seven point deficit and take the win.

Mike Nau got 20 points to again lead the way and Terry George got 18.

Joe Gary Smith, freshman guard, takes a pass and heads for the basket.

Tarleton Texans Fall Two Times To Rebs

Arlington State beat the Tarleton State Texans twice during 1966-67, Jan. 12 in Arlington by an 86-70 count and Feb. 1 in Stephenville 103-70.

Big guns in the Arlington encounter were Mike Nau, 16 points; David Cullen, 16; Joe Gary Smith, 15; Terry George, 12; and John Shelton, 10.

The Rebels topped the century mark when they journeyed to Stephenville to meet the Texans on their home court.

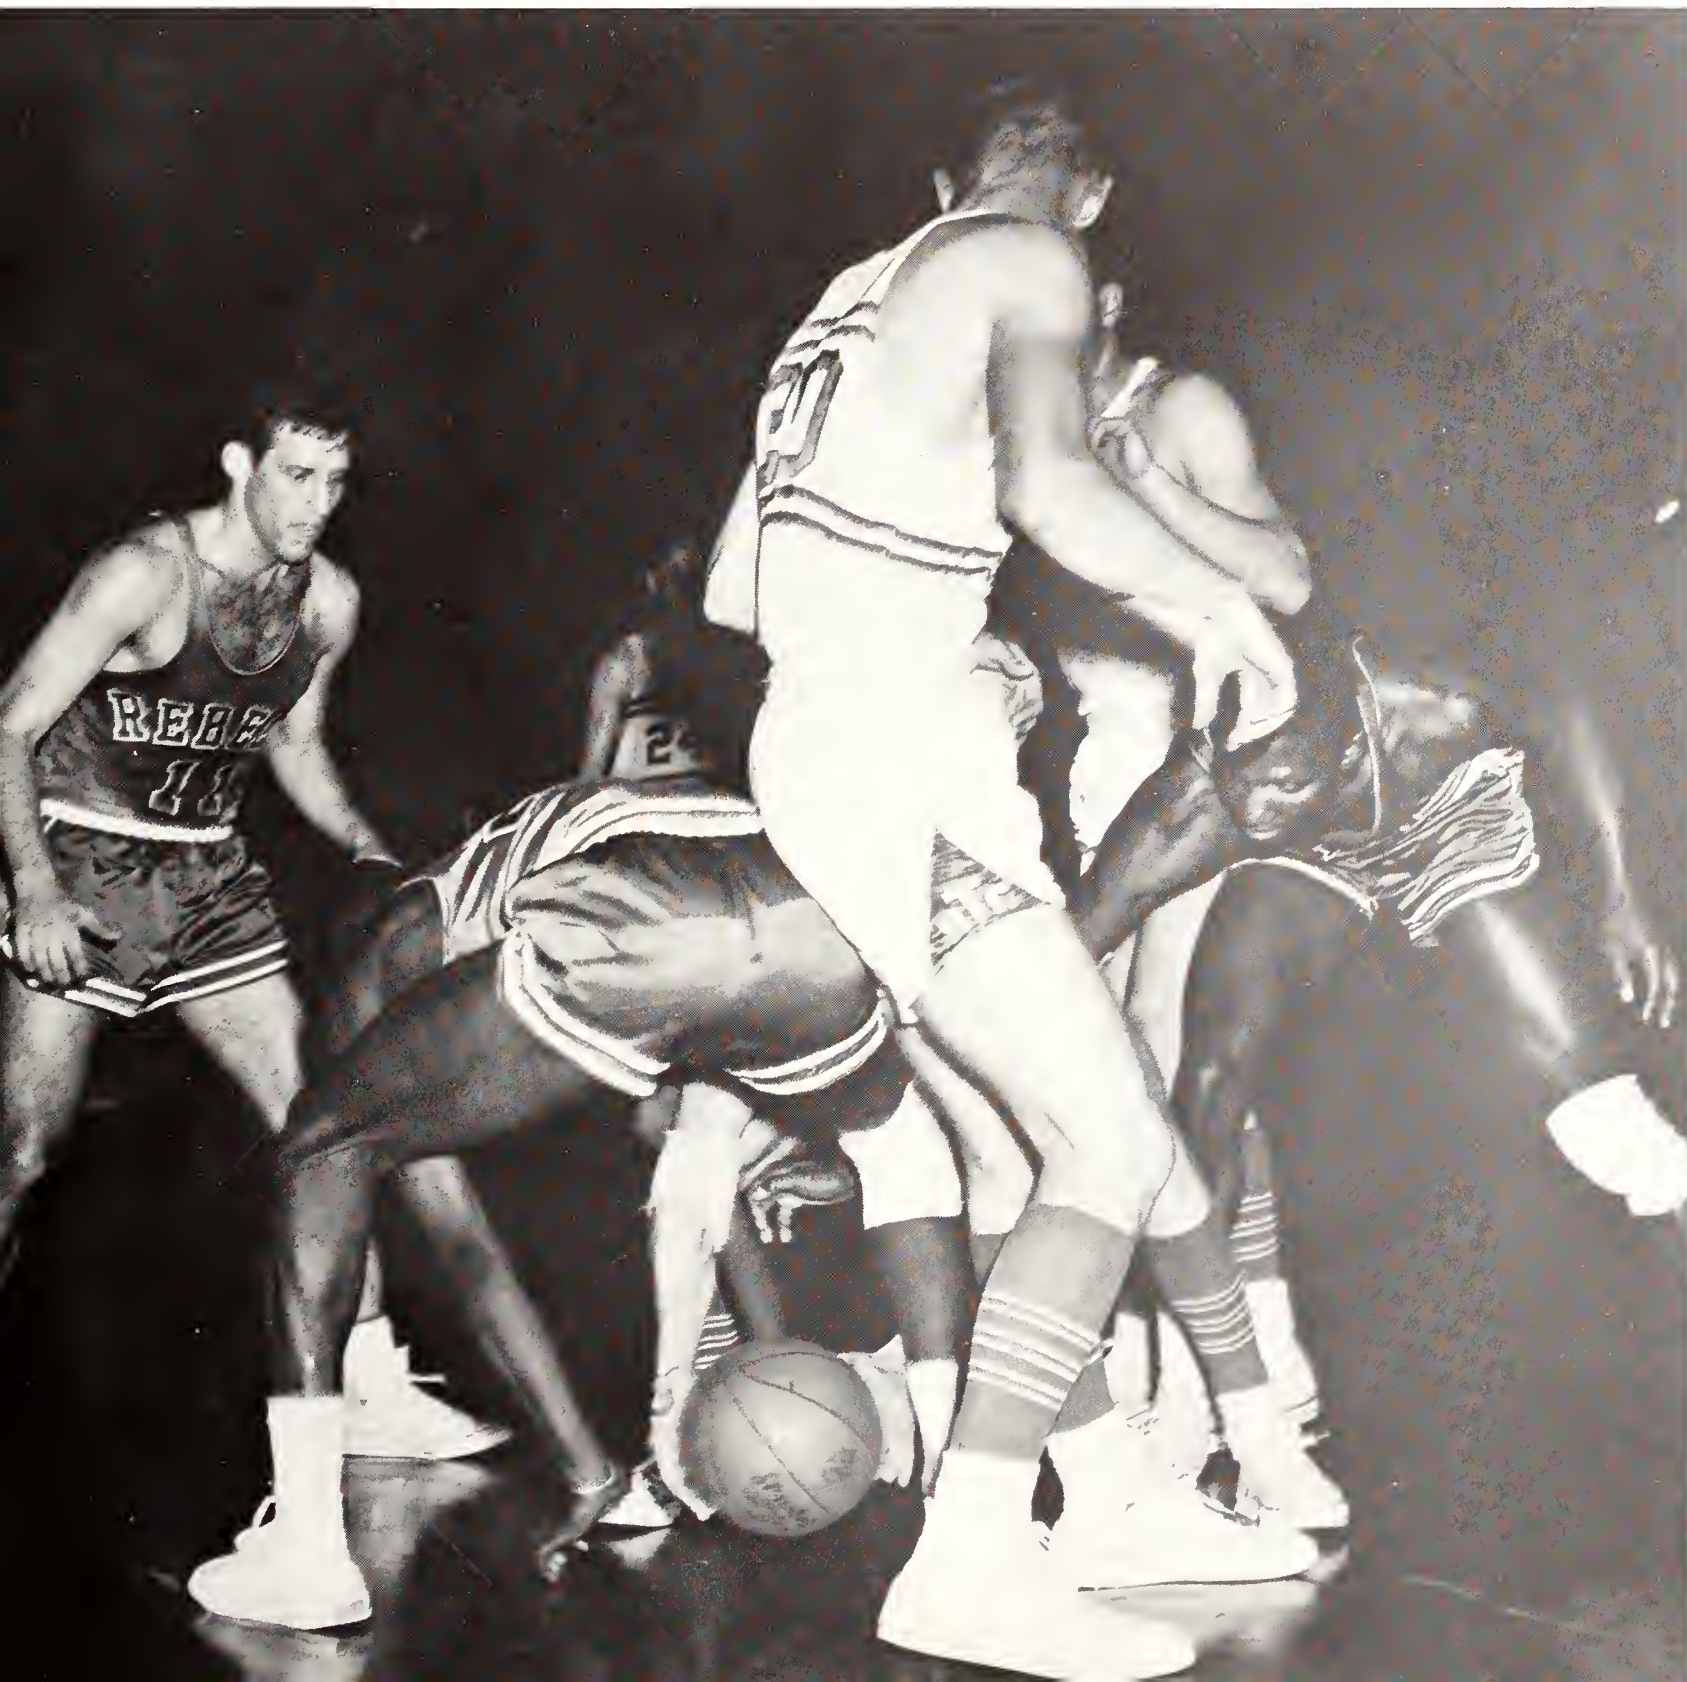

Leading the way in that game were Mike Nau, 23 points; John Shelton, 14; Gene Gipson, 12; and Terry George, 10.

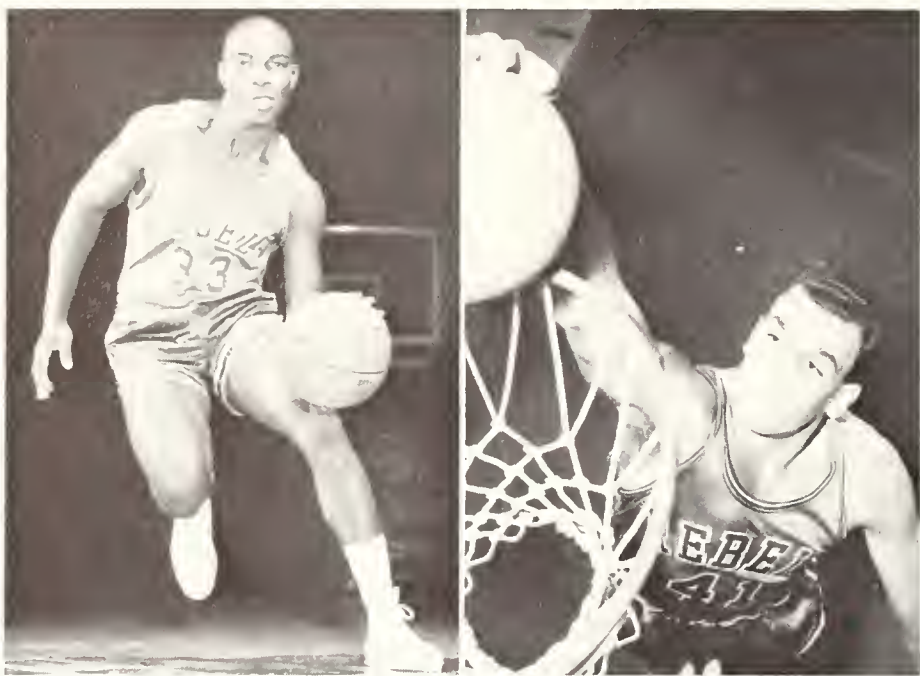

The two court contests helped the Rebs take a clean sweep of the Tarletons in football and basketball, as the two teams renewed an old grid rivalry this year.

Rebels Beat Cards In Two Thrillers

Arlington State won two close Southland Conference decisions over the Lamar Tech Cardinals during the 1966-67 season.

In the first game, played Jan. 7 in Beaumont, the Rebs built up a 19-point lead with less than eight minutes to play, then almost blew it.

They managed to hang on for a 72-71 victory in that conference opener.

John Shelton led the scoring with 18 points and also in double figures were Mike Nau, Gene Wilson and Terry George.

Then on Feb. 14 in Arlington, it took three overtimes for ASC to turn the trick 138-135 in a game that established new Southland Conference scoring records.

Both teams broke the old mark of 125 points in a game and ASC's 57 field goals was another record.

John Shelton fights for a rebound against the Cardinals as Mike Nau looks on.

Rebs Split Series

Arlington State's young Rebels beat the potent Trinity Tigers, a Southland Conference pre-season favorite, once during the season, and carried the second game all the way to the wire before faltering.

On Jan. 10, the Rebs caught the then thirteenth nationally ranked Tigers in the local gym and trounced them 108-95. The lead was even more substantial until the closing minutes.

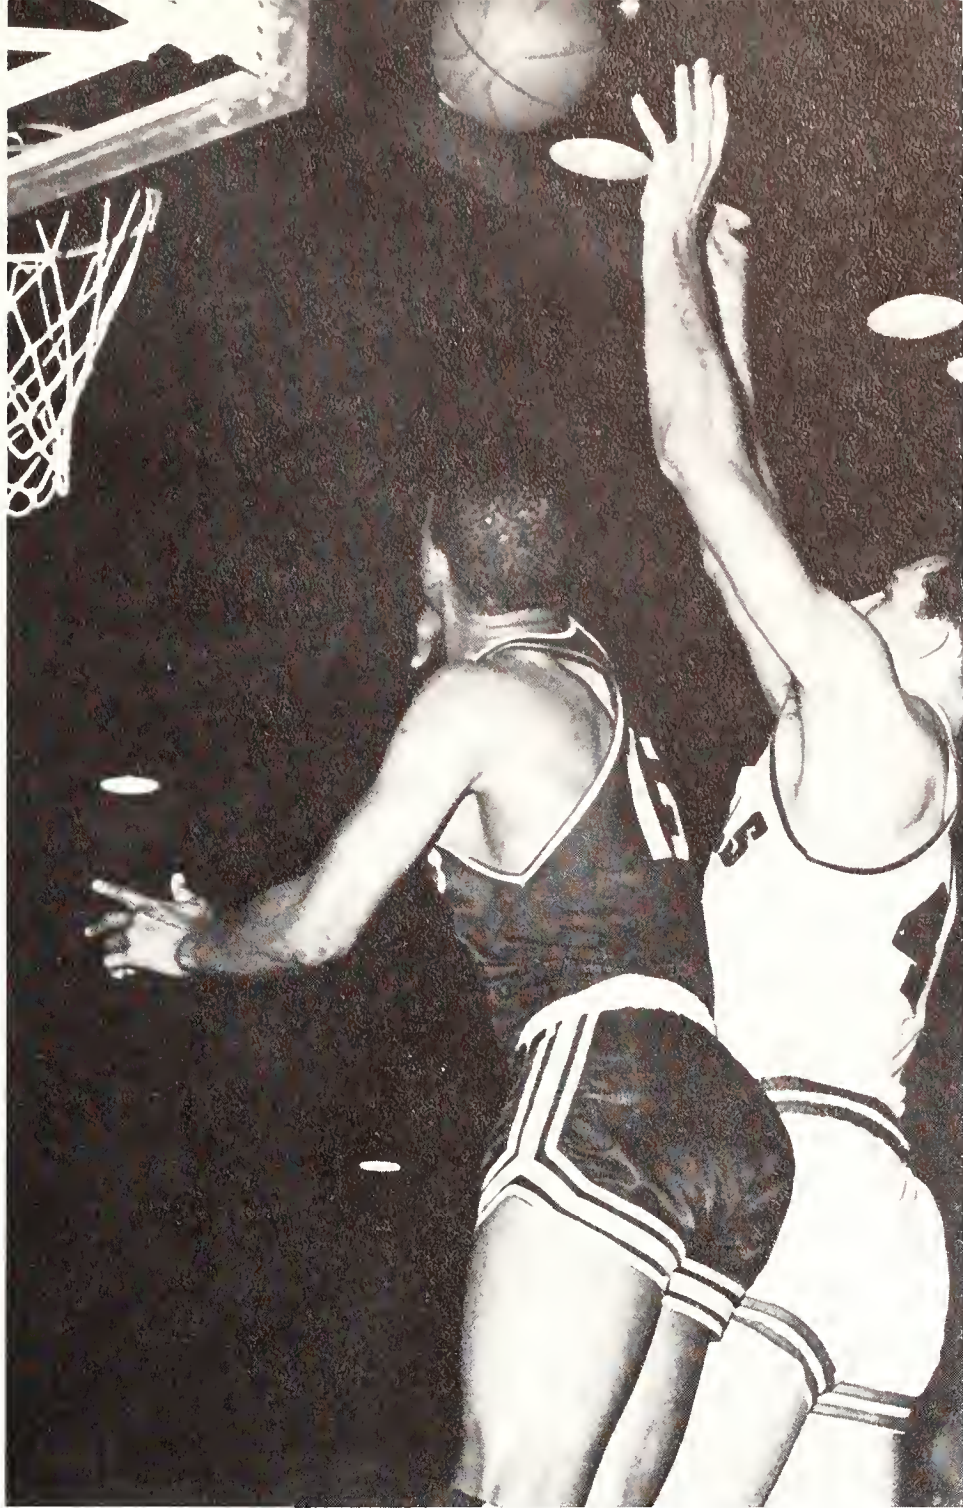

The Rebs rolled up a 60-34 halftime lead in that game thanks largely to 32 and 26-point outputs by guard Terry George and forward Gene Wilson, respectively. Also in double figures in the key game were Mike Nau with 15 and Joe Gary Smith, 10.

Then on Feb. 4, ASC grabbed an aroused Tiger by the tail in San Antonio and came out on the short end of a narrow 77-74 score after leading 37-35 at the half.

Leading the way were Nau with 21 points, Shelton with 15, Smith, 14, and Wilson and Collinsworth, 12 each.

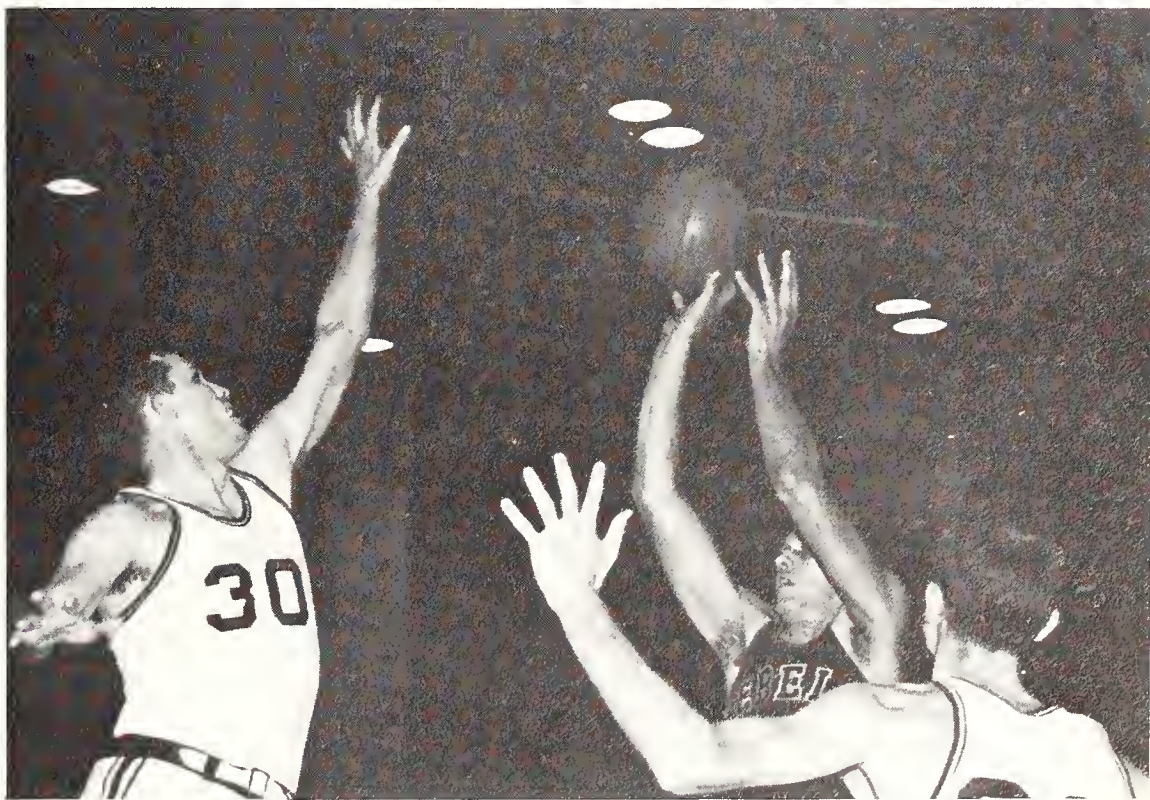

Watch! says Terry George as Trinity's Roy Gamez attempts to block the little Reb's shot.

6-6 sophomore forward Gene Wilson puts up a two-point shot over Trinity's George Dupree in the Rebs 108-95 victory.

Wilson fires this shot against the Tigers in San Antonio.

Indians Whip Rebs

Southland Conference champion Arkansas State — featuring 6-11 All-American John Dickson and a good supporting cast — beat the Rebs twice during the 1966-67 season; 99-87 in Arlington, Feb. 18 and 93-77 in Arkansas, Feb. 25.

In the first game big Mike Nau got 23 points and 17 rebounds to establish an ASC school scoring record, but Dickson scored 47 to set an SLC single game mark and the Rebs went down in defeat.

They stayed in contention throughout the first half and came within 48-42 at the half with a last second, midcourt shot by 5-11 freshman Joe Gary Smith.

A record crowd of 1,600 watched as Smith (16), Shelton (14) and George (11) joined Nau in double figures.

In the season finale against the Indians, ASC stayed in contention most of the way but was unable to overcome A-State's height advantage.

ASC Tops Wildcats

Arlington State split its two game series with Abilene Christian College in 1966-67, winning at home 82-78 after losing 92-72 in Abilene.

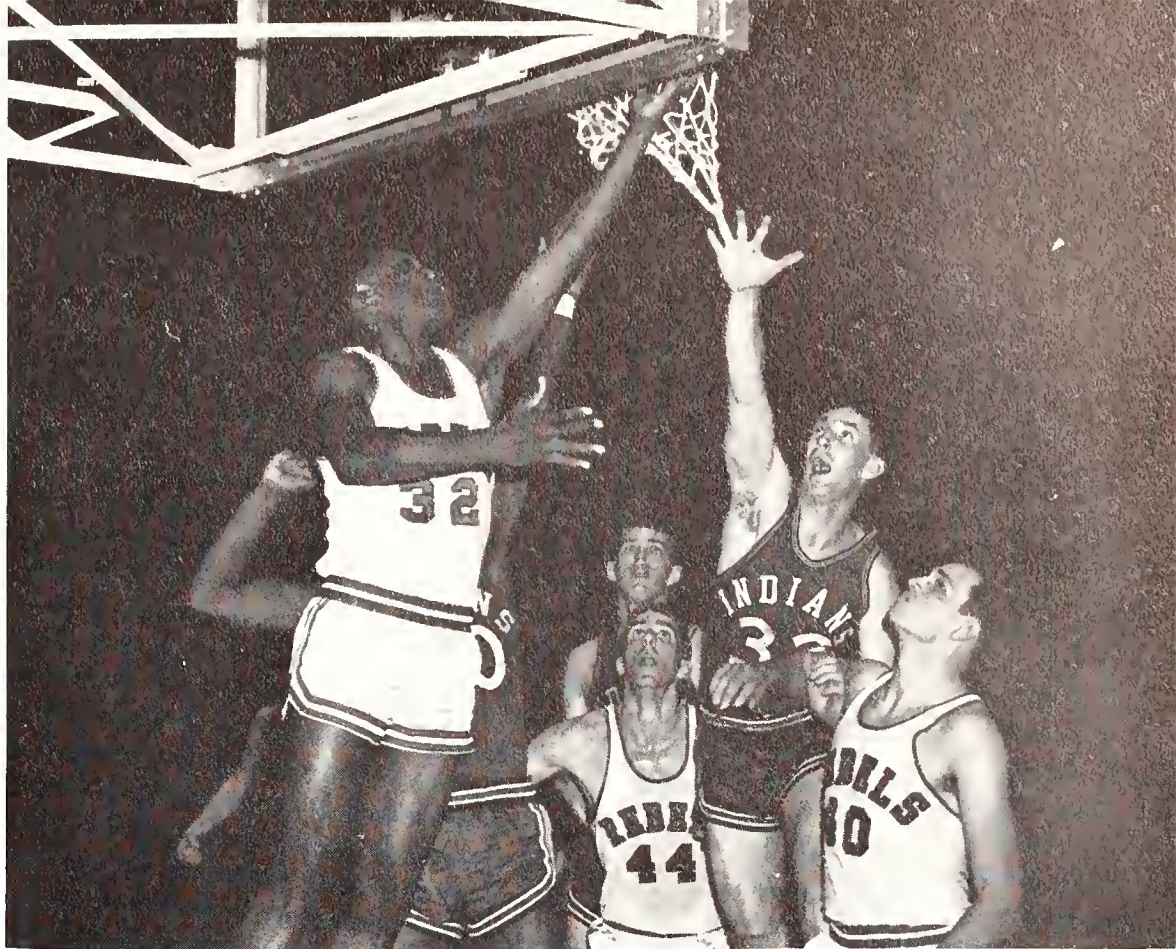

On Feb. 7, in Abilene, the Rebels fell behind 34-26 at the half and were never able to recover.

Mike Nau again led the ASC charge with 18 points and joining him in double figures were Terry George with 13 and Mike Collinsworth, 12.

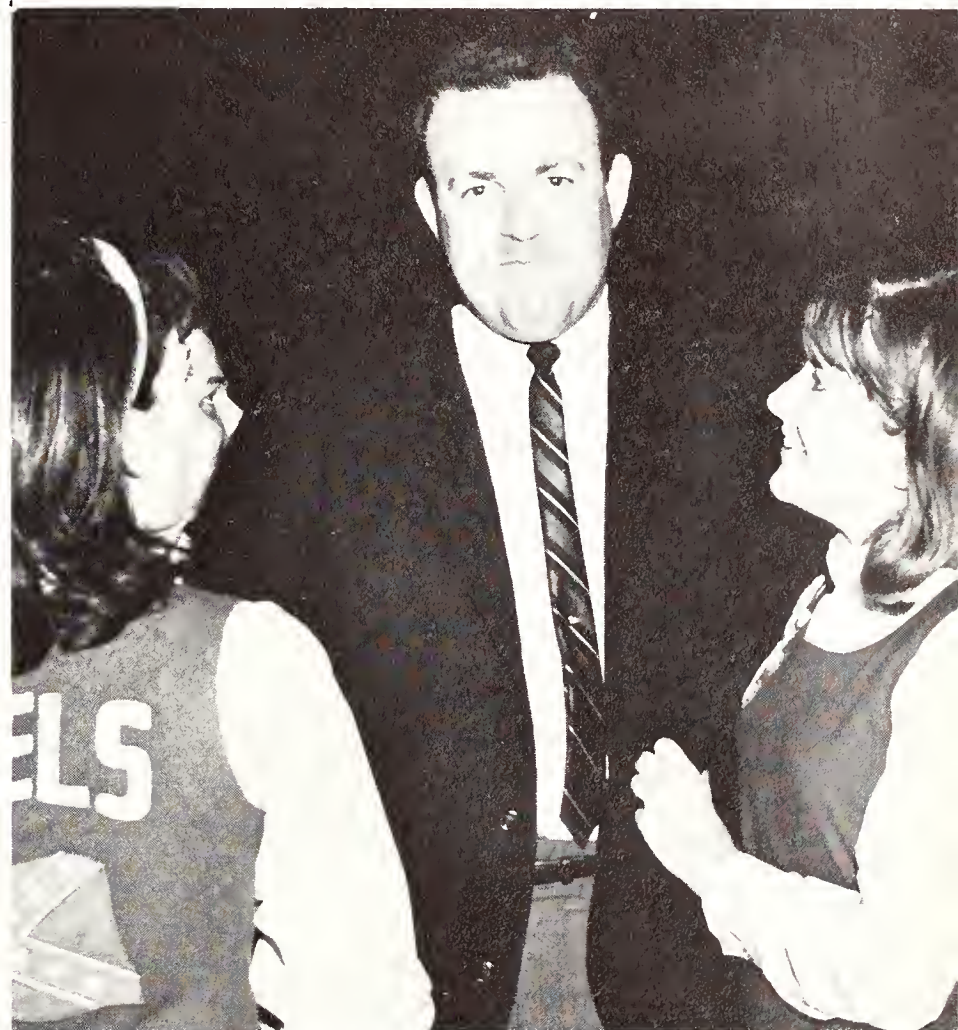

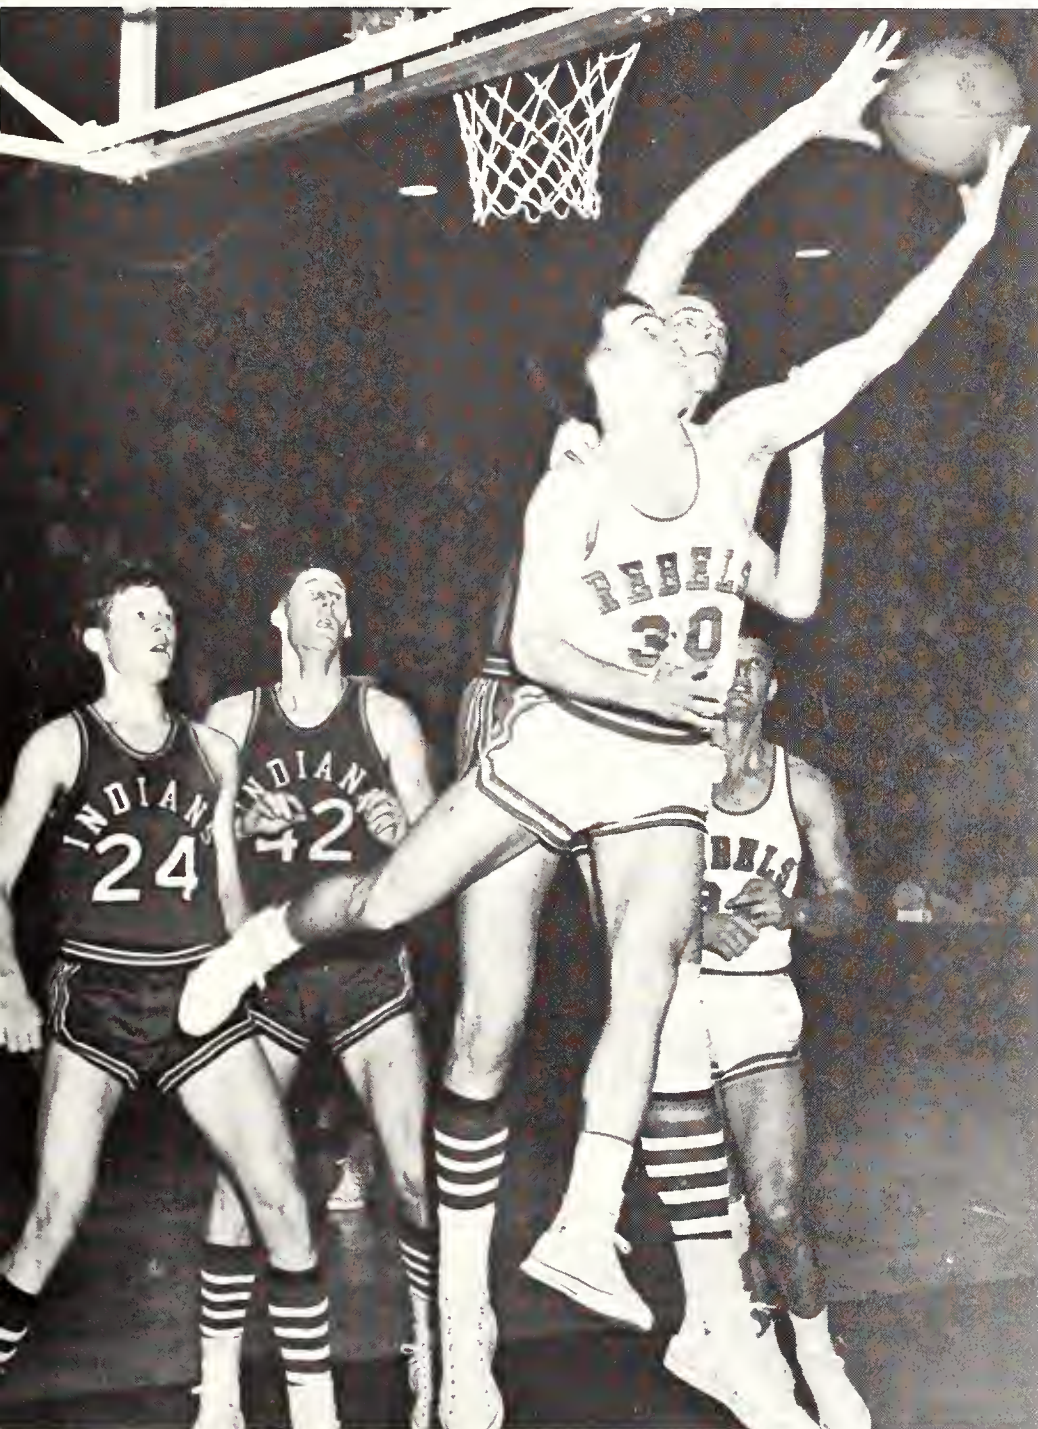

Then on Feb. 21 the Rebs got their revenge, outscoring the Wildcats 45-41 in the first half and holding off at 37 each in the second to take the narrow decision.

It took a flurry of last minute free throws to assure the Rebs of their first .500 season as a senior college, bringing their record to 14-11.

Mike Nau, playing his last home game before graduation, scored 23 points and got 10 rebounds to lead ASC to the win. Also in double figures were Joe Gary Smith with 16, Jack Lynch with 12 and John Shelton with 11.

John Shelton drives the baseline for two points.

TRACK

Enter University Division

Rebel track coach Bobby Lane fielded a 10-man varsity squad during ASC's first year in University Division competition.

Among that number were Dale Drennan, NCAA College Division record holder in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and the first track All-America produced by the school, and hurdler Ken Walters and high jumper Al Kraft, both defending Southland Conference titlists.

High jumper Mike Hale, weight man Skip Benson, hurdler Bob McGlothlin, distance man Richard Key, broad jumper Bill Devine, sprinter Stan Dugan, and weight man Kenneth Terry rounded out the squad.

Lane cited the hurdles and distance events as Arlington State's strong points during the season.

For the first time in the school's history, ASC fielded a freshman track squad.

MINOR SPORTS

Tinker Heads Golf

The Rebel golfers, who finished second in the Southland Conference meet held here last spring, had only one letterman to call on during the 1967 season.

Grand Prairie junior Tom Burseen, the only 1966 holdover, finished eleventh in the 1966 meet.

Other team members included freshmen Ronnie Burseen, Leonard Cochran, Chuck Michael and Scott Jones.

Tom Tinker, golf coach, was in a sense a newcomer, too. Dean of the coaching staff, he joined ASC in 1940 and was head basketball coach for 23 years until retiring last spring to handle the golfers. He had coached the team last two years earlier.

Coach Tom Tinker shows Tom Burseen how to do it.

Golf Team: Scott Jones, Chuck Michael, Leonard Cochran, Ronnie Burseen, Roel Garza and Tom Burseen.

Tennis Team Rebuilds

The Arlington State tennis team faced a rebuilding year in 1967, with only one letterman back from a dismal 4-13 season of the year before.

That letterman was Richard Prince, a sophomore from Dallas. Also on hand were squadmen Jerry Gardner, John Telford, and Fred Dobbs, a transfer from Foothills Junior College in 1965 where he was a member of the state championship team. Dobbs was injured during much of '65.

Three freshmen helped to complete the team. Bill Saunders, from Brownwood, was a class AAA state singles champion. Other frosh were Paul Snively, a high school district champion, and John Colgin.

Coach of the team is Bill Roark. Roark joined the ASC staff in 1961 after coaching in the Fort Worth public schools system and 1967 marked his fourth season as tennis coach.

Bowlers Pace TIBC

The Arlington State College bowling team stayed near the top of the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Conference all season, pulling into the lead late in the year.

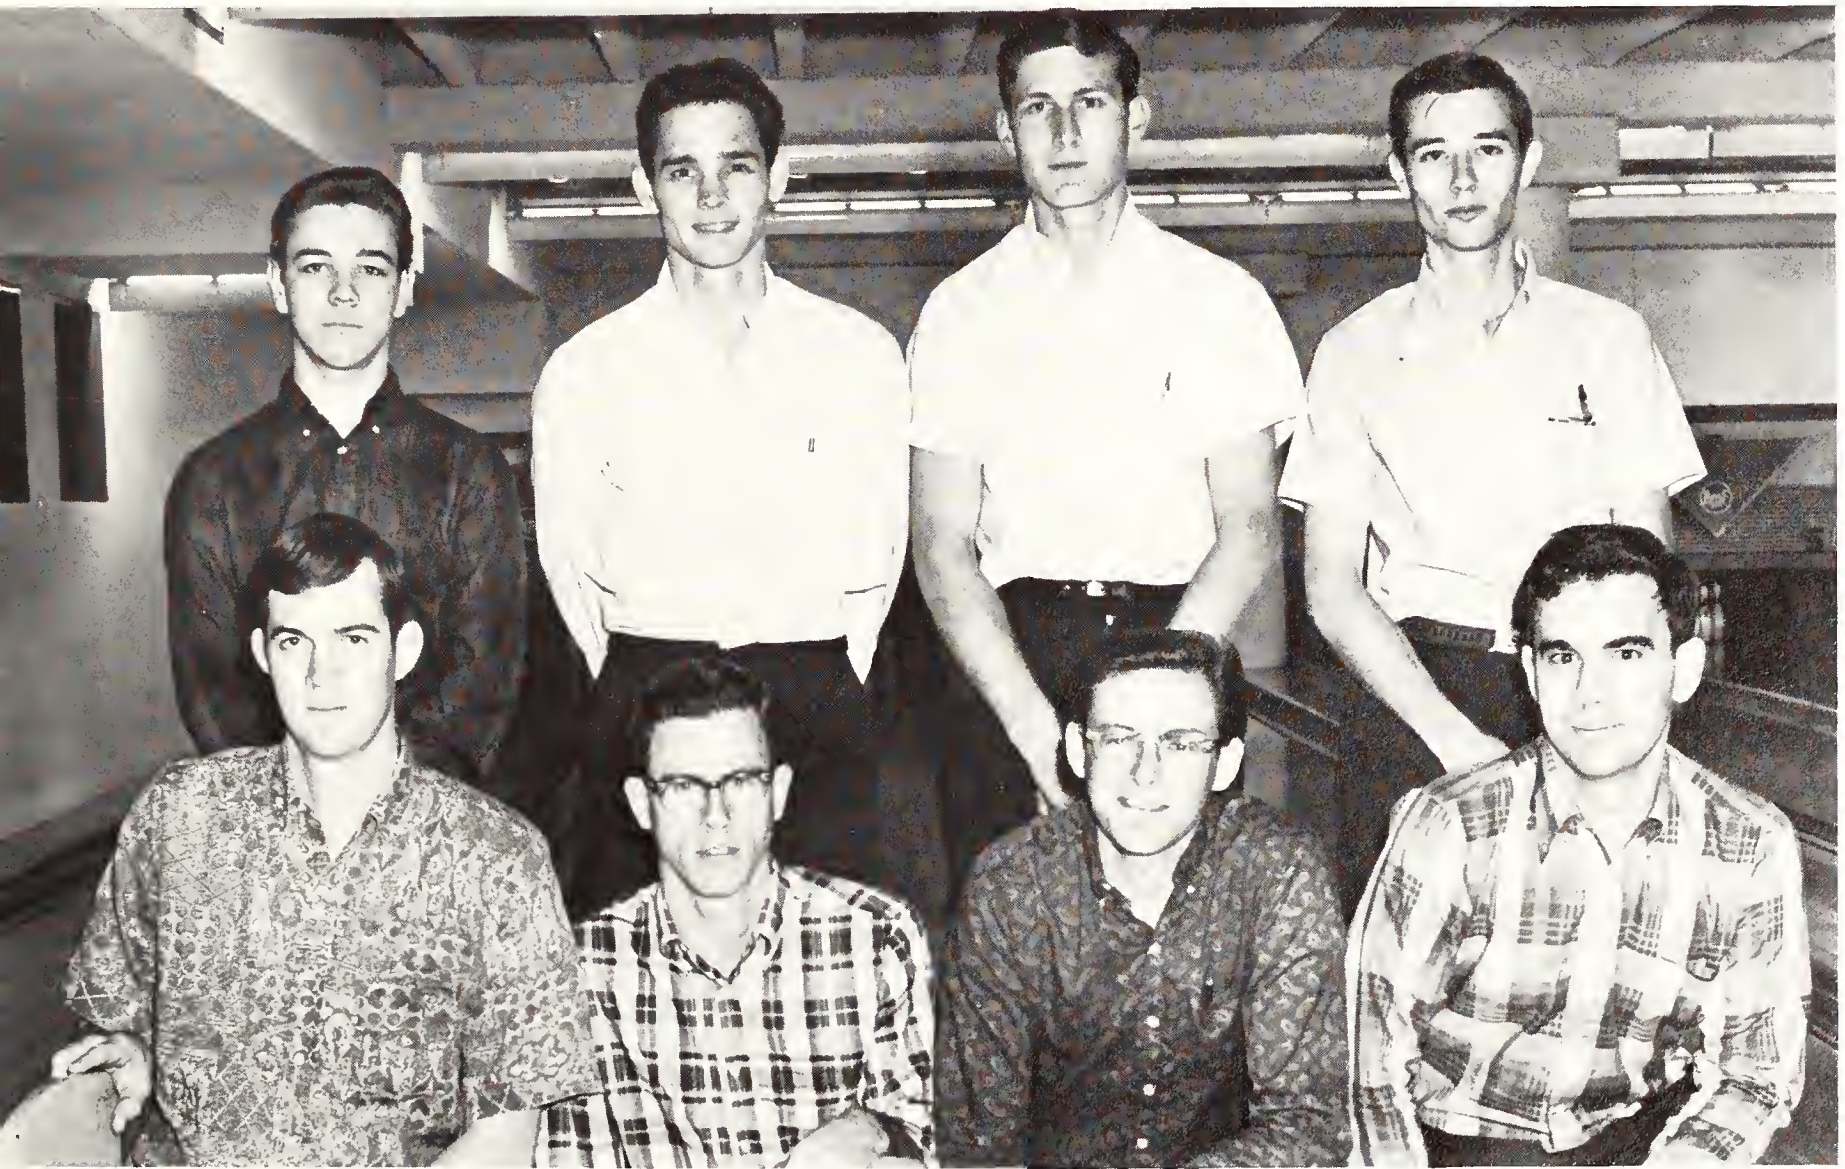

It marked the second consecutive year for the squad to be a contender.

Team members were Mike Cockrell (captain), Don Smith, Ronnie Hundley, Mark Morgan, Harold Krecek, Denny Rives, Mike Branson, and Steve Hart.

Sponsor for the team was Don Beckner.

The team participated in home-and-home meets with the other eight teams in the TIBC and competed against such schools as the University of Houston and Texas A&M.

Tankers Have Best Season Ever

The Arlington State College swimming team, under the coaching of Don Easterling, had its best season since being formed three years ago.

The squad lost dual meets only to perennial Southwest Conference powers SMU and Texas.

Headed by national record holder Doug Russell, a sophomore, juniors Rick Nesbit and Ed Bagot, and freshman George Deerfield, the team made a strong showing in every meet.

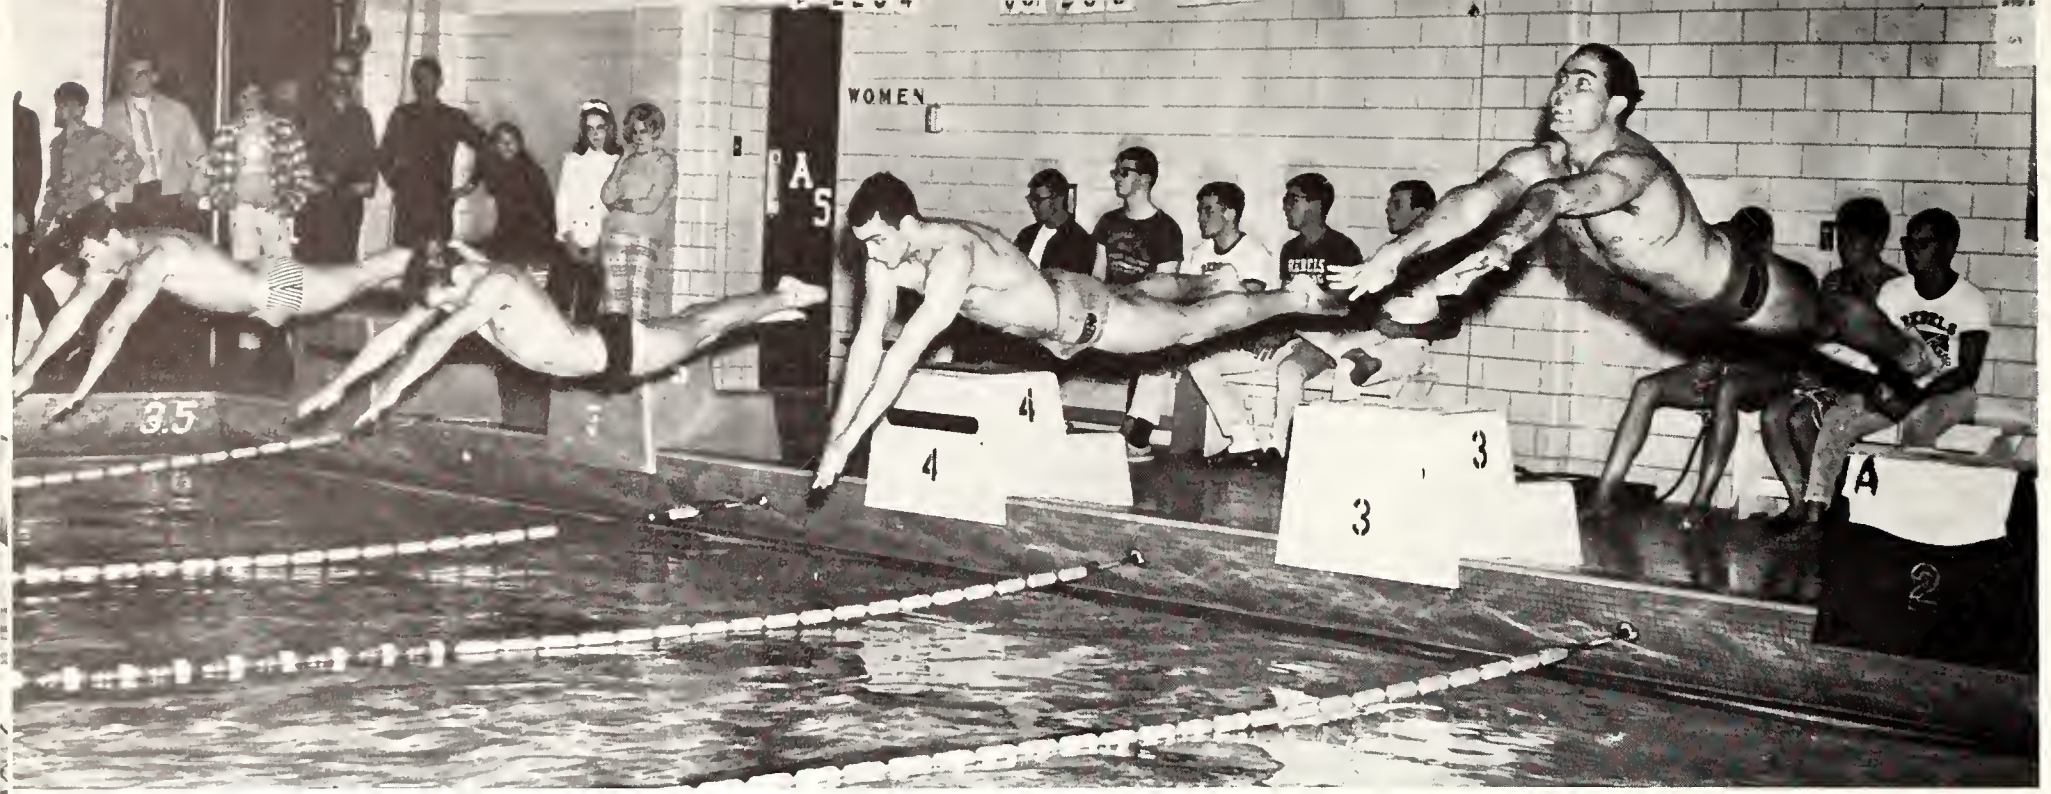

Divers were Brian Robbins, Rusty Strong and Dewey Lewis.

Other swimmers included Alfonso Pacheco, Bobby Burns, Bob Cain, Steve Russell, Luther Walker, Ernie Siefert, Dan Boone, Chick Aillet, Jim Hammock and Chuck Dragisic.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals Provide Athletic Competition

For students not affiliated with a college athletic team, intramural sports provide an opportunity for competition and experience. Dr. Horace Gillespie, dean of men, directs the program with Coach Jim Garrett in organizing the leagues and scheduling games. Students participate by joining dormitory, social club, religious center, or independent teams.

Fall intramural champions in flag football were the Dean's Boys, an independent league, who won out over the dorm's Pacht Second Floor, the social league's Chi Chi Chi, and the women's Super Squirrels. Pacht Third Floor, the Newman Club, and Alpha Sigma Chi competed for the tug-of-war championship, with the Alfasigs winning the title.

The Newman Club claimed both men's and women's cross country runs. Walt Hammond, Mark Matzner, John Swallow, and Mike Connor completed the one-and-a-half-mile run; and Kathy Penn, Teresa Pilotte, Helen Cochran, and Sharon Ponnell raced the half-mile.

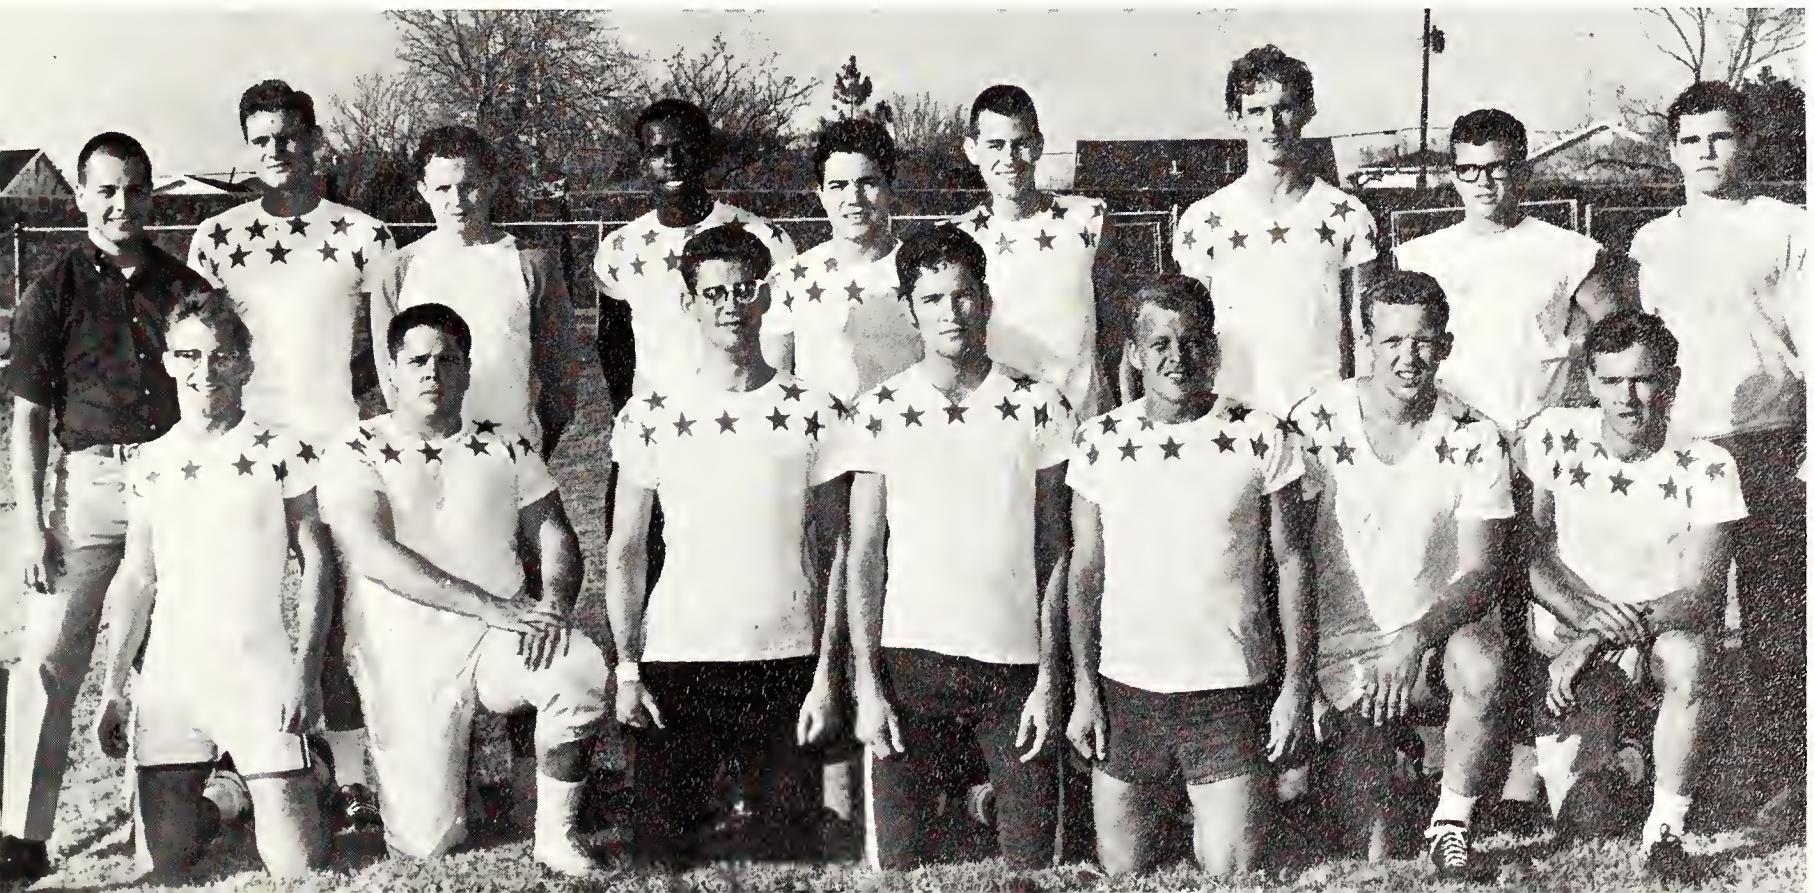

Winners of the men's bowling event were also representatives of the Newman Club — Mike Connor, David Shipman, Ralph Wiemar, Henry Crouch, and David Jacob. Women's champs were Kay Karr, Patty Schumacher, Linda Watters, Susan Warzback, and Natala Aschner from Lee House.

Swimming contests were carried by Don's Duds, an independent league. Members of the team were Bob Maxwell, Massud Pelaseyed, Arthur Zeigelmeyer, Sam Smith, Dick Tautenhan, Tom Uchurch, and Guy Baird.

Spring sports, begun in February, included basketball, billiards, golf, volleyball, table tennis, softball, track, and bicycle racing. An intramural awards banquet honored the athletes in May.

Woolf, Ransom, Regents Direct Curriculum

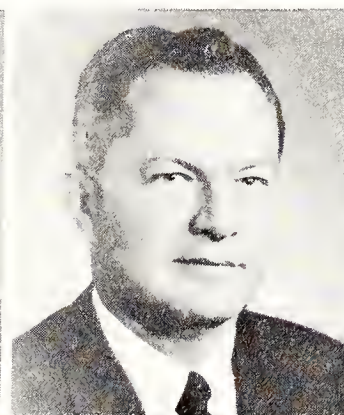

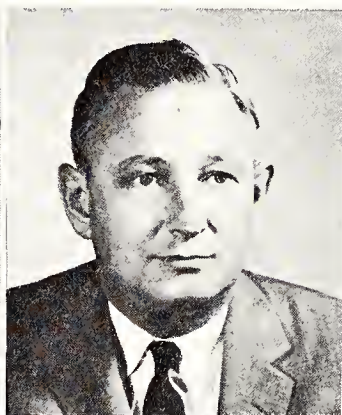

Dr. Jack R. Woolf has served as president of Arlington State since 1960 under three different conditions. He presided first under the Texas A&M System and then under the University of Texas System. This year he has taken on a new title—President of the University of Texas at Arlington. Dr. Woolf continues to direct the Academic Council and College Executive Committee.

Just above him in the chain of command is Chancellor Harry Ransom. He acts for the regents in coordinating UT at Arlington and the other schools included in the University of Texas System.

The University of Texas Board of Regents are chosen from all over the state. Appointed by the governor, they serve a six-year, staggered term.

No major change in curriculum or expenses at any of the system's colleges can be made without approval of the regents. They control everything from teachers' pay to courses offered.

Dr. Woolf awards Tom Tinker with a plaque expressing gratitude for his 26 years of service as head basketball coach.

Dr. S. T. Keim, Jr., is responsible for the development of academic programs and facilities. He serves as liaison between UT at Arlington and accrediting agencies. Dr. Keim's other responsibilities include assisting and supervising deans of the four divisions of study.

Dr. Peter Girardot, Dean of Sciences, assists in the supervision of the curriculum and academic affairs for the departments of biology, chemistry, geology, physics, and mathematics. He is the liaison between faculty members in these departments and the administration.

Dean of Liberal Arts Dr. Charles H. Green concerns himself primarily with the improvement of the curriculum. His other responsibilities include recruiting qualified faculty members and promoting research.

Supervising the budget personnel, and curriculum at the college is the major duty of Dr. W. H. Nedderman, Dean of Engineering. He is also responsible for keeping records of the equipment for the School of Engineering and the Technical Institute Division.

Program development and recruiting faculty members is the chief duty of Dr. W. B. Nelson, Dean of Business Administration. In addition, Dr. Nelson secures contacts with industries for prospective graduates.

Two Officials Aid President

Dr. J. R. Woolf is president of the University of Texas at Arlington. He is responsible for all matters initiated by and concerning the institution. But the management of what was formerly known as Arlington State College is a demanding and time-consuming job. While the school is growing in scholastic excellence and enrollment, the administrative staff is also expanding in numbers.

Two men were appointed last year to assist Dr. Woolf in overseeing the school's business.

Bob Stephens represents President Woolf at meetings of community leaders, legislators in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and representatives from business and industry. Stephens acts as liaison between the University of Texas at Arlington and outside interests. One of his primary responsibilities is to inform these interests of the needs and purposes of UTA.

Charles McDowell acts as liaison between the president and the four academic deans, department heads, and faculty heads. His duties include representing the president at many social and official functions. McDowell is also instrumental in interpreting plans, policies, and procedures supported by the college.

Department Relays College Information

Three college administrators, acting as a liaison between professional newspapers and the school, direct the Office of Public Information.

Kenneth L. Whitt, Information and Publications Director, is also a photographer. It is his responsibility to secure, coordinate, and publish all news releases and official publications of the college.

Richard M. Yantis, Editor of Official Publications, works with Kenneth Whitt and also oversees the composition and distribution of catalogues, class schedules, ASC briefs, and other materials.

William A. Brown, Information Writer, works almost exclusively with sports releases for newspapers, and he also edits brochures on athletic activities. He travels with the teams, attends the games, and works with the annual football banquet.

Chief responsibility for the admission of students and for maintaining their academic records lies with Elwood Preiss, the Registrar and Director of Admissions.

With the creation of the office of the Dean of Student Administration two years ago, there was made available a central information agency with 18,000 folders on ASC students. Charles Connally and Wesley Mead, Assistants to the Dean, process absence reports, administer probation regulations, and change student majors. Supervising these activities is Weldon Brewster, whose other duties include making space allocations and inventories and preparing statistical reports.

Library – New Campus Face

Mushrooming from three floors to seven, the library now houses almost 200,000 books and subscribes to more than 1600 periodicals and newspapers. Maintenance and development of its facilities and resources rests with John Hudson, the College Librarian, and Mary Swisher, the Associate College Librarian. A staff of 38 full-time employees and 96 student employees maintains a collection of recorded tapes, microfilm, film strips, motion pictures, and slides.

With the beginning of the fall semester, 1967, the ground floor will house a reserve room, the circular desk, and the card catalogue. Reference materials and documents will be located on the second floor. Periodicals, books, and study areas will compose the third, fourth, and fifth floors, and the sixth floor will contain displays, archives, and a lecture room seating 100 persons.

Deans Govern Student Life

All offices and activities concerned with student personnel are overseen by the Dean of Student Life, Dr. Robert Dollar. This includes student discipline, government activities, publications, placement, residence affairs, Health Center, ROTC, and parking facilities.

Beginning her first year as Dean of Women, Nancy Thorpe is now counselor and disciplinarian for women students. Dr. Horace Gillaspie, Dean of Men, is responsible for the housing, discipline, counseling, and intramural sports for men.

Paul Blakney, as sponsor, and Ernest Leister, as editor, supervise the three student publications — the newspaper, Shorthorn; the yearbook, Reveille; and the literary magazine, Arlington Review.

RESEARCH

Engineering Profs Conduct Research Projects

DR. KENT L. LAWRENCE, an assistant professor in the engineering mechanics department, is utilizing a digital computer to examine the numerical solutions to the equations of structural dynamics. Previous work in this field includes his doctoral dissertation and a study conducted under a research grant from the Bell Helicopter Company in the summer of 1966.

DR. JAMES E. CAFFEY, assistant professor in the civil engineering department, is investigating the regional correlations in precipitation and runoff in his research of hydrology and hydraulics. Continuing his work from year to year, Dr. Caffey proposes to study the Texas area to see if relations hold over greater distances and how they may vary through the seasons. His method involves applied statistics and probability using precipitation records published by the U.S. Weather Bureau and runoff information reported by the U.S. Geological Survey. The data already collected is so voluminous that computer storage has become a problem. Past research shows that factors such as river basin characteristics tend to cause the regional patterns for the annual river flow to differ from those observed for the annual precipitation. Explaining the practical results of his study, Dr. Caffey says, "Applications of knowledge gained should lead to more efficient distribution of gauging stations."

DR. RICHARD TUCKER, an associate professor in the civil engineering department, is analyzing highway bridge girder and diaphragm systems in his study of the interaction of soils and structures. He has previously completed five years of work in this area, and has authored several publications, two of them on the international level. Working with a high speed digital computer, he is making possible better and more realistic designs of many types of structures.

DR. CLIFFORD W. RANDALL from the civil engineering department is conducting laboratory research in two areas. The first involves investigation of the effects of certain insecticides on aquatic micro-organisms. Using an activated sludge unit, employed for waste treatment by many large cities, he concluded that micro-organisms actually can metabolize insecticides. His second project, researching air pollution from sewage processing, uses a rotating drum device for keeping aerosols suspended. The drum, located at the Southwestern Medical School, is one of five in the United States. Observations of disease incidence among employees at sewage treatment facilities are being conducted to determine whether or not such units should be modified.

DR. JOHN J. HAYNES, professor and head of the civil engineering department, is researching in a field which may have a direct effect upon the city of Arlington and surrounding areas. The research involves computer simulation of vehicular traffic flow. His particular area of interest is the simulation of an intersection similar to that at Park Row and Cooper Streets. Dr. Haynes is attacking the problems of a signalized traffic intersection, studying its various signal phases and traffic volumes. The professor and his two research assistants, Robert Cagley and Stanley Reed, are using a digital computer programmed to "move" vehicles through an intersection. The stimulations of the vehicle characteristics and driver decisions form the basis of the program. An event recorder with 30 channels is used at the intersection to record the situation as it happens; this data will be compared to the IBM 1620 II Digital Computer simulation data on the campus. Dr. Haynes hopes to employ this evaluation of signal phases as related to traffic flow towards improving general traffic movements.

Dr. Carl D. Wiseman

DR. CARL D. WISEMAN, an associate professor in the engineering mechanics department, is studying gas-metal surface reactions. With special vacuum systems, he heats metal strips to white heat in a bell jar and then reacts them with the particular gas under investigation. He then studies the decomposition of the gas and its diffusion into the metal to form a hard inter-metallic compound.

DR. MO-SHING CHEN, an associate professor in the electrical engineering department, is conducting an analysis of the unbalanced three-phase power system. Previous work performed in this area by Dr. Chen includes his M.S. thesis, his Ph. D. dissertation, and IEEE papers. Using the eigenvectors of the impedance matrix, he establishes a generalized transformation. He is working for a simple system, and additional work is required to solve a general unbalanced system.

Dr. Richard Mitchell and Dr. Roger Mitchell
Mathematics

Researchers Explore Mathematical Areas

DR. RICHARD MITCHELL and DR. ROGER MITCHELL, assistant professors in the mathematics department, are attempting to discover more about the structure of certain algebraic systems, specifically infinite abelian groups. They conduct their investigation by isolating properties that are common to many algebraic systems. By this method they are able to prove facts that would have otherwise been obscured by the mass of nonessential information present in each particular case. Several papers have already come from their studies of structure theorems, isomorphism theorems, and properties of neat, pure, and basic subgroups.

ROBERT G. DEAN, an assistant professor from the mathematics department, is conducting an investigation of direct and subdirect sums in semirings. Continuing work begun for his doctorate dissertation, he is trying to obtain a representation theorem for several types of semirings.

ROBERT LEE TENNISON, assistant professor of mathematics, is attempting to answer the question, "Does each measure of symmetry which possesses the 'superminimality' property have the simplex as its only extrema?" His area of interest is convexity in  $n$ -dimensional Euclidean space, a field which constituted part of his Ph. D. thesis.

JOHN K. PERRYMAN, associate professor from the mathematics department, is interested in the general problem of finding a transform useful in solving certain differential equations. He is presently studying a set of polynomials which he feels will be useful in answering the problem.

D. R. STOCKS, JR., an assistant professor of the mathematics department, is doing research in the graph theory, a branch of topology, continuing work he has been conducting during the past three years. His purpose is the discovery of relations between lattice paths and special sequences of integers. Some results of his studies were published in the April, 1965, issue of the Fibonacci Quarterly.

Three Investigate Foreign Literature

DUANE V. KEILSTRUP, instructor of foreign language, is conducting a study of the Germanic languages and literatures entitled "Style of Old Norse Romantic Sagas". The role of the verb is of particular interest to Mr. Keilstrup. He is analyzing every verb in the representative sagas as to tense and aspect. Since the shift of tenses seems to be arbitrary, as his research has indicated thus far, Mr. Keilstrup maintains that translations should be more easily made.

DUANE A. ADAMS and ALAN A. STEINECKE, assistant professors from the foreign languages department are jointly carrying out a project to study French language and literature. To investigate the composition and style found in the literature of the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries, they are selecting a large number of paragraphs from the best French authors of this period. Their work involves the use of programming and a computer. Possible implications for further research are centered in a study of the basic French program at ASC and the development of a text for teaching advanced French composition.

Faculty Members Test Aspects of Business

JERRY C. WOFFORD, an assistant professor from the business administration department, is conducting two research projects. The first, developing a method of measuring behavior patterns for personnel, is being investigated by administering questionnaires in a company and comparing the scores with performance results. Data from this study would be useful in personnel selection and development. His second field of interest concerns test construction methods. Tests were administered to 200 students, and information is being analyzed to determine the reliability and validity of the test.

H. M. HELM, JR., an assistant professor from the business administration department, is centering his study of finance on the stock market and its influences. With experience as a stock trader and as a doctoral candidate, he is attempting to correlate market participant activity and common stock price movement with particular emphasis on the timing of common stock purchases. His study is part of a broad investigation of common stock price determinants.

CURTIS G. GRAHAM, an assistant professor from the accounting department, is emphasizing control of overhead costs in his study of the applications of the applications of correlation techniques in accounting. With a $500 research grant from the School of Business, he is investigating the field using complex multiple curvilinear correlation computer programs. "Practical applications," says Professor Graham, "are unlimited in developing information for business management."

Curtis C. Graham
Accounting

HOWARD J. SNAVELY of the accounting department is doing research for his doctoral dissertation. He is studying criteria for selecting financial accounting practices. Aware that present criteria are not explicitly defined and convinced that there is a need for such, he is attempting to determine which criteria to use and why. By library research and personal evaluation, he is identifying specific standards by which the value of a given accounting practice can be determined.

WALTER G. AUSTIN, assistant professor of accounting, investigated financial reporting by commercial banks. The study involved the comparison of principles used by banks with those of regular commercial firms. A paper written by Professor Austin appeared in the April, 1967 issue of The Texas Certified Public Accountant.

RALPH ESTES, assistant professor from the accounting department, is engaged in a research project to determine, describe, and evaluate international financial reporting principles and practices. He is using a variety of techniques, including analysis of financial statements from various countries, communication with foreign accountants, visits to a number of countries, and attendance at the International Congress of Accountants including the Ninth International Congress of Accountants to be held in Paris in September. The results of his research will be published as a book tentatively titled International Accounting: Principles and Practices, as well as in articles and papers.

Accounting

Faculty Researches Government, History

DR. FRANK BAIRD, assistant professor in the government department, is conducting research in two fields. Through an analysis of government documents, Dr. Baird is continuing his previous study of the Federal Communications Commission and Congress in the field of radio and television program content from 1934 through the Kennedy administration. A second field of interest is the political behavior of the Great Plains area. By surveys and interviews, he is studying the causes for conservatism in the Texas Panhandle.

ARPAD J. NEGYESSY, instructor of government, is utilizing a chronological and interpretive approach to study the law-making process in the Communist orbit. In attacking the root of tradition and nationalism versus imposed outside revolutions, he is continuing his previous work in the method of Communist take-over. He has been assigned to write book reviews and two articles on his study.

ALAN A. SAXE, instructor of government, is examining the early development of state policy on desegregation of Oklahoma's public schools. His central concern is to relate the starting points of the innovation, the succession of ideas and techniques used to bring about the transition and dynamics of this transition. As a result of this study, Mr. Saxe has reached the conclusion that Oklahoma adjusted the operations of a public school system to constitutional requirements because the state's leaders were effective politicians and bureaucrats.

LUTHER W. ODOM, instructor of government, is doing research in the area of public law, American government and politics. His study is classified into two groups. The first, entitled "Judicial Review in Massachusetts, 1882-1902", determines the extent of judicial activism in decisions by the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court during the stated period. The second, "Function of Legislative Committees in Texas", examines the influence of standing committees on legislation in Texas. Both are being studied for their comparative value with other states. The latter is seen as a prelude to a more extensive look at the whole legislative process.

HUBERT L. C. MATTHIAS, an assistant professor in the history, sociology, and philosophy department, is researching comparative political behavior and acquiring a two-foot file of information on the unconscious elements retarding democratization among Germans.

Dr. Luther G. Hagard, Jr.
Government

Through collecting and classifying material, he is finding a basic element to be the structuredness of German life in general, the slowness of any social evolving. Other diverse factors included the grammar content of German, the history of Roman law, and feudalism.

DR. LUTHER G. HAGARD, JR., associate professor of government, is involved in three separate research endeavors. The first is an annotated bibliography of the United States Constitution. It will contain an anticipated amount of from 25,000 to 35,000 entries of Constitutional matter which will be of bibliographical interest to students of government. His second area of research is entitled "A New Dimension in Legislative Gerrymandering". Dr. Hagard is writing a paper that explicates his assumption that gerrymandering is not restricted solely to politics, a theory that places the burden of proof on those who draw the district lines. A study of interstate compacts involving Texas is Dr. Hagard's third research project. In this he is determining the scope and extent of activities that involves interstate relations.

History, Sociology & Philosophy

Experimental Study Interests Scientists

DR. PETER R. GIRARDOT, Dean of Science, is centering his study of Mossbauer spectroscopy on the structural problems in iron compounds. In his investigation, he is using radioactive sources, a multichannel analyzer, punched tape data output, and high vacuum systems. From his preliminary results, further research is implied in the fields of corrosion, blood chemistry and chemical bonding.

DR. TRUMAN D. BLACK, assistant professor of Physics, is conducting a study of spin-lattice interactions in crystalline materials. He is interested in the magnetic properties of materials and their coupling with the structural properties of materials. The main objectives of his research are to understand how crystals are put together and to explore the inner molecular environment of crystals. An electron paramagnetic resonance spectrometer is used to measure the spin-lattice interactions.

WILLIAM B. SELF, an instructor in the physics department, is studying the interactions between atoms of iron whiskers, hair-like crystals approximately .0004 inches in diameter. After magnetizing the iron with a coil about the size of a pinhead, he uses another coil to measure the current required to reverse the poles. Research in this area is valuable, because the iron whiskers can withstand millions of pounds of pressure per square inch and are important for use in developing strong materials.

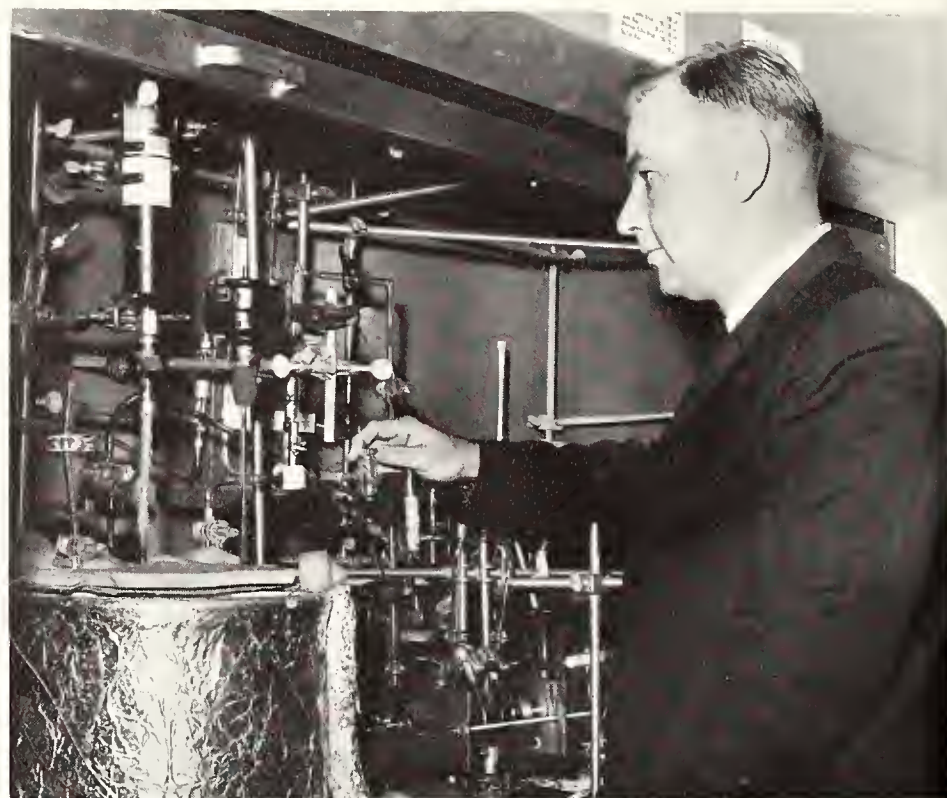

CHARLES F. DODGE, assistant professor from the geology department, secured a $5,000 research grant from the American Petroleum Institute to study the homogeneities of clastic reservoir rock. Using a special design diamond core rig, he sampled sandstones to measure sedimentary parameters and correlate this with reservoir parameters. Investigation in this field may make possible increased oil recovery from certain types of reservoirs.

DR. JAMES K. BUTLER, an associate professor of biology, is conducting a study of spermatogenesis in the isopod Armadillium vulgare. The research was begun in the summer of 1965 as a preliminary examination of the ultrastructure of the testis of Armadillium while at the Electron Microscope Lab of the Genetics Foundation at the University of Texas. The animal has a very unusual type of nonmotile sperm. Development of the sperm tail is of considerable interest from both a physiological and evolutionary standpoint.

Dr. Jason Ellis
Physics

DR. JASON ELLIS, associate professor of physics, is publishing a journal of relativity for laymen entitled Spacetime. Co-editing the journal is his wife Katherine, who has a Ph.D. in mathematics. Spacetime grew out of a three-week conference upon the teaching of relativity, held at Arlington State College during the summer of 1965. The periodical contains articles using various approaches to relativity and other features aimed at improving the presentation of relativity at the undergraduate level. Spacetime has over 3000 subscriptions, a few of which are outside the United States. Dr. Ellis is also conducting research in the fields of relativity, electromagnetic theory and structure of space. He is aided in these endeavors by graduate student David Wedin.

Laboratory Work Involves Chemistry Profs

DR. THOMAS J. COGDELL, a professor from the chemistry department, performed a year of research at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New Jersey in the field of organic chemistry. Continuing an investigation in this area, he is now researching the synthesis and electron spin resonance measurements of organic molecules containing several nitroxide radical groups. The synthetic work will be done at ASC, and the spectra will be taken by his collaborator, Dr. Edel Wasserman of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. About a dozen compounds have been made and studied in the past year.

DR. G. L. JOHNSON, assistant professor of chemistry, is examining the inhibition of oxygen corrosion in salt solutions. He is determining the contribution of dissolved oxygen to metallic corrosion in salt solutions, with the object of inhibiting this corrosion chemically. Dr. Johnson exposes the iron samples in controlled-temperature salt solutions and then measures the oxygen concentration and corrosion rate. Employing an atomic absorption spectrophotometer to measure minute quantities of iron in solution, he uses iron surface potential as an indication of corrosion probability. Then, by the addition of inorganic chemical inhibitors, Dr. Johnson attempts to decrease the corrosion rate. Don L. Jernigan is the student research assistant aiding Dr. Johnson.

HUGH D. McAFEE, associate professor, and DR. JOHN T. MURCHISON, professor and head of the chemistry department, are conducting research to determine the lead concentration in the water of Lake Arlington. The chemists are preparing solutions of lead and water with known concentrations. Then each solution is fed into an atomic absorption spectrophotometer, which sends the solution through an acetylene flame. The heated lead then gives off a spectrum of light, unique to each degree of concentration, and the results are recorded. Then samples of water from Lake Arlington are fed into the spectrophotometer. By comparing the spectra of the samples with the spectra of the control solutions, the degree of concentration of lead may be determined. As yet, there is no positive proof that a condition of lead exists in Lake Arlington; the professors are simply interested. If, however, too much lead is found in the water, they hope to find a chemical means for removal or diminution during the purification process.

DR. MARGARET C. WILLOUGHBY, an associate professor from the chemistry department, is doing research in the field of polymers, studying the effect of stereoregularity on crystallinity of polymers of the covalent type. She previously conducted industrial research in protective coatings and did a doctoral thesis on surface effect measurements in coatings. Professor Willoughby has a paper in progress titled "Molecular Symmetry and Crystallinity in Polymeric Systems."

DR. RAYFORD L. HOYLE, an associate professor in the chemistry department, is using gas chromatography, an X-ray instrument, and an electron microscope in his study of the kinetics of chemical vapor deposition processes. With an $8000 a year grant from the American Electroplaters Society, he is thermally decomposing  $Ni(PF_3)_2$ , and studying the structure of the deposited nickel. Special attention is being given to the possible relationship between the structure of the deposit and the kinetics of the process.

DR. ROBERT B. BOLEY, assistant professor of biology, is investigating pathogenic bacteria parasitizing certain species of small fish in Lake Arlington. The purpose of study is to isolate, characterize and identify the causal organism and to determine what microbial factors are responsible for the observed pathology. Results of the study will provide additional information relating to diseases of fish and perhaps establish a previously unreported parasitic relationship.

GARY A. SMITH, an instructor in the department of biology, is studying prairie vegetation to determine the effects of grazing and to compare an artificial undisturbed area with a native undisturbed area. By sampling 30 plots in each area, he is investigating species composition and importance and comparing the numbers of species. Thus far, he has found little variation in perennials versus annuals in the grazed field, ungrazed field, and two undisturbed areas. A possible implication for further research is better management of range lands in terms of grazing and conservation.

DR. WILLIAM F. PYBURN, associate professor of biology, is conducting a study of the behavior, development and relationships of Mexican hylid frogs. In his research, he is attempting to determine the relationships of Mexican treefrogs through studies of life history, behavior, embryonic and larval development, and by experimental hybridization. Species from southern Mexico are being investigated because their great number and diversity of forms offer better opportunities for evolutionary studies than the less numerous and more uniform North American species.

THOMAS E. KENNERLY, JR., an associate professor in the biology department, is employing a soil moisture determining device and remote temperature probes in his study of the microenvironment and evolutionary status in mammals. To decide if certain behavior patterns may be utilized as a phylogenetic characteristic, he is recording the patterns with a time-correlated code. A photographic phase of the project will also be included. Results indicate a typical sequence of patterned activity, but specific triggers initiating particular points in the sequence are not clear.

New School Offers Graduate Degrees

For the first time in its history, ASC offered this year a master's degree program for graduate students. Plans for six master's degree programs were approved last summer by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. The board granted ASC permission to award masters degrees in electrical engineering, engineering mechanics, economics, mathematics, psychology and physics.

Advisors for the six fields, who counsel and assist graduate students as well as teach, are Dr. Theodore L. Whitesel, economics; Dr. Stephen F. Crumb, electrical engineering; Dr. Joseph W. Dalley, engineering mechanics; Dr. Basil M. Wall, mathematics; Dr. James E. Dowdey, physics; and Dr. Erwin M. Segal, psychology.

Expansion of campus facilities accompanies the addition of a graduate school.

Students mingle in the first dance of the year, the Howdy Dance.

So Ends A Vintage Year

The last year of Arlington State College and the first year of University of Texas at Arlington has come to an end. This name change met with varying emotions on the part of students and graduates. Ex-students looked with disfavor on the idea of the ASC name on their degree becoming obsolete; some prospective graduates wished the name-change would hurry so that they might be included in the first UT at Arlington graduating class; most students accepted the idea with pride, while some felt that ASC, in time, could achieve a prestigious name for itself.

Benefits to be derived from the name-change were evident in the constant rise of buildings since ASC joined the University of Texas System.

As always, it was a year of assignments, quizzes, professors you didn't like and those you did; gripes about the long walk from the parking lot; complaints about cafeteria food; classes with old friends, and new acquaintances in classes when you met no old ones.

It was a year of give and take. Each student receives intangible dividends from his school, in both formal and informal educations. Conscientious students feel compelled to contribute to the growth and life of a school representing so much more than enrollment figures and buildings. Some make this contribution in the area of athletics, some in student government, and some in academics. Most contribute in unrecorded ways.

We feel the need to pay tribute to those who aided us in the publication of the 1967 Reveille. Creating a yearbook is not a one-man job, and it is never easy. It means broken dates, cold suppers, sleepless nights, and sometimes even skipped classes or late themes. However, there are rewards to be found in sharing a task and the feeling of accomplishment when the last deadline has been met. Sherbet "parties" with the staff members were welcome breaks when problems seemed insurmountable.

Several people made the task of editing the yearbook much easier. We give a special thanks to these:

Ken Roselle who gave something of himself to the yearbook by spending many undemanded hours to create pictures of unexpected quality, without whom, we feel, this book would have had many meaningless pages . . .

Judy Briley, a mere freshman, who finished the year with experience in writing copy, drawing layouts, interviewing professors—in fact everything but taking and printing pictures . . .

Jenny Baker who came to us with little experience but whose cheerful attitude and willingness to help made the year more enjoyable . . .

Kay Karr whose speed at the typewriter and efficient filing system made her an invaluable secretary . . .

Shapur Omid who brought years of experience and a slight language barrier to the production of special portraits of Beauties and Favorites . . .

Tommy Gedde, the Shorthorn editor, who wrote sports copy for our all-girl editorial staff . . .

Lindsey Mann and David Richter who served as part-time photographers . . .

Ernest Leister who advised as until he was called into the military service . . .

Kathi Higgins who became faculty advisor in the middle of the year, gave her time unselfishly, and saved us from many costly errors . . .

Millie Grice who turned the rough idea for a cover design into a finished professional product . . .

Fred Byther who came to our aid with art work when the time was running out . . . and thanks to the following for their assistance: Les Miller of Marvin D. Evans Co.; Ken Whitt and Dub Brown of Public Information; Paul S. Blakney, Student Publications Advisor; the Shorthorn staff; Marcell Studio of Fort Worth; Edy Dunning; the Student Activities staff; and the academic department heads.

The Reveille has seen another year come to a close. As editors of this 10th yearbook, we feel that outstanding changes have earned for this year the title "A Vintage Year." From this premise, we compiled for you the 1967 Reveille.
